THE object of the following pages is to place before the public the numerous advantages and facilities which are afforded by the UNIVERSITIES and the PUBLIC SCHOOLS and GRAMMAR SCHOOLS of this country, for the education of the middle and higher ranks of society. The compiler has endeavoured to render the work a practical guide for parents in the selection of schools for their sons, that they may be enabled to participate in the benefits which the munificent founders of those splendid establishments have provided for them. To those parents especially, who, having a numerous offspring and but limited means, intend to give their sons a collegiate education, the work will be peculiarly acceptable; as it points out those schools in which, from their beneficial endowments, reputation, or locality, it may be desirable to place them; and, in addition, contains an account of such exhibitions and scholarships as are in the patronage of Chartered Companies, &c. These, in most instances, are free from restriction as to persons or place. Several of these endowments however, have, from want of timely application for them, fallen into desuetude; and the compiler is compelled to add, with regret, that the reader will find several instances, where the trusts reposed in these bodies have been either but partially administered or totally perverted. The account now given of these trusts, by calling the public attention to their value, may tend to revive them, and prevent a recurrence of similar neglect.

The attention of Under-graduates at the Universities, of moderate income, is particularly directed to this department of the work, as pointing out to them a fair and legitimate source of increasing their means, and of enabling them to uphold their character and station with respectability during their residence at the University.

It may be necessary to add, that the Grammar Schools are arranged alphabetically according to their respective counties, and that to each county are prefixed the University advantages attached to the same.

The compiler, in addition to the communications of many private friends, is largely indebted for the materials of his work to the very valuable Reports of the Commissioners for enquiring into Charities, and other public documents, besides Ackerman's History of the Universities and Public Schools, Carlisle's Account of the Grammar Schools, the Oxford and Cambridge Calendars, and similar publications.

Craven Scholarships.

JOHN, LORD CRAVEN, by will, dated May, 1647, founded four (now ten) classical scholarships of 25*l.* (now 50*l.*) per annum each; two (now five) from the University of Oxford, and two (now five) from Cambridge; for the perpetuity of these scholarships, he bequeathed certain lands, “to the intent and purpose, that out of the yearly rents and profits of the said lands, &c., 100*l.* per annum should be raised towards the maintenance of four poor scholars, whereof, two to be in the University of Oxford, and two of Cambridge. These scholars shall be chosen by the Vice-Chancellor, the King’s Professors, and Orator, there, for the time being, or the greatest part of them. Yet, my will is, that if any of my name or kindred shall happen to be poor, and to be a scholar in either University, he shall be preferred to have the benefit of this maintenance before any scholar whatsoever. And my will is, that the said annuity and maintenance shall cease and determine to any such scholar, after he has been in the University for fourteen years. And likewise, it shall cease and determine to any such scholar that can attain to any preferment of a double value, and then the said annuity so determining, shall be bestowed on some other scholar.”

William, brother and heir to John, Lord Craven, in 1649, drew up certain regulations for the management of this trust, which are as follow :—

1. "That when any place shall be void, the Vice-Chancellor, the King's Professors, and the Orator for the time present, shall, within three day's notice thereof, cause an intimation to be set upon the door of the public library, of an election to be made on the tenth day following, if it be Term time, or, if it be vacation, the tenth day after the beginning of the next Term, in the grammar school.

2. That at the time of the election, the Vice-Chancellor, and all the rest of the electors then present in the University, meet together, and give no promise or consent to any to be elected, before they so meet together, and all, or a major part, agree to the scholar to be elected.

3. That in the first place, respect be had to those who are of the Lord Craven's kindred or name.

4. That in defect of such, that scholar be preferred, who, upon good certificate of his manners, and due examination of his learning, shall be found most worthy.

5. That none be chosen who is a graduate in the University, or Fellow, or Scholar of any College, or whose parents are well known to be of ability to maintain him otherwise, except he be of the kindred or name of the Lord Craven."

William, Lord Craven, transferred the estate subject to the trust, into the hands of certain Trustees. Those for Oxford now are, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Dean of Exeter; and for Cambridge, the Bishops of Peterborough, and Bath and Wells, and the Master of Trinity College.

By a decree of the Court of Chancery, in 1819, the income of the scholars was *augmented to 50*l.* a-year each*, and the number increased to five in each University; the additional scholarships, however, are only tenable for seven years.

Vinerian Scholarships.

CHARLES VINIER, Esq., by will, dated December, 1755, left the sum of 12,000*l.* to this University, to found a professorship, and to establish such fellowships and scholarships of the Common Law, as the University might deem fit. They are elected by the Convocation; the numbers vary according to the state of Mr. Vinier's revenues. The fellows receive 50*l.* a-year, and the scholars 30*l.* As to the Fellows, they must be unmarried, and belong to some College or Hall in the University; and must have taken their M.A. degree, or that of B.C.L. Preference to be given to such as have been scholars on this foundation. Candidates for scholarships, must have completed twenty-four calendar months, from the time of their matriculation. The fellowships and scholarships tenable for ten years.

Dean Ireland's Scholarships.

JOHN IRELAND, D.D., the present Dean of Westminster, in April, 1825, founded four scholarships for the promotion of classical learning and taste in the said University, under certain regulations, and for this purpose, transferred to the University the sum of 4,000*l.* three per cent. Consols. Candidates to be undergraduate members of the University, who have not exceeded their sixteenth term from their matriculation. No regard to be had as to place of birth, school, parentage, or pecuniary circumstances of the candidates.

The Trustees are, the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Provost of Oriel, and the Dean of Christ Church, for the time being.

Battie's Scholarship.

WILLIAM BATTIE, M.D., of King's College, left an estate of the annual value of 18*l.*, for founding a scholarship, subject to the following regulations :—

1. Every scholar shall reside nine calendar months in the year, except he be a graduate in physic, or one who designs to profess the same ; in that case his residence may be dispensed with at the University, provided he produces once every year a certificate signed by one Hospital Physician in London, testifying his regular conduct and diligent attendance with the said physician at the Hospital.

2. No scholar is capable of being elected who has been admitted three years, or receives any benefit or advantage from either of Lord Craven's exhibitions ; and if any one, after being admitted to this scholarship, shall become intitled to any emoluments from the said exhibitions, his claim to this benefaction is void.

3. When any scholar shall have entered nine years at the College to which he first belonged, or shall have obtained any ecclesiastical benefice or preferment, excepting he is a Fellow of some one College, his right to this legacy shall then cease and determine.

The electors to this scholarship are, the Vice-Chancellor, the Provost of King's, the Regii Professors of Law, Physic, and Divinity, and the Proctors for the time being.

Browne's Scholarship.

SIR WILLIAM BROWNE, Knight, M.D., bequeathed a rent charge of 21*l.* per annum, for founding a scholarship. A candidate for this scholarship must offer himself for examination within a year from his matriculation; public notice being given by the Vice-Chancellor a month before such election. The scholarship, with all the arrears which may happen by vacancy, is tenable for seven years; but the possessor, if of another College, is obliged to remove to Peterhouse, and reside there every entire term during his undergraduateship. Electors to this scholarship the same as to Lord Craven's.

Davies's Scholarship.

THE Rev. J. Davies, D.D., formerly Fellow of King's, and afterwards Provost of Eton College, bequeathed (by will, dated July, 1804) the sum of 1,000*l.*, in the three per cents., to found a scholarship, to be called Dr. Davies's University Scholarship, on the same footing as those called Craven's Scholars, for the greatest proficient in classical learning. The examiners to be the same, only with the addition of the Provost of King's; and to be tenable for the same number of years, as the above-mentioned scholarship.

Bell's Scholarships.

THE Rev. William Bell, D.D., Prebendary of Westminster, in the year 1810, transferred 15,200*l.* stock, three per cents., to the University of Cambridge, in trust, to found eight scholarships, for the sons of clergymen of the Church of England

Every scholar elected on this foundation is required to take the degree of B.A. Where the personal merits are equal, those are to be preferred who stand most in need of assistance. If any scholar shall degrade or determine, and go out in a bye-term, or declare for law, or be rusticated or expelled, his scholarship shall be ipso facto vacant. The profits to continue for four years, and no more. No persons shall ever have two sons scholars, nor shall there be two orphans, brothers, scholars at the same time. If no sons or orphans of clergymen shall be found properly qualified for these scholarships, then, and then only, the electors shall elect sons of laymen, being undergraduates, who stand in need of assistance. No scholar to be elected from King's College, or from Trinity Hall.

The electors are, the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor of Divinity, the Regius Professor of Civil Law, the Lucasian Professor of Mathematics, and the Public Orator.

Pitt Scholarship.

1. FOUNDED in the year 1813, with the sum of 1,000*l.*, given by the subscribers to Mr. Pitt's statue, for the purpose of founding the Pitt Scholarship, and which has since been augmented by a donation of 500*l.* from the Pitt Club in London, shall be placed in the public funds, until the Syndics shall be able to vest it in land; and the clear annual income arising from it shall be paid to the Pitt Scholar.

2. The Vice-Chancellor or his deputy, the Public Orator, the Greek Professor, and two Members of the Senate, to be appointed by the different Colleges in their turns, shall be the electors. Two Colleges, according to the cycle of Proctors commencing with the year 1817, shall respectively nominate an elector. But if the Vice-Chancellor, the Public Orator, and the Greek Professor, or any two of them, be members of the same College, no elector in that case shall be appointed by that College, according to the cycle of Proctors, but the appointment shall be made by the University. Or if the Public Orator or the Greek Professor shall be prevented by illness or otherwise from attending the examination, or if the Colleges shall have neglected to signify to the Vice-Chancellor the appointment of the electors according to their respective turns, then deputies shall be appointed by grace.

3. The first examination commenced on Monday, January 17, 1814; and the Vice-Chancellor or his deputy, the Public Orator, and the Greek Professor, shall, in future, on or before the 1st day of December, after every vacancy, cause a writing, under their hands, declaring the said vacancy and the time of examination, to be affixed to the door of the public schools; and they shall notify the same to the two Colleges, which are to nominate the electors, and the heads of those Colleges, or their deputies, shall, within one week after such notices, signify to the Vice-Chancellor the names of the electors so appointed.

4. The examination, which shall be solely classical, shall always take place during the week of the public examinations in the Senate-House, previous to the Bachelors' commencement, and the scholar elected, shall receive all the dividends or rents that shall have become due subsequent to the last vacancy.

5. Any undergraduate, of whatever rank, may be a candidate for the Pitt Scholarship, provided he be not of more than of three years standing from the time of his first residence; but he shall, on or before the 31st day of December preceding the examination, signify, in a Latin epistle to each of the electors, his intention of becoming a candidate, and in case he shall omit sending such an epistle, he shall be considered as incapable of being elected at that time.

6. The Pitt Scholar shall not hold any other University Scholarship.

7. Every scholar shall, during the time of his holding this scholarship, reside the major part of each term; and if he shall not have kept such residence, he shall vacate his scholarship, unless he has been prevented by illness or any other cause, which shall be approved of by the Vice-Chancellor, the Public Orator, and the Greek Professor.

8. Every scholar who shall obtain any ecclesiastical benefice or preferment, or shall be of Master of Arts standing, shall vacate his scholarship.

Tyrwhitt's Hebrew Scholarships.

THE Rev. Robert Tyrwhitt, M.A., late Fellow of Jesus College, who died in 1817, by his will bequeathed 4,000*l.*, Navy five per cents., for the promotion and encouragement of Hebrew learning, the mode and disposition of this bequest to be left to the University.

The Senate, in 1818, decreed the foundation of three scholarships; which decree was revised in 1826, and the number increased to six, subject to the following regulations:—

1. That there shall in future be six scholarships, called Tyrwhitt's Hebrew Scholarships.

2. That the candidates for these scholarships shall be Bachelors of Arts, who are not of sufficient standing to be created Masters of Arts, and Students in Civil Law or Medicine of not less than four or more than seven years standing, who shall be required, before they are admitted to become candidates, to produce certificates from their respective Professors, that they have kept the exercises necessary for the degree of Bachelor of Law or Physic.

3. That out of the net annual proceeds of Mr. Tyrwhitt's benefaction, the sum of 150*l.* be divided among the six scholars in the proportions hereinafter specified.

4. That the electors to these scholarships shall be the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor of Hebrew, the Professor of Arabic, and two Members of the Senate, to be nominated by the different Colleges, according to the cycle of Proctors.

5. That if the Regius Professor of Hebrew, or the Professor of Arabic, or both of them, shall decline or be prevented from examining, a deputy or deputies shall be appointed by grace of the Senate.

6. That if it shall happen at any time, that two of the offices severally constituting electors are united in the same person, the deputy for the elector in respect of one of the said offices shall be the Lord Almoner's Reader in Arabic; but if in any case the Lord Almoner's Reader shall decline the office of deputy examiner, or shall be prevented from undertaking the said office, a deputy examiner shall be appointed in his place by grace of the Senate.

7. That if the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor of Hebrew, the Professor of Arabic, or any two of them, shall be members of the same College, no elector shall in that case be appointed by that College according to the cycle of Proctors; but the appointment shall be made by grace of the Senate.

8. That the appointment, when requisite, of an examiner or examiners, by grace of the Senate, take place at the first Congregation in the Lent Term of the year, and that the examiner or examiners so appointed continue in office until the first day of January in the following year.

9. That two scholars be elected annually, and be called scholars of the first and second classes; that a scholar of the first class receive an annual stipend of 30*l.*, and a scholar of the second class an annual stipend of 20*l.*, for three years from the time of election: and that the first election under these regulations take place in May, 1826; the second in May, 1827.

10. That should it appear in any case to the majority of the electors that no one of the candidates is deserving of a scholarship of the first class, it shall be competent for them to elect one of the second class only.

11. That, in the event of one scholar only being elected, the examiners be empowered, at the election of the following year, to elect three scholars upon this foundation: viz., two of the first class, and one of the second: that the first in the order of merit be the scholar of the first class for that year; the second in the order of merit supply the vacancy left at the preceding election, and be entitled to all the emoluments assigned to that scholarship: viz., the stipend of the preceding year, and also the regular stipends of the two succeeding years, during which, and no longer, he shall remain upon this foundation: and that the third be the scholar of the second class for that year.

12. That if any scholarship, reserved under the powers of the tenth regulation, be not filled up at the examination of the following year, the whole proceeds of such scholarship shall be appropriated in the manner herein-after mentioned.

13. That the residue of the net annual proceeds of Mr. Tyrwhitt's benefaction, not already disposed of by the third of these resolutions, together with all accumulations which may arise under the tenth and twelfth resolutions, form a fund to be employed in the following manner: viz., That a premium of not less than 50*l.* be given, as often as this fund will allow, for such a Latin dissertation, upon some subject connected with Hebrew literature, as may be agreed upon by the electors or the majority of them.

14. That the subject of such dissertation be published on or before the first day of February, and that the dissertations be sent to the Vice-Chancellor, in the usual manner, on or before the first day of December in the same year.

15. That any member of this University, who has taken his first degree, may be a candidate for the above premium.

16. That the examiners, if they think it expedient, be empowered to print any prize dissertations at the expense of this fund; and that all prize dissertations not printed under their direction, be deposited in the public library.

17. That the foregoing regulations continue in force until the first day of January, 1830.

THE Dean and Chapter of Westminster are invested with all the possessions belonging to this foundation, they being bound to maintain forty King's scholars there*. The general management of the school is with the Dean and Chapter, except as to the election of scholars to Christ Church, Oxford, and Trinity College, Cambridge; these are appointed conjointly with the heads of the two Colleges. The King's scholars † wear a gown, a cap, and

BISHOP'S BOYS.

John Williams, Bishop of Lincoln, in 1628, bequeathed an estate to found an establishment here for four boys, who are called Bishop's Boys, in the appointment of the Dean of Westminster; they have their education free of expense, and wear a purple gown. The Bishop directed that they should have each an annual allowance of from 6*l.* to 7*l.*; but this is withheld while resident here, and accumulates till they go to St. John's College, Cambridge; and to this is added a further sum by the Dean and Chapter, so as to make up 20*l.* a-year for four years at the University. Bishop Williams also founded four scholarships at St. John's College, Cambridge, for the boys on this foundation: each scholarship produces about 20*l.* a-year, tenable for four years. (See p. 83.)

STUDENTSHIPS and SCHOLARSHIPS*.

WILLIAM OF WYKEHAM was also the founder of New College, Oxford; and he directed that the fellowships and scholarships at that College, should be supplied from his College here. There are seventy scholars on the foundation*. The statutable qualifications are, that they be pauperes et indigentes scholares. No boy elected under eight years of age.

to the vacancies which may happen at New College for a-year to come, and whose names are put on a roll for that purpose. At the same time a similar roll is made of those boys who are candidates for admission into Winchester College*.

Candidates for admission to New College are of three descriptions :—

- 1st. Boys of the founder's kin, two of whom are set at the head of the roll. These have a peculiar privilege, as they are never superannuated, but may remain at Winchester till a vacancy occurs at New College.—Average number of founder's kin from ten to twelve.
- 2d. Boys between eighteen and nineteen years old, called superannuates: these leave the school immediately after the election; but, according to their place on the roll, have a chance of going to New College till the election of the following year.
- 3d. The remainder of the senior boys who have been examined, any of whom by distinguished merit, may obtain a place on the roll above some, or even all, of the superannuates.

Edward Cobden, D.D., Archdeacon of London, by will, dated April, 1784, bequeathed 400*l.* to a certain fund at Winchester College, called the Superannuate Fund, directing the interest thereof to be applied in founding an exhibition in Trinity College, Oxford, for the advantage of superannuate scholars of Winchester College. This exhibition is occasionally augmented by the liberality of the Warden and Fellows of the College.

St. Paul's School.

Founded by Dr. JOHN COLET, Dean of St. Paul's, in 1510 ; rebuilt, 1824.

GOVERNORS, THE COMPANY OF MERCERS.

HIGH MASTER, JOHN SLEATH, D.D.

Sur-Master, Rev. W. A. C. DURHAM, M.A.

Chaplain, or Third Master, Rev. J. P. BEAN, M.A.

Fourth Master, Rev. J. COOPER, M.A.

By the statutes of the school, drawn up by the founder, it is directed, that there shall be taught in the school children of all nations and countries indifferently, to the number of 153, free of all expense. The statutes further direct that the Master, Wardens, and Assistants of the Mercers' Company, shall have the governance of the school, and management of the estates and property belonging to the same, and that they are to choose every year two of their Company, as Surveyors of the school, who are to take the charge of the same for a twelvemonth. The Master of the Company, and the Member of the Company next in succession to the mastership, are the two Surveyors. The revenues of the school are upwards of 5,000*l.* a-year. The appointment of scholars, as vacancies occur, is in the Master of the Company, as senior Surveyor. The boys admitted on the foundation are, generally speaking, from the neighbourhood of St. Paul's, and are principally the children—of the clergy, professional gentlemen, and respectable tradesmen.

EXHIBITIONS.

Nine exhibitions, of 100*l.* a-year each, tenable for seven years.—In addition to the munificent endowment of Dean Colet, the school enjoys a valuable benefaction for the establishment of exhibitions at Trinity College, Cambridge, under the will of Viscount Campden, about 1685, who devised a moiety of the tithes of Woodhorne, Seaton, Wytherington, Creswell, Horton alias Horneton, Hirst, Errington, and Linton, parcel of the rectory of Woodhorne, in the county of Northumberland, to the Mercers' Company, for the better maintenance and advancement of such scholar and scholars as should be, from time to time, preferred from St. Paul's School to Trinity College, Cambridge; and when such scholar and scholars should come to better preferment from Trinity College, he declared his will to be, that such other scholar or scholars of St. Paul's School, that should be fitting to be preferred to Trinity College, should have the benefit of this his gift. The value of the tithes is about 435*l.* per annum. Savings have been made from this fund, principally during the earlier period of the Company's possession of this trust, which have been invested from time to time, and now amount to the sum of 18,834*l.* 15*s.* three per cent. reduced annuities, yielding an annual dividend of 565*l.*, thus making the whole average income of this fund 1,000*l.* From this fund nine exhibitioners are now paid 100*l.* a-year each.

Nine exhibitions, of 50*l.* a-year each; tenable for seven years; not restricted to either University; those holding the Campden exhibitions are not eligible.

One exhibition, of 30*l.* a-year, at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, founded by John Stock, Esq., in 1781, and in the gift of the Mercers' Company, for a scholar from this school.

Five exhibitions, at Trinity College, Cambridge, of 10*l.* per annum each, founded by Mr. Perry. If there should not be so many as five, the 50*l.* is to be divided equally amongst those that are on this foundation.

Four scholarships at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, founded by George Sykes, Esq. in 1766, for scholars from this school.

Two exhibitions of 10*l.* per annum each, at St. John's College, Cambridge, founded by Dr. Gower, for sons of clergymen of the Church of England, with preference to those educated at St. Paul's School, and the grammar school at Dorchester.

an allowance towards the expence of their B.A. and M.A. degrees. This trust is under the direction of Emanuel College.

Thomas Dixon, citizen and clothworker, by will, dated June 1574, gave 250*l.* to Christ's Hospital, to purchase lands of the value of 10*l.* a-year or more, such purchase to be made with the consent of the Company of Clothworkers, and directed that the said 10*l.* per annum should be employed as follows: namely, 6*l.* a-year to the finding a poor scholar, being one of the children of the said house, to be preferred out to one of the Universities; and the residue, to be paid by Christ's Hospital to the said Company.

This legacy was applied in the purchase of 24*A.* 1*R.* 38*P.* of land at New Cross, in Kent. Seven acres of that land were, in the year 1813, sold to the Croydon Canal Company, (under the provisions of the Act for making that canal,) for the sum of 735*l.* which was invested in the purchase of 1,273*l.* 14*s.* three per cent. consols, in the name of the Accountant-general of the Court of Chancery: and the remaining land being 17*A.* 1*R.* 38*P.* is let to a Mr. Brougham on a building lease for sixty-one years, from the 10th of October, 1765, at 75*l.* per annum, the tenant covenanting to lay out 2,000*l.* in building on the land.

A moiety of the above dividends and rent are paid to the Clothworkers' Company, and the remainder of this bequest, it is supposed, forms a part of the exhibitions to the Universities before stated.

Abingdon.

Founded in 1562 by JOHN ROYSSE, citizen and mercer of London.

MASTER, Rev. J. HEWLETT.

THE founder directed that there should be perpetually taught in this school, free of expense, sixty-three children of the borough of Abingdon, one only of a house ; and in case of deficiency, to be supplied from the adjoining country; preference being given to fatherless children and poor men's children, at the discretion of the Mayor, Bailiffs, &c., of the borough. He likewise directed that the Mayor, &c., should not refuse any honest man's, gentleman's, or rich man's son, or other in the said town and elsewhere, that should be willing to have any of them taught in the said school, provided the Master is able to teach the number, and the school capable of containing them. The Master is allowed to have ten private pupils.

Endowment of the school consists of a school-house at Abingdon, sufficient in addition for the residence of the Master and Usher; and two houses in Birchin Lane, London, let to the London Assurance Office for a term of sixty-one years, from Michaelmas 1792, at 80*l.* per annum.

William Bennett, in 1608, left by will lands at Blunsden, Wilts., for the benefit of six boys on this foundation, towards clothing and apprenticing the same, producing about 140*l.* per annum. Thomas Tesdale, by will, in 1609, bequeathed certain glebe lands, tithes, &c. of his rectory of Ratley, Warwick, to be employed in the maintenance of an Usher to this school; let at 97*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.* per annum, and paid to an Usher, who confines himself to the instruction of Bennett's six boys in the Greek and Latin languages.

EXHIBITIONS.

This school is entitled to the benefit of four exhibitions at Pembroke College, Oxford, on the respective endowments of Thomas Tesdale and Richard Wightwick; the scholars on Bennett's foundation to be preferred, if any should be found fit, otherwise from others educated in the said school, properly qualified.

Bennett's scholars seldom offer themselves as candidates, and of late years when vacancies have occurred, it has been the custom for boys who have been educated elsewhere to engage as private pupils at this school, for the sole purpose of qualifying themselves, by being in the school, for becoming candidates at the next election. These candidates are generally successful, and the Master, (when boys have come to the school with such a view,) requires a specific sum on their admission. The rule is, that every boy coming as a private pupil, within twelve months of an expected election, for the purpose of offering himself as a candidate, has to pay twenty guineas to the Master on his admission.

With this money an estate was purchased at Holbeach, now of the annual value of 60*l.* Besides this estate, there is a considerable property in the funds, applicable to this purpose, from the produce of savings, arising from vacancies in the scholarships. HEAD MASTER, Mr. THOMAS HOGG.

Boys are admitted at this school on very moderate terms.

EXHIBITIONS.

There are two exhibitions at Exeter College, Oxford, for scholars from this school, arising from the residue of some property of the late Rev. St. John Elliot, Rector of St. Mary's, Truro. This property some years since came under the consideration of the Court of Chancery; and the Master to whom it was referred, consented that the following should be the Trustees for ever to this charity. The Rector of Truro, the Schoolmaster of Truro, the Vicar of Kenwyn, the Vicar of Gluvias, and the Vicar of Veryan. The whole of the trust money he also directed should be invested in government securities, in the name of the Accountant-General; that one exhibition of 30*l.*, being part of the interest, be applied to one scholar, to be chosen by these Trustees at Exeter College, Oxford, who has been educated in this school; tenable for seven years: and in case there be two scholars fit and proper to go to the University from this School, then another sum of 30*l.* is applicable for the same purpose; but should there be but one scholar from this school, then such exhibition to him is allowed to be 35*l.* per annum, and the remaining 25*l.* is to be applied under the direction of the Trustees to any scholar as an exhibition from any Grammar school in the county of Cornwall, tenable for four years.

Saint Bees.

Founded by EDMUND GRINDALL, Archbishop of Canterbury, by letters patent from QUEEN ELIZABETH, dated April 1583.

HEAD MASTER, Rev. THOMAS BRADLEY.

THERE are about 100 boys in the school. The school appears, by the founder's statutes, to have been intended to be free only to boys of Cumberland and Westmorland; but this is not adhered to, for boys from any other county are admitted. It is customary for all boys to present a gratuity on entrance, and also annually at Shrovetide. This latter is commonly called a Cockpenny. Both are quite voluntary and cannot be demanded. Whatever is offered is received without any observation, and all parents who make inquiry are told, that the entrance money and cockpenny are merely gratuitous. The usual entrance gratuity is three guineas and a half, of which the Head Master receives two guineas, the Usher one, and the Writing-Master half a guinea. The cockpenny generally amounts to the same sum, and is divided in the same manner. Some few persons pay five guineas entrance, and the same sum annually.

The general course of instruction in the school is classical; but if the parents wish it, their children are taught reading, writing, and accounts only. The Head Master takes twenty boarders. The other boys, who are not sons of inhabitants of St. Bees, board and lodge in the village.

EXHIBITIONS.

Archbishop Grindall founded, for scholars from St. Bees School, one fellowship and two scholarships at Queen's College, Oxford; the fellowship at Queen's is considered only as a scholarship; the same number the Archbishop also founded at Pembroke College, Cambridge; another scholarship has since been added by the College*, in consequence of the improved value of the estates belonging to the foundation.

A scholarship of 4*l.* a-year at Magdalen College, Cambridge, for a scholar from St. Bees School, born in Cumberland or Westmorland.

In case of failure of scholars from Carlisle School for the two exhibitions at Queen's College, Oxford, founded by Bishop Thomas, scholars from St. Bees are entitled to them.

St. Bees School has also the privilege of sending a candidate to be examined, for one of five exhibitions at Queen's College, Oxford, founded by Lady Elizabeth Hastings; (particulars detailed hereafter.)

* The property belonging to this school, as well as that held by Pembroke College, for the support of the fellow and scholars on this foundation, has long been litigated in our courts of law.

Derby.

HEAD MASTER, Rev. JAMES BLIGH.

QUEEN MARY by charter dated 1554, gave to the corporation of Derby and their successors for ever, certain messuages, lands, &c., for the endowment of a free grammar school for the instruction and education of boys in the town of Derby. All sons of burgesses of Derby are entitled to gratuitous instruction in the classics at this school.

Ashburton.

HEAD MASTER, Rev. JOHN WHITE.

THIS grammar school was founded in the 36th of Elizabeth, by several benevolent individuals; and endowed with certain lands for the maintenance of the Master, amounting to about 60*l.* per annum. The period of admission is not limited to any age, and the Master receives all such as are sent to the school as grammar scholars.

EXHIBITIONS.

Laurence Blundell, by will dated 18th of March, 1637, and proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, in addition to an annuity of 4*l.* for the maintenance of the school at Ashburton, gave the sum of 4*l.*, to be issuing out of his lands, &c. at Ashburton, to a poor scholar of the said parish to the University, and tenable till M.A.

Mr. Blundell also gave, for one poor scholar of Ashburton, for his maintenance at the grammar school and at the University, if he should be fit for it, the sum of 6*l.* a-year, to be issuing out of all his said premises; the same to be paid to and for such scholar as should be appointed by his executors, and their heirs, the Vicar of Ashburton, &c.

The annuities of 4*l.* and 6*l.* are considered to be payable in respect of two parcels of land, containing by estimation eighty perches, and a messuage, called the Mermaid; and two closes, containing by estimation, six acres, called the Rock Parks and the Barley Arish, and a small plot of ground adjoining thereto; and a close, called Cook's Close, containing one acre and a half; and a messuage and garden in Heavyhed Lane, and another messuage and garden in Heavyhed Lane, all within the borough of Ashburton, which were purchased subject to these rent charges in 1761, by an ancestor of Sir Lawrence V. Palk, Bart., the present proprietor thereof.

This endowment was confirmed by Mr. Pinsent's will, dated June, 1668.

EXHIBITIONS.

Dr. Stephens's six Exhibitions.

The Rev. Lewis Stephens, D.D., Archdeacon of Ches-ter, and Rector of Droxford, in the county of Southampton, by his will, bearing date 14th November, 1745, directed that 3,000*l.*, after the decease of certain annuitants, was to be employed for ever in the assisting six exhibitioners at either of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge ; two for sons of freemen and natives of the city of Exeter, two for natives of the county of Devon, and two for natives of the county of Cornwall, all bred three years at least in the free school of Exeter, and chosen to the Universities by the Mayor and Chamber of Exeter, (except the six first exhibitioners, who might be chosen from other schools for want of persons qualified,) and to continue exhibitioners seven years, and no longer. And by his will he excludes all sons, grandsons, nephews, and first cousins, of all Bishops of Exeter, Deans of Exeter, dignitaries and Canons of the cathedral church there, from enjoying the said exhibitions, intending the benefit of them for the laborious part of the parochial clergy, the sons of country gentlemen of small fortunes, and for the advantage of the city; and he desired that no preference should be had to his relations, but that every exhibitioner should be chosen by merit only. And he desired that the Mayor and Chamber should choose out of the freemen of the city, a sober, frugal, substantial person, who should be a tradesman and not an attorney, to pay the exhibitioners; which receiver should enter in a register the certificates of residence of the exhibitioners, and should every year lay his accounts and the said certificates before the Mayor and Chamber of Exeter, in the Guildhall, on some Monday between Christmas and Lady-day, as the Mayor should appoint; and the Mayor and Chamber were to assign him a moderate salary, and enjoin him, by oath or otherwise, to act faithfully in his office, and not to take any fee or bribe from the exhibitioners, who were to be styled “Dr. Stephens’s Exhibitioners.” And he directed, that if the natives of Devon or Cornwall should neglect to send their sons to Exeter Free School, the Mayor and Chamber should choose, into the vacant exhibitions, sons of freemen, natives of Exeter, pro hác vice. And if the Mayor and Chamber, through any quarrel amongst themselves, or neglect, or design of serving friends or relations, should delay the election of the exhibitioners longer than six months after any vacancy, the vacant exhibitions should be filled up, pro hác vice, within the next six months, by six Trustees and Guardians of the elections whom he thereby appointed, two of Exeter, two of Devon, and two of Cornwall, with a power whenever any Trustee should die, for the remaining Trustee for the same county or city to nominate another; and after the next six months, the nomination to devolve to the Mayor of Exeter. And he desired the Mayor and Chamber to take to them two learned clergymen, or more, of the said city or the county of Devon, to examine the candidates publicly in the free school, that any persons might hear the examinations, and judge of the merit of the boys. And he insisted, that every exhibitioner who should be elected, should within two months afterwards repair to Oxford or Cambridge, and enter in some College or Hall, and reside therein nine months out of the twelve, every one of the first four years, from the day of his election. And he required that every exhibitioner should, for the four first years, send a certificate of such residence to the Mayor and Chamber, signed by his tutor, and the bursar or steward of his College, otherwise the next payment of his exhibition to be stopt; and that at the end of the fifth year, at farthest, he should take the degree of B.A., or quit his exhibition. And if any of the exhibitioners should be chosen scholars or fellows of any College or Hall, it should not deprive them of their exhibition if they should continue there, and send to the Mayor and Chamber a certificate of nine months' residence in the University; but if any exhibitioner should enter into holy orders, and accept a curacy, he should enjoy the exhibition one year longer, and no more; and the exhibition of that last year should be delivered in divinity books, and not in money, to such exhibitioner becoming curate of a parish, such books to be bought by order of the Mayor and Chamber, upon their request to some clergyman, to direct them what the books should be. And he directed that 20s. of the last payment of every exhibitioner should be kept back by the receiver, and employed by the Mayor and Chamber for buying books towards forming a library, for the use of the Master and scholars of the free school of Exeter. And he also directed, that any exhibitioners having kept four years' residence, and taken the degree of B.A. in one of the Universities, and desiring to employ the remaining years in the study of the law in the Inns of Court in London, or the study of physic in the Hospitals there, or the study of civil law, divinity, or physic, in any foreign University, might receive their exhibitions to the full end of seven years, on sending a certificate once a-year to the Mayor and Chamber, signed by the chiefs where they should reside, setting forth where they were residing, and what they were studying. And he directed, that any person duly qualified might be chosen under the age of twenty-two, and that before every election of an exhibitioner, notice thereof should be given in the public news to the gentlemen and clergy of the county for which he was to be chosen, and that there should be no feast-dinner or entertainment at the expense of the benefaction or the exhibitioner, on any day of election, or at any time else. And he allowed the Mayor and Chamber to choose one of the exhibitioners for the city of Exeter, to travel abroad for the benefit of trade, to spend four years in trading towns in foreign nations, and the other three years in trade at home.

Dr. Stephens's will extends to considerable length, but the above abstract contains the most important of the provisions relating to the exhibitions.

Upon the death of all the annuitants, the sum of 2,942*l.* was received in October, 1799, by the Mayor and Chamber of Exeter, and was expended in the purchase of 4,862*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.* * three per cent. consols, in the name of the mayor, bailiffs, and commonalty of Exeter.

These various purchases were made from the accumulation of dividends, in consequence of the exhibitions not being filled up, which is stated to have arisen from a want of candidates for them. In one instance, an exhibition was given up, and another was refused, on account of the extent of residence at the University required by the foundation.

The exhibitioners are elected by the Chamber from the Free Grammar School of Exeter. In February 1821, there were two exhibitioners on this foundation of the county of Devon, and four of the city of Exeter, two of the latter having been appointed in consequence of there having been no boys of the county of Cornwall in the school, qualified according to the terms of Dr. Stephens's will. Certificates are required from the Schoolmaster of the candidates having been three years at the school; and there has usually been an examination by two clergymen, previously to the appointment of an exhibitioner; but there does not hitherto appear to have been more than one candidate upon any election.

It is required of the exhibitioners, that they shall go to the University within two months after their election, and that they shall take the degree of B.A. by the end of the fifth year. Certificates of nine months' residence at the University have been also required from their respective Colleges, during the first four years, but not after that time. The last year's allowance to each exhibitioner, who has taken orders, and accepted a curacy, has been laid out in books of divinity.

Twenty shillings is retained from the last year's payment, to each person who has held his exhibition the whole seven years, for the purchase of books for the library of the Exeter Free Grammar School.

Dr. Vilwayne's six Scholars.

Robert Vilwayne, Doctor of Physic, gave certain mesuages in 1660, among other uses, for the yearly payment of 32*l.* for and towards the maintenance of four poor scholars in the University of Oxford, and the said Robert Vilwayne left several instructions in writing for the election, government, and continuation of the said scholars, as follows:—

1st. “ I give for ever, 32*l.* yearly, to be paid quarterly to four scholars' pensions, viz. 40*s.* a quarter, towards their maintenance in the said University, which shall be paid to the Rector and Sub-rector of Exeter College for the time being, by the Mayor and Chamber of Exeter, out of my brewhouse and malthouse, built or shortly to be built in the manor of Exe Island, belonging to the said city.

2d. “ These four pensioners are to partake of this exhibition who have not of their own, and whose parents are not of ability, to maintain them in the University.

3d. “ There shall be chosen two out of the High School in Exon, and two out of the Free Grammar School; and this order is still to be observed in the hospital, which the Master of the schools, when they are to be chosen, shall present with some others that are fittest, sans partiality, to the Mayor and Recorder of the said city for the time being, who shall be electors after my death, together with the Schoolmaster of that school out of which he or they are to be chosen, or any two of them, who shall choose city-born children before strangers, cæteris paribus, if they be so well qualified for learning, behaviour, toward lives, and poverty, without partial respect of persons.

4th. “ These shall enjoy this pension seven years, if they so long reside in the University and have no better preferment ; but if they take any cure or benefice, or academical fellowship, or other advancement exceeding the sum of 20*l.* per annum, or if they be absent from the University more than two months in each year, not giving a satisfactory reason for such absence to two or one of the electors, that then his or their places and pensions shall be ipso facto void, and the electors shall instantly proceed to election for supply of the place or places which shall become void, that no time may be lost.

5th. “ If any of those places shall be void, and the school wherein the election is to be made have no scholar at that time qualified to be elected, then the place or places void shall be supplied out of the other school, if it hath any fit or eligible.

6th. “ What exhibition shall come to the receivers’ hands during such vacancy, the same shall be given to the scholar or scholars who shall be next chosen to succeed.

7th. “ It is not the donor’s intent to diminish or abolish the present or future bounty of any well-disposed person towards the maintenance of any poor scholars whose parents are unable to maintain their children in either University ; but he much desires that people would be so well minded as to advance learning by free contributions.

8th. “ If hereafter the two grammar schools in the said city shall be turned into one, then from thenceforth all the said four scholars shall be chosen out of the school remaining, by the Mayor, Recorder, and Schoolmaster, or any two of them, as aforesaid.

9th. “ The pensions shall be paid unto them from quarter to quarter, or a week or fortnight before each quarter, by the Rectors or Sub-rectors of Exeter College (their battels or commons first deducted); but if it exceeds the said 40s. quarterly, they shall battel or common no more till they have discharged or satisfied the over-plus, for security and indemnity of the College."

And reciting also, that the said Robert Vilwayne shortly afterwards died, and that Simon Snow proved the will, about the month of April 1666, which gave to the Chamber of Exeter, and their successors for ever, the said brewhouse and malthouse with the appurtenances, to be by their care and oversight managed for the public good of the said city, and particularly for the payment of the aforesaid pension of 32*l.* per annum to four pensioners, called and to be called "Dr. Vilwayne's Pensioners," and to be taken out of the free school next to the east gate of the said city, whereof Mr. Bradford was then School-master; and that he directed that the Mayor and Justices of the city should for ever appoint after his death who should succeed in the place of the said four that should enjoy the benefit of that pension at his death; and that as many as they should think fit and capable of the said pension should (if any such at any time should be there) be taken out of St. John's Hospital and afterwards sent to Exeter College, there to be and continue so long and in such manner as the said Dr. Vilwayne in his instructions made in that behalf did desire as aforesaid.

Sir John Acland's, Bart., two Scholars.

Sir John Acland, Bart. amongst many other munificent endowments in 1649, directed that after his decease, 16*l.* should be paid out of the said residue yearly for ever, for the yearly pensions of two such scholars, to be chosen from time to time out of the free school of Exeter, and resident within the college called Exeter College, in the University of Oxford, (viz. to each of the said scholars, 8*l.* per annum,) as for the time being should be appointed to receive the same, with the consent of the Rector for the time being of Exeter College,—the owner for the time being of the capital messuage or mansion-house of Colomb John,—the Mayor and Recorder of the city of Exeter,—and the Schoolmaster of the free school aforesaid, or any three of them.

The Rev. Dr. John Reynolds, one of the Canons of Exeter, founded six exhibitions at Exeter College, three for scholars brought up in Exeter School: in the patronage of the Dean and Chapter; and the remaining three for superannuated collegers of Eton.

Kingsbridge.

HEAD MASTER, Rev. ROBERT LANE

THOMAS CRISPIN by will, bearing date the 31st January, 1689, gave 5*l.* per annum to the teaching twenty-five poor children of the town of Kingsbridge, to be able to read English; also, 5*l.* per annum for the teaching twelve poor children of the said town, to write and cypher; also, 20*l.* either to be laid out in land, or to be put out at interest, as his Trustees for the school should think fit, and the profits of it to be laid out in buying books and paper for the children of the aforesaid schools. And, reciting that he had erected a house and grammar school in the town of Kingsbridge, he gave 15*l.* per annum for ever, to be yearly paid to the Master of the said school, such as should be chosen and appointed by his said Trustees. And he directed that the said Master should teach at least fifteen boys of the inhabitants of the said town, and that in case so many were not to be found in that town, it should be left in the discretion of his Trustees to fill up that number from any other place, but that no stranger should be placed there so long as any could be found in that town.

He also gave towards the repairing the said grammar school, and towards the charges the Trustees should be at in collecting the monies for the said schools, 5*l.* per annum, which he left to their discretion. And for the payment of the said sums of 5*l.* yearly to the reading school; 5*l.* yearly to the writing school; 15*l.* yearly to the grammar school, and 5*l.* yearly towards repairing the grammar school, and other charges about the schools, the whole being 30*l.* per annum, he gave all his estate of inheritance in fee-simple, in a tenement called Washbearhays, in the parish of Bradninch, Devon.

The estate, called Washbearhays, consists of a dwelling-house, outbuildings, nineteen closes of land, and a cop-pice, the whole containing (according to a map made in 1778) 78*A.* 3*R.* 4*P.* The estate now lets for 32*l.* per annum.

There are on an average thirteen free boys at the grammar school, all of Kingsbridge, and appointed by the Trustees, who appoint strangers if they do not find sons of the inhabitants of the town sufficient to complete the number. They are chiefly poor boys who attend the school, with a view to being apprenticed to trades from Duncombe's Charity, hercafter mentioned, as a qualification for which it is necessary for them to attend two years at the school; few exceed this term, and as they are taught only Latin, it will easily be perceived of how little advantage such an education must be to boys of their condition.

EXHIBITIONS.

William Duncombe, schoolmaster of the free-school at Kingsbridge, erected by Mr. Crispin, by will dated on or about 20th April, 1691, gave all his lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and all the residue of his personal estate, which he desired might soon after his death be duly appraised, to Trustees in trust, to be laid out in purchasing such estates or lands of inheritance in fee-simple, as the value of his said estates should amount to, according to the best discretion of his executors; and directed that all such estate as after the decease of his wife and sister, should come to his executors by virtue of his will, they, his said executors, should soon after cause to be publicly valued and appraised, and that they should lay out the whole as thereafter was mentioned in trust, among other things, to give 10*l.* per annum to each, by equal quarterly payments, to one, two, three, or more such boys, being poor, as the estate would permit, and they should think fit, who should have had their education in the said free school of Kingsbridge, for four or three years at least, and should from thence go to the University of Oxford or Cambridge, as an help or assistance to them, towards their maintenance in the University for four years, and no longer; and at all times afterwards for the maintenance and education of such other two or three, or more poor boys, when the time of the former was expired, as should have been three or four years scholars in the free school of Kingsbridge, and should go from thence to one of the Universities, and continue there four years, by the approbation of the executors and of the Schoolmaster, for the time being; and if the scholars sent to the University took not good courses, but proved debauched, he declared that their maintenance should be withheld by the Trustees.

In the year 1816, a petition was presented to the Court of Chancery with regard to this trust. This petition was referred to one of the Masters of the court, who, by his report, dated 18th June, 1819, certified that in pursuance of the directions of the court, a scheme had been laid before him by the Trustees for the application of the income of the charity, and that he had approved thereof; whereby it was proposed that the Trustees and the Schoolmaster of the free school for the time being, should give 50*l.* per annum to one, two, three, or more poor boys, as the funds would permit, and they should think fit, who should have had their education in the free school of Kingsbridge for four or three years at least, and should from thence go to the University of Oxford or Cambridge, as in the will was directed with respect to the 10*l.* per annum. But, that in case of a deficiency of free boys, being poor, going to either University, the Trustees and Schoolmaster for the time being, should give 50*l.* per annum to any one, two, three, or more boys, being poor, not being free boys, as they should think fit, who should have been educated in the free school of Kingsbridge for four or three years at least, and should from thence go to either University, as an help towards their maintenance.

No children are admitted for gratuitous instruction at this school, except those admitted on Salter’s Gift, whose exhibitions for this school are now detailed.

EXHIBITIONS.

Edward Salter, in 1732, gave to Trustees an annuity of 6*l.*; arising from a certain messuage called Cross in Whimble, upon trust, and to the intent that the said Trustees should upon the Wednesday before Easter, yearly, assemble in the free school of Ottery St. Mary, and that they, or the major part of them, elect out of the then scholars, one of them born within the said parish, and then approved by the Trustees as fit for the University, and such as his parents be not of ability to maintain, if there should be any such in the said school; and after such choice, if his parents or friends should send him to the University of Oxford, and procure him to be admitted within one of the Colleges or Halls there, that then the Trustees for his better maintenance should pay him for his use the said 6*l.* by the year, at Midsummer, Michaelmas, Christmas, and Lady-day, such payment to continue for four years, if he should so long be resident at the said University; and after the expiration of the said four years, or sooner, if by death or non-residence it should become necessary, the Trustees were to assemble on the Wednesday before Easter, and choose one other scholar with the same qualifications, who should receive the like annuity of 6*l.* for the term of four years, if he should so long continue resident at the said University, and so from time to time for ever; and if at any such election there should be an equal number of votes for two or more candidates, the Schoolmaster in such case should have a voice, and should elect; and that until the Trustees should pay the said 6*l.* a-year to such scholar as aforesaid, they should pay to two of the scholars of the school of Ottery St. Mary, likely to be qualified and fitted for their election, for their better maintenance and education, 3*l.* each; and such payment to be made to such two scholars as often as it should happen that there should be no such scholar at the University, and so to continue for ever; and it was ordered, that when four of the Trustees should die or depart out of the parish, then the residue, together with some of the chief inhabitants of the said parish, should elect others of the parish to make up the number eight, and should convey the said annuity to such new Trustees; and that two of the Trustees should be chosen yearly, to be receivers of the rent, who should keep a book of their receipts and payments, and of the names of the scholars elected in the school, or for the University.

Tavistock.

MASTER,

THE date of the foundation of this school cannot precisely be ascertained—the management of the funds, &c., is by Act of Parliament vested in the Duke of Bedford. The Schoolmaster instructs in Latin and Greek as many boys as the Steward of the Duke of Bedford thinks fit to send, charging the parents of each boy 1*l.* 1*s.* on entrance, and 2*l.* 2*s.* per annum. The Master has the privilege of taking pupils without the intervention of the Duke of Bedford, and in such cases, he charges an additional two guineas per annum.

EXHIBITIONS.

Sir John Glanville, Knight, of Broadhinton, Wiltshire, Serjeant-at-Law, by indenture, dated the 29th March, 1649, granted to certain Trustees by himself appointed, all his customary messuage or tenement, with appurtenances, in South Brent, alias South Brent-Tor, in the parish of Lamerton, Devon, with all his houses, lands, meadows, and pastures there, upon trust that the premises, and all the issues and profits thereof, should be disposed of from time to time for ever in manner following, viz. That the feoffees, or the greater part of them that should be present in the school-house in Tavistock, on Friday in Easter week, between the hours of ten and twelve of the same day, yearly for ever should, according to their discretion, for the maintenance of one such boy, of the best ingenuity and towardliness, that should be lawfully born of honest parents, within the said borough, a grammar scholar in the free school in Tavistock, under the principal Master of the said school for the time being, for his bringing up in good literature, whose parents or friends were poor, or without deceit, reputed to be unable to maintain such boy, son, or kinsman; and he directed that no less than 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* yearly, for the better maintenance of one such boy or youth as before described, when such boy or youth might be found in the said school, to be promoted therefrom at the University of Oxford or Cambridge, from time to time, until such youth should obtain a degree of Master of Arts, or by reason of his learning and behaviour, according to the custom of such University, should obtain or be worthy of it, and no longer; so that there might be one such boy or youth in one of the said Universities, to receive the benefit of the said gift, for his better use in good learning. And he directed that in the election of such boy or youth to be promoted from the said school to the University, the opinion of the Chief Master of the said school for the time being, in the school-house there should be asked, and be maturely consulted by his said feoffees, who should happen to be present upon such Friday.

The premises conveyed by the above abstracted deed, consist of a dwelling-house, barn, and out-houses, a garden, and thirteen small plots of ground lying, dispersed, all situate in the parish of Lamerton. The value of the estate is now estimated at 20*l.* per. annum. There is about 200*l.* Consols belonging to this trust, arising from accumulations.

Tiverton.

HEAD MASTER, Rev. ALLDERSEY DICKEN, B.D

Second Master, Rev. ANTHONY BOULTON, M.A.

PETER BLUNDELL, of Tiverton, by will, bearing date the 9th of June, 1599, directed that his executors should erect upon a convenient piece of ground in Tiverton, to be purchased for that purpose, a school-house, with offices and rooms over it, and that there should be a garden and other appurtenances adjoining thereto; and that 2,400*l.* should, if necessary, be bestowed thereupon. He further directed, that there should not be above 150 scholars at one time, and those to be boys, not above the age of eighteen, nor under six, born or for the most part before the age of six brought up in the town or parish of Tiverton; and that if the number should not be filled up, the want should be supplied by the children of foreigners, to be admitted with the assent and allowance of such ten householders of Tiverton, as for the time being should be most in the subsidy books of the Queen and her successors; and that they should choose the children of foreigners, without regarding the rich more than the poor. And the Schoolmaster was to have the use of the rooms and buildings aforesaid, and 50*l.* a-year, and an Usher was to have one chamber in the building, and twenty marks a-year. And the testator declared his desire and will to be, that they should be satisfied therewith, without exacting more of parent or children; his meaning being, that it should be a free school, and not a school of exaction. And for the maintenance of the said free grammar school, he devised all his lands, tenements, and hereditaments in the county of Devon, to twenty-seven Trustees and their heirs, in trust, to pay the said salaries to the Master and Usher, and 40s. a-year to a clerk, for keeping the accounts, &c., and 8*l.* a-year for the repairs of the school and other things necessary to the same. And he directed that the Trustees for the time being, or the most part of them, should make, abolish, and set down such orders, &c. touching the school and all matters thereof, and all parties interested therein, as to them or the most part of them for the time being should be thought meet; and that the Schoolmaster and Usher should be appointed and displaced by them, with the approbation as to such appointment of the ordinary of the diocese, and that when the Trustees were reduced to thirteen, the number should be made up to twenty-five. And as his lands in Devon were not of sufficient value to supply his will concerning the said school, &c., he directed that his executors should purchase lands or rents for a full supply thereof, the overplus to be employed to the performance of the rest of his will.

All free boys (as defined by Mr. Blundell's will) are considered admissible, and are admitted on being sent to the school when they are six years of age, and fit to enter upon grammar; they receive a classical education with the other scholars, and may continue at school till they are eighteen years of age.

The school buildings are well adapted for a large establishment. The Master, who has the care of the upper school, has a house capable of containing about 100 boarders, with a garden and meadow. The Usher or Under Master, who instructs the lower school, has a house capable of containing about forty boarders, with a garden.

FELLOWSHIPS and SCHOLARSHIPS.

Mr. Blundell directed his executors to bestow 2,000*l.* in establishing six scholarships at either of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge; and with that view they were directed to purchase lands and tenements, the yearly profits whereof should be employed in their maintenance for ever; such scholars to be elected by his Trustees or the most part of them, with the advice of the Schoolmaster, out of the said grammar school at Tiverton, of the aptest in learning, and such as were least able to maintain themselves.

In consequence of the direction in Peter Blundell's will, that 2,000*l.* should be bestowed in founding six scholarships in the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, deeds of composition were in 1615 and 1616, entered into with Balliol College, Oxford, and Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, respectively, from which it appears that 700*l.* were expended by the executors towards purchasing lands at Woodstock, Oxfordshire, for the maintenance of a fellow and scholar at Balliol College, and 1,400*l.* towards purchasing lands at Clea, Lincolnshire, for the maintenance of two fellows and two scholars at Sidney Sussex College. In 1676, another fellowship and scholarship were established at Balliol College in the same manner; for which purpose the sum of 650*l.*, which had arisen from fines and surplus of income, was paid by the feoffees of the charity to that College. These fellows and scholars now form a part of the foundation of their respective Colleges; but the scholars, in addition to the emoluments derived from the College, receive an allowance of 30*l.* each per annum, from the funds of this charity.

Under the terms of agreement with the Colleges, it sometimes happens that a fellowship to which a scholar is entitled to succeed, becomes vacant before he is of sufficient age or standing to be admitted thereto, and in such cases, this augmentation is continued till he is in the receipt of the emolument of his fellowship. But as a new scholar is admitted by the College upon the fellowship becoming vacant, the average number of scholars receiving this augmentation is about five.

Ham's Scholarship.

John Ham, by will bearing date the 1st May, 1678, directed his executor, with the advice of Mr. Blundell's feoffees, to bestow 200*l.* towards the maintenance of a scholar at Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, or Balliol College, Oxford, to be chosen by the feoffees for the time being, out of the scholars taught in Tiverton School, and born in the same town, if any be fit, and in default of such, then open to the parishes nearest adjacent that should be fit, and there taught, according to such agreements and compositions as the said feoffees should make with the Master and Fellows of either of the said Colleges. And upon the contingency of his son John succeeding by the death of his brother Robert, to a certain estate in his will mentioned, he gave 100*l.* more to Mr. Blundell's feoffees, for the same purposes as the before-mentioned 200*l.*

From the Master's report in 1740, in a cause of the Attorney-General, it appears that proposals were laid before him, and approved of by him, for the disposal of the surplus produce of Mr. Blundell's charity, either in augmentation of the stipends of the scholars on his foundation at Balliol College, Oxford, and Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, or in the addition of new scholarships or exhibitions, as the Trustees should from time to time think fit; and also for applying the produce of the Old South Sea Annuities, arising from Mr. Ham's donation, in one or more exhibitions at any College at Oxford or Cambridge, as the Trustees should from time to time think fit. At that time the income from 844*l.* 18*s.* 9*d.*, being Ham's gift, amounted at four per cent. to 33*l.* 15*s.* 10*d.*, and two exhibitions were established therewith at 16*l.* per annum each. In 1766, the capital of 844*l.* 18*s.* 9*d.* appears to have been reduced to 790*l.* 8*s.* 2½*d.*, the produce of which, at three per cent., the interest at that time, was (after deducting expenses) 23*l.* 6*s.* 4½*d.* From 1766 to 1792, two exhibitions were given at 11*l.* 10*s.* each per annum, and from 1792 to the present time, there has been only one exhibition on this foundation, at 23*l.* per annum.

Down's Scholarship.

By indenture bearing date the 20th October, 1806, and made between Richard Down, Esq. of the one part, and the Mayor and Burgesses of Tiverton, of the other part, reciting that the said Richard Down had transferred 700*l.*, 3 per cent. consols, to the said Mayor and Burgesses, it was declared that they should stand possessed of such stock upon trust, to pay the dividends thereof to such one scholar of Blundell's school, as should be nominated by the said Richard Down during his life, and after his death, by his son, Edward Down, and after the death of the said Edward, by the Mayor of Tiverton, the Upper Master of Blundell's School, and the Rector of the portion of Tidcombe, in the parish of Tiverton, the said scholar to be a native of Tiverton, and educated at that school three years before such nomination; not to be more than eighteen years of age at the time of nomination, nor to receive the emoluments until entered at some College at Oxford or Cambridge, and to continue to receive the same for seven years from such his entrance, unless within that time he should cease to be a member of some College, or being of the age of twenty-three should refuse to take orders, or accept any benefice with cure of souls of the annual value of 150*l.*; provided that such scholar should be entered at some College within three months from the time of such nomination; and that as often as no fit and proper scholar, born in Tiverton, and qualified as aforesaid, should be found, the dividends should accumulate till some scholar properly qualified should be nominated; and the money accumulated during that time should be paid by the said Mayor and Burgesses, to or for the benefit of such scholar to be next thereafter nominated, at such time, and in such manner as the persons so nominating should direct or appoint.

Richard Down, Esq. died in 1813, having himself nominated the first exhibitor under his gift, which he did soon after the date of his trust deed. This exhibitor received the emoluments until 1813, and no other scholars became eligible to this exhibition until 1817, when another was appointed by Mr. Edward Down. The 700*l.*, 3 per cent. consols, is vested in the name of the Mayor and Burgesses of Tiverton.

Newte's Scholarship.

Certain lands were also, in 1715, given by the will of John Newte, to the Master and Fellows of Balliol College, Oxford, the annual profits thereof to be bestowed by them in an exhibition on a scholar, to be chosen out of Blundell's School, by the three Rectors of Tiverton for the time being, or any two of them.

Gilberd's Exhibitions.

Benjamin Gilberd, by will, bearing date 8th November, 1783, gave to Trustees sufficient money to purchase 2,000*l.* consols; the dividends arising from the same, to be paid to Agnes Nott during her life, and after her decease, the stock to be transferred to the Trustees of Blundell's Free Latin School at Tiverton, to be employed for the benefit of the said school, and the scholars educated therein. This donation accrued to the charity in 1801, upon the death of the person to whom he gave a life interest in the same. Until the year 1814, 20*l.* a-year were paid out of the dividends thereof to an exhibitioner, and 10*l.* a-year to four scholars on Blundell's foundation; but since that time, the whole of the dividends have been given to two exhibitioners on Mr. Gilberd's foundation, of 30*l.* per annum each.

MASTER, Rev. CHARLES TOWERS.

THE free grammar school of Brentwood was founded by Sir Anthony Browne, by letters patent, dated 5th July, 4 and 5 of Philip and Mary, for the better instruction and education of the youth of the neighbouring county. The school is open for the free and gratuitous instruction of any boys of Brentwood and the neighbourhood, without any specific limitation as to distance, and no qualification for admission is required, and books and all other materials are provided at the Master's expense. In the reign of James the First, this school was re-established for the maintenance of a greater number of scholars, and accordingly extended to five poor scholars, and that when the revenues of the school increased, more scholars were to be admitted. ### Kingwood.

MASTER Rev. HENRY DAV ES.

THIS school was founded by Richard Lyne in 1587, who bequeathed for that purpose a rent charge of 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* for the Master of the same; and from other bequests, the income of the Master is about 33*l.* per annum. It has for many years ceased to exhibit the character of a grammar school.

EXHIBITIONS.

Thomas Lyne, of Bradford Bryant, in the parish of Wimborne Minster, in the county of Dorset, by his will, bearing date 7th May, 1621, gave 6*l.* per annum for evermore towards the bringing up of a poor scholar at Oxford or Cambridge, to be taken out of the free school of Ring- wood every third or fourth year, and for want of such scholar there, then from Wimborue or Sherborne Schools; and for the payment of this and other bequests, he gave the tithes of his farm at Bradford, with his land, called Whitehall at Burley, in the parish of Ringwood, in the New Forest.

By a decree of commissioners of charitable uses, made at Blandford in 1624, it was ordered that the said land and tithes should for ever stand charged with the payment of the said yearly sum to the Constables and Churchwardens of the several places above mentioned, as the gift of the said Thomas Lyne. And it was also ordered, that the Vicar, Constables, and Churchwardens of Ringwood should meet together at Ringwood, and elect one poor scholar out of and amongst the scholars of the free grammar school of Ringwood, and send him to the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, to study there, if there should be any such poor scholar fit and capable thereof, which poor scholar should continue there for the space of four years. And that during that time the said Constables and Churchwardens of Ringwood should, on receipt of the said yearly sum of 6*l.*, pay the same to him towards his maintenance, as the gift of the said Thomas Lyne, and so in like manner for ever should, after four years, or before, if the poor scholar should die in the mean time, elect another; but if there should be no such poor scholar amongst the scholars of the free grammar school of Ringwood, fit and capable to study at Oxford or Cambridge, that then the Constables and Churchwardens of Wimborne Minster should elect a poor scholar out of the grammar school of Wimborne Minster; and if there should be no such poor scholar in the grammar schools of Ringwood and Wimborne Minster, fit and capable as aforesaid, then the Constables and Churchwardens of Sherborne should elect a poor scholar out of the grammar school of Sherborne for the same purpose ; and that the Constables and Churchwardens of Ringwood should pay the said 6*l.* a-year to such poor scholar.

MASTER, Rev. CHARLES TAYLOR.

THIS cathedral school owes its origin it is supposed to King Edward the Sixth : the management of it is vested in the Dean and Chapter of Hereford ; the revenues, however, are very inconsiderable. The exhibitions are confined to boys born in Herts., and educated in this school. ## The King's School, Canterbury.

HEAD MASTER, Rev. JOHN BIRT, D.D.

Second Master, Rev. W. JONES, M.A.

FOUNDED by King Henry the Eighth, for fifty scholars ; and the management of the same is vested in the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury. The school is open to children from all parts of the kingdom.

EXHIBITIONS and SCHOLARSHIPS.

Archbishop Parker, in 1569, founded, out of the revenues of Eastbridge Hospital, two scholarships at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, for two scholars, natives of Kent, and educated in this school : in the gift of the Dean of Canterbury and the Master of Eastbridge Hospital, subject to the approval of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Archbishop Parker also by will, dated 1575, founded in the same College three exhibitions : the right of nomination belongs, 1st. to the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, who are to appoint such sons of their Norfolk, Suffolk, and Lincolnshire tenants as are educated at this school ; 2dly. to the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, for students from Westminster School ; 3dly. to the Master and Fellows of Corpus Christi College, for students from any seminary in the province of Canterbury. These exhibitions are now of the annual value of 15*l.* each, with rooms.

John Parker, Esq., in 1580, founded three scholarships at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge : the Archbishop of Canterbury is the Patron of one, who is to appoint a native.

of Canterbury from the King's School; and the Master and Fellows of the College of the other two, who are to appoint natives of Aylsham and Wymondham, previously educated in the schools there.

Robert Rose, of Bishopsbourne, in 1618, gave twenty-six acres of land in Romney Marsh for the endowment of four scholarships at either University, for scholars educated in the King's School.

William Heyman, of Canterbury, in 1625, gave twenty-seven acres of land at Warehorn, Kent, to certain trustees, to apply five parts out of six of the rents upon two poor scholars only, to be placed in the King's School; such scholars to be descended from the body of his grandfather, Peter Heyman, Esq., or to be natives, or born of such as are natives of Sellinge. The scholar, when chosen, to be at least eight years old; who should enjoy the exhibition for nine years, and on going to any College in Cambridge, to be continued for seven years from his leaving school; and if he should take orders in the first five years of the seven, the same to be continued for three years more.

Henry Robinson, in 1643, by will, gave certain lands, &c., called Gore End, in the Isle of Thanet, to St. John's College, Cambridge, for founding two fellowships and two scholarships for natives of the Isle of Thanet, and educated at the King's School, Canterbury; and in failure then open to the county of Kent, if educated at the same school. By a decree of the Court of Chancery in 1652, it was ordered, that in future four scholarships should be established in that College for ever, instead of the original appointment; and that the revenues, according to the direction of the donor, should for ever be employed towards the maintenance of the four scholars only, each of whom are to be allowed by the College, in commons, 10*l.* a-year.

Dr. George Thorp, Prebendary of Canterbury, in 1719, by will gave to Emanuel College, Cambridge, lands at Ash, near Sandwich, to enable Bachelors of Arts, to the number of five, to reside in College till they take their Master's degree: but should there be none such, others might be elected, after two years, from their first residence in College; such exhibitioner not to be possessed of an estate of 40*l.* per annum, and his friends to certify their intention of keeping him there until he proceeds to M.A., and to declare his inability so to continue there without such assistance, and that he purposes to make divinity his study: a preference to be given to the sons of orthodox ministers of the Church of England and of the diocese of Canterbury, and such as have been brought up in the King's School there. These exhibitions are about 24*l.* per annum each, and may be holden with other exhibitions and scholarships of other foundations attached to Emanuel College.

John Brown, B.D., in 1736, founded at Emanuel College, two Greek scholarships, amounting to about 8*l.* per annum each. These are to be appointed by the Master and Fellows of Emanuel, from scholars educated at this school; in default, from any other school in Kent; and in default from thence, open to the whole kingdom.

Dr. George Stanhope, formerly Dean of Canterbury, bequeathed in 1728, 250*l.* New S. S. Ann., to found one exhibition of 10*l.* per annum for a scholar from this school for seven years, in the appointment of the Dean and Chapter, such scholar being at some College in Cambridge, but to cease on becoming M.A.

There is a society of gentlemen, educated in this school, which has been established upwards of a century, called “The School Feast Society,” the object of which is to have an anniversary meeting, when the Society attend divine service at the Cathedral, where a sermon is preached by some clergyman who has been educated in the school, on a subject suitable to the occasion. At these meetings collections are made, part of which has for years been appropriated for the purpose of founding exhibitions in the two Universities for scholars from this school: they have, besides, some funded property, applicable to this purpose.

Charing.

MASTER, Mr. E. HATTON.

MRS. ELIZABETH LUDWELL, by will dated Sept. 1761, gave 2,500*l.* for the use of the parishioners of Charing; the dividends arising from which to be divided—one half between ten poor housekeepers, and the other half for the support of a school in the parish. The funds of this charity now consist of 2,960*l.* 17*s.* 9*d.*, three per cent. consols.

EXHIBITIONS.

The same lady also, by will, founded two exhibitions in Oriel College, with a preference to candidates from this parish, to be paid out of the rent of a farm at Throwley, devised to that College for this purpose, and of the value of about 35*l.* per annum.

Cranbrook.

MASTER, Rev. D. W. DAVIES, M.A.

THIS school was founded by Simon Lynche, who obtained letters patent for the same in the 16th of Queen Elizabeth, and gave certain lands for the endowment of the school, for its perpetual support and maintenance, and appointed the Vicar of the parish of Cranbrook, and other parishioners being freeholders, governors of it. The school is open to all the sons of the inhabitants for classical instruction; but as there are but few persons in the town and neighbourhood desirous of giving their sons a classical education, the numbers on the foundation are very few—not above two or three; it has, therefore, dwindled into a private boarding-school. The Master's salary is 100*l.* per annum.

EXHIBITIONS.

Two exhibitions, at Trinity College, Cambridge, founded by Lady Verney out of an estate at South Littleton, for scholars from this school or Warwick Grammar School. They are paid by the representative of the foundress.

Lewisham.

MASTER, Rev. T. WAITE, D.C.L.

THE Rev. Abraham Colfe, by his will dated 7th September, 1656, devised certain estates to the Leathersellers Company, in trust for various charitable uses, and amongst others for founding two schools in the parish of Lewisham; one for teaching reading and writing, the other for classical instruction.

For the foundation of the grammar school, the testator orders that 30*l.* shall be paid yearly “to a learned scholar and exact grammarian, who is sound in the true religion, for teaching freely thirty-one youths, or male children of the laity, (besides the children of the ministers incumbent,) chosen out of all the parishes of the hundred of Blackheath.” The Schoolmaster, before his election, is to be examined and approved by the persons mentioned in the will, and must be “a very able and sufficient scholar to teach the Latin and Greek tongues both in prose and verse, and also able to teach the Hebrew; and so to make every way fitting scholars to be sent to the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge.” The thirty-one free scholars are to be taken from different parishes, in the proportion directed by the will, “and if any of the proper pastors and ministers incumbent of the several parishes of the hundred of Blackheath, and also of Chislehurst, have any sons, every one of them shall have power to send one son, yet but one only at once out of one house to the grammar school, to be taught freely.”

From the present alleged insufficiency of the funds arising from the estates bequeathed by Mr. Colfe, the following exhibitions have not for many years past been filled; but, from the reports of the Commissioners for inquiring into charities, it is supposed that, at no distant date, the Leathersellers Company will be in possession of sufficient funds to meet, agreeably to the directions of the testator, the following

EXHIBITIONS.

Seven scholars, after being strictly examined and found in every way fitting for their skill in the Latin, Greek, and Hebrew languages, by one of the chief Schoolmasters in London, and the Ministers of Lewisham, Greenwich, Deptford, Lee, and Chislehurst, are to be sent to either of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, and to have each an exhibition of 10*l.* per annum for seven years. These exhibitioners are to be children of persons not reputed to be worth above 500*l.*; and natives of Lewisham to be preferred. Provision is made, in case at any time a scholar fit for the University should not be found in the school at Blackheath, that an exhibitioner shall be chosen, first, out of the children of persons belonging to the Company of Leathersellers; next, out of the King's School, Canterbury; and, lastly, from Christ's Hospital.

Maidstone.

MASTER, (Vacant.)

THE foundation and original endowment of this school are involved in some degree of obscurity.

In the year 1561, Queen Elizabeth having required of Archbishop Parker an account of all the schools and hospitals in his diocese, he certified, “that there was a school erected at Maidstone at the charge of the Mayor and commonalty of the town, who had purchased of the King (Edward the Sixth) certain lands to that intent, amounting to 9*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*”

The whole of the revenues of the school, amounting at present to 43*l.*, are paid to the Master, who lives in the school-house rent free. There are no rules or regulations relative to the admission of scholars; but the Master considers himself bound to receive any children of freemen, and to give them classical instruction gratis; for other instruction they pay four guineas a-year. The children of non-freemen pay six guineas a-year, and these he considers it at his option to take, or not.

EXHIBITIONS.

There are four scholarships at University College, Oxford, founded by the Rev. Robert Gunsley in 1618, for the maintenance of two scholars from this school, and two from the grammar school at Rochester, who are to be allowed chambers and 15*l.* a-year each. No scholar has been elected from this school since the year 1796.

Rochester.

MASTER, Rev. JOHN GRIFFITHS, D.D.

THIS school was founded by King Henry VIII., and the management of the same is vested in the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral.

EXHIBITIONS.

Four exhibitions of 5*l.* per annum, two at each University; to be increased to 6*l.* when commencing M.A.; and after that, 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*

This school is entitled (vide MAIDSTONE) to two of the four exhibitions bequeathed by Mr. Gunsley, of 15*l.* per annum each.

Sandwich.

MASTER, Rev. W. WODSWORTH, M.A.

SIR ROGER MANWOOD gave in 1566, to the Mayor and Jurats of Sandwich certain premises in that town, and other property, for the use of the free grammar school at Sandwich, which had then lately been founded under letters patent from Queen Elizabeth, granted to the said Roger Manwood, dated October 1st, 1563, by which the Mayor and Jurats of Sandwich were appointed Governors of the said school.

EXHIBITIONS.

There are two exhibitions for scholars from this school to Lincoln College, Oxford, founded by Joan Trapps, of London, widow, 1568 ; one to be nominated by the Rector and Fellows, and the other by the Governors of the school.

Sir Roger Manwood in 1581, conveyed to the Master and Fellows of Caius College, Cambridge, a messuage with fifty-seven acres of land, called Bodkins, in Swale-cliff, near Whitstable, Kent ; in consideration of which, the said Master and Fellows did covenant to pay annually to four scholars of their College 10*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*, four marks to each. The said scholars to be nominated by the Governors of this school, and by the said Master and Fellows alternately.

Sevenoaks.

MASTER, Rev. J. T. WILGRESS, M.A.

SIR WILLIAM SENNOCKE, by will dated July, 1432, gave to the Rector, Vicar, Churchwardens, and other parishioners of the church of Sennocke, in the county of Kent, all his lands and tenements, with a wharf adjoining, and the buildings thereon built, with the appurtenances, in Petty Wales, in the parish of All Saints, Barking, London, to hold to them and their successors for ever, to the intent they should, out of the rents and profits, find and maintain for ever one Master, sufficiently instructed and experienced in the science of grammar, bachelor of arts, in holy orders lawfully constituted, who might keep a grammar school in some convenient house in Sennocke.

Queen Elizabeth by her letters patent, dated 1st July, 1560, granted and ordained, that there should be ever thereafter a grammar school in the town of Sevenoaks, to be called The Grammar School of Queen Elizabeth, for the education and instruction of boys and youths in grammar and other learning.

There are generally not more than seven boys on the foundation; and for many years past, the average number does not appear to have much exceeded this. The Master lives in the school-house and premises (which are extensive, comprising about three acres,) rent free, a salary of 50*l.* per annum, and maintains there a considerable boarding school. The foundation boys are taught with the boarders, and learn Greek, Latin, and English reading, gratis; but if they also learn writing and arithmetic, they pay three guineas a-year. All these boys are, at present, from the town of Sevenoaks; but there appears no limitation, either in the founder's will, or the charter, or the ancient ordinances, as to the place from whence the scholars are to come.

EXHIBITIONS.

Four of 15*l.* per annum each, for four scholars from this school, to either Oxford or Cambridge, arising from property belonging to the school.

Dame Margaret Boswell conveyed in 1675, to Trustees therein named a farm, called Hallywell Farm, containing by estimation 306 acres, with the salt marsh thereunto belonging, containing by estimation sixty acres, in the parish of Barnham, Essex, in trust, to pay out of the rents thereof 12*l.* (now 75*l.*) per annum to each of two scholars, to be chosen by them in the first place out of Sevenoaks School; and if there were none there qualified, then out of Tunbridge School, to be sent by them to Jesus College, Cambridge, and to be called “Sir William Boswell’s Scholars.”

An exhibition of 4*l.* a-year, now increased to 8*l.*, devised by Robert Holmden, and in the gift of the Leather-sellers Company of London, for one scholar from this school to Oxford or Cambridge, and in default of such, for one from Tunbridge School.

Sutton Valence.

MASTER, Mr. BUCKLAND.

WILLIAM LAMBE, of the City of London, clothworker, by letters patent obtained from Queen Elizabeth, directed and ordained that there should be one grammar school in the town of Sutton Valence, which should be called The Free Grammar School of William Lambe, for the education of boys and youths in grammar for all time to come; and that after the death of the said William Lambe, the Master and four Wardens of the guild or fraternity of Clothworkers in the City of London, should be and be called “Governors of the possessions, revenues, and goods of the grammar school of Sutton Valence,” by which name her Majesty incorporated them, and gave them power to purchase and hold lands for the use of the school; and she thereby also authorized them to name and appoint the Master of the school, and to make statutes and ordinances in writing, touching the government of the Master and scholars, and the management and disposition of the revenues and goods of the same school.

EXHIBITIONS.

Francis Robins, of Sutton Valence, senior Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge, by will, dated 7th July, 1721, gave to the said College the sum of 200*l.* to found two exhibitions of 10*l.* a-year each, to be paid by the said College to two poor deserving lads of the name or kindred of Robins or Sabb, born in Kent, and for want of such, to two poor and apt lads born in Chart, Sutton, Leeds, Langley, or Lenham, and educated at Sutton Valence School.

Tunbridge.

MASTER, Rev. THOMAS KNOX, D.D.

Second Master, Rev. THOMAS BROWN.

SIR ANDREW JUDD, an alderman of London, was the founder of this school, who for that purpose procured a grant by letters patent of the 7th of King Edward the Sixth, for erecting and establishing a school for the instruction of boys in the town of Tunbridge, and the country there adjacent; it was granted and ordained that there should be one grammar school in the town of Tunbridge, which should be called The Free Grammar School of Sir Andrew Judd, in the said town of Tunbridge, for the education, institution, and instruction of boys and youths in grammar, to continue for ever, under one Master and one Usher; and that the Company of Skinners should be the "Governors of the possessions, revenues, and goods of the free grammar school of Sir Andrew Judd, in the town of Tunbridge," and power was also given to the Company to take lands and tenements to them as such governors by their said corporate name, towards the support of the said school.

Sir Andrew Judd, by his will, stating that he had erected a free grammar school at Tunbridge, in Kent, for the maintenance thereof, did bequeath unto the Master and Wardens of the Company of Skinners, of the city of London, certain premises therein described, as all that his croft of pasture, with the appurtenances, called the Sandhills *, situate and being on the backside of Holborn, in the parish of St. Pancras, Middlesex; and other estates situate in the parishes of Allhallows, Gracechurch-street; St. Lawrence, Pountney; St. Peter's, Cornhill; St. Helen's, Bishopsgate; and St. Mary Axe.

In 1820, a suit having been instituted in the Court of Chancery, touching the school estates, and the application thereof, and for the establishment of the school, by the decree made therein, it was, amongst other things, referred to one of the Masters of the said court, to approve of a scheme for the future establishment of the free grammar school, having regard to the then annual rents of the school estates.

By the report of the said Master in December, 1824, he certified, that, having considered the several schemes which had been laid before him, together with the said letters patent and the said orders or statutes of the said Sir Andrew Judd, he had thought it expedient and

* This estate is now let on building leases, and consists of Burton Crescent, Judd Place East and West, Tunbridge Place, Mabledon Place, Bidborough, Hadlow, Speldhurst, Leigh, and various other streets in that neighbourhood. The income of this school is about 5,000*l.* per annum, and, by a recent decision of the Court of Chancery, the whole of the same is applicable to the uses of the school.

proper that the privileges* of the said free grammar school should not only extend to boys and youths whose parents or guardians should bonâ fide reside within the town and parish of Tunbridge, but also to such boys and youths whose parents or guardians should reside in any other parish or place in the county of Kent, within the distance of ten miles by the ordinary roads and ways from the church of the said town of Tunbridge; which boys and youths should be considered as constituting the FIRST CLASS; and, that there might be a sufficient number of youths to receive the exhibitions thereafter mentioned, he had thought it proper, and advisable, that there should be another, or SECOND CLASS, comprehending all boys and youths of the United Kingdom of Great Britain, who, being qualified under the regulations thereafter mentioned, should be capable of receiving the said exhibitions: and the said Master being of opinion that exhibitions for youths going from the said school, to either of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, might be most beneficially established, he had prepared such articles as appeared to him to be necessary for effectuating that purpose, and also such other new articles, as from the then present circumstances appeared to him to be necessary for the future government and establishment of the said free grammar school, and that the several articles thereafter set forth in his said report formed, and he had approved of the same as a proper scheme for the future establishment of the said free grammar school from * A controversy arose in 1764, upon the construction of the charter, respecting the limits to which the privileges of the school extended, which was then settled by the opinions of Mr. Yorke, Sir F. Norton, and Sir W. Blackstone, taken upon a case stated to them by the governors. This point is now finally set at rest.

Christmas, 1824, having regard to the then annual rents of the said school estates.

Among the new regulations the Master, with a salary of 500*l.* is allowed to take sixty boarders ; and the Usher, with a salary of 200*l.*, forty boarders. No boy to be admitted till eight years old ; and every boy not comprised in the first class, to pay annually to the Master 7*l.* 10*s.*, and to the Usher 3*l.* for his instruction in the school.

Regulations of the Court of Chancery as to the

EXHIBITIONS.

That sixteen exhibitions of one hundred pounds a-year each be founded, as part of the establishment of the said school, for the boys thereof, who shall go off to the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, under the regulations hereinafter set forth.

That such boys as shall be of the first class of scholars, and shall be duly qualified to receive such exhibitions, shall be preferred to those of the second class.

That the said exhibitions shall be held by the said exhibitioners for four years, from the commencement of the University Term next after the presentation of such exhibitioner, and for such portion of the said four years only, as they shall be bonâ fide resident at one of the Universities during the usual terms ; and, in case any of the said exhibitions shall cease before the expiration of such period as aforesaid, then the said exhibitions, for the residue of the said period, shall be given by the Governors of the said school, for the time being, to any youths then or formerly members of the said school, who shall have undergone the aforesaid examinations, and proved themselves qualified for the exhibitions, although they failed in obtaining the same, and who shall be then resident members of one of the said Universities, and be under the degree of Bachelor of Arts ; always preferring the youths of the first class to those of the second class.

In January, 1827, the Skinners Company ordered that no boy shall be eligible to an exhibition from Tunbridge School, until he shall have been for the space of five years a scholar of the same.

Henry Fisher, in the fourth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, as well for the better support of the free grammar school of the said Sir Andrew Judd, in the town of Tunbridge, then founded and erected, as for the support of a student at the University of Oxford, granted and confirmed to the Master and Wardens of the Skinners Company, certain messuages, shops, rooms, and premises, situate in a certain alley called Harrow's Alley, otherwise Fisher's Alley, Gracechurch Street, in the parish of St. Peter's, Cornhill ; and also all and singular, his messuages, tenements, and hereditaments, whatsoever, in the said parish of St. Peter's ; and the reversion and reversions of the same premises, with all and singular their appurtenances, to hold to the said Master and Wardens and their successors, for the purpose of paying a scholar from this school, as an exhibition at Brasenose College, Oxford, the proceeds of the same : which exhibition now amounts to 17*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.* per annum.

Sir Thomas Smythe, by will, bequeathed to the Master and Wardens of the Company of Skinners, and their successors for ever, certain houses in the Old Change, and a house in Lime Street, to certain charitable uses therein mentioned ; and amongst other things he directed that the said Company should, for the better encouragement and advancement of the poor scholars of the free school of Tunbridge, yearly pay for and towards the maintenance of six poor scholars at the Universities, to be from time to time elected out of the said school, the yearly sum of 60*l.* (that is to say) to each of the said six poor scholars 10*l.* by the year, by even portions quarterly, viz. 50*s.* each quarter, such payments to be continued for the space of seven years, and vacancies to be filled up as they should occur by the Company.

This school is intituled, in default of a scholar from Sevenoaks School, (which see) to an exhibition of 8*l.* per annum, in the gift of the Leathersellers Company:—and Further, in default from the same school, to two exhibitions of the annual value of 75*l.* per annum each, at Jesus College, Cambridge.

The Rev. Isaac Worral founded two exhibitions of 6*l.* per annum each, at St. John's College, Cambridge, for two scholars from this school. (See p. 82.)

An exhibition of 2*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*, given by a Mr. Lampard, and left to be paid to a poor scholar from this school to either of the Universities, in the nomination of the Master, and appointment of the Vicar and Churchwardens. This small annual sum is charged upon a house and lands at Lamberhurst, in this county.

FELLOWSHIP.

Sir Thomas White, founder of St. John's College, Oxford, out of respect to Sir Andrew Judd, made provision for electing one scholar to a fellowship at that College, out of Tunbridge School, to be nominated by the “prætores vel seniores” of the town of Tunbridge: the election to this fellowship, from the foundation boys of the school, is regularly made upon every vacancy by the elder and principal inhabitants of the town, convened by public notice for that purpose.

Kirkham.

MASTER, Rev. JAMES RADCLIFFE.

THE principal benefactor to this school was the Rev. James Barker, who by his will proved November, 1670, to testify his love to his native town of Kirkham, and to make some addition to the yearly stipend of the Master of the free school of the said town, and some provision for an exhibition to a poor scholar of the said town, for his maintenance at the University of Cambridge, and for other purposes, directed his executors to treat with the Bailiffs and Chief Burgesses of the town of Kirkham, for the purchase of lands and tenements, of the value of 30*l.* per annum, or upwards, so as the purchase should not exceed 500*l.* ; to the intent, that out of the rent and profits, there should be paid to the Master of the free school at Kirkham, 10*l.* per annum, as an augmentation to his stipend, and for his better encouragement to take pains with the scholars of the said town ; and further, that there should be paid yearly, to such poor scholar of the said town, as should be then admitted in the University of Cambridge, the sum of 12*l.* to be paid half-yearly, as an exhibition or allowance for his maintenance in the said University, so long as he should continue a student there, and should not have obtained a fellowship in the College to which he should belong, to be and continue for ever to such poor scholar, born in the said town, and bred at, and sent from the free school there to the University aforesaid, as should from time to time be thereunto elected by the feoffees ; but in a subsequent part of his will he limited the term, for which each scholar should hold the said exhibition, to seven years. An estate for these purposes was bought at Nether Methop, in Westmoreland, for 530*l.*

All the boys resident in, and belonging to the parish of Kirkham, (i. e. the fifteen townships,) are admissible, and their names are entered in the register upon the payment of 4*d.* to the Third Master, 2*d.* being allowed by the Statutes.

EXHIBITION.

Mr. Barker's estates having increased very considerably, on application to the Court of Chancery, it was ordered, by the decree of the 24th March, 1806, that the annual sum of 80*l.* should be paid to such poor scholar as should be qualified and nominated in the manner directed by the will of the founder, and the feoffment dated 14th November, 1673, above abstracted.

Subsequently to this, it has been decreed that the sum to be allowed out of this charity, for an exhibition, or pension to scholars at one of the Universities, should be increased from 80*l.* to 120*l.*; and it is also proposed, that the Trustees should have power, in case their funds shall be sufficient for that purpose, to grant to a second exhibitor or pensioner at one of the Universities, such annual sum as they shall think proper, not exceeding 100*l.*; no abatement to be made out of the other allowances to provide for this second exhibition, and if the funds should be deficient, a proportional abatement to be made. And for the purpose of increasing the number of persons qualified to take the benefit of the said exhibition or allowance, it is also proposed, that the qualification of an exhibitor, as fixed by the will of the said James Barker, and thereby confined to a poor scholar born in the town of Kirkham, be extended to any poor scholar born in any part of the parish of Kirkham, and bred at, and sent from the said school, but that a preference should be, in all cases, given to a poor scholar born in the said town of Kirkham, in case one shall appear duly qualified.

Second Ditto, Rev. G. GILBERT, M.A.

THIS grammar school was founded by Richard Fox, Bishop of Winchester, the founder also of Corpus Christi College, Oxford: open to all boys within a mile of Grantham, free of expense.

EXHIBITIONS.

By a decree of the Court of Chancery in 1815, amongst the rules for the regulation of this school, the following occurs with regard to exhibitions :—

“That the surplus of the rents, &c. of the estates belonging to this school, should be applied and appropriated towards the founding, creating, and maintaining of one or more exhibitions at either Oxford or Cambridge, as the Aldermen and Burgesses of Grantham, with the advice and concurrence of the Bishop of Lincoln, may be agreed on, for such scholars as may have been educated at this school; preference, in the first instance, to those on the foundation; in failure, then those educated in the school. No scholar eligible to such exhibitions, unless he shall have duly attended and have been educated at least two years immediately preceding his going to any College at either of the Universities, and shall have obtained from the Schoolmaster a certificate of such attendance, and also certifying that such scholar so offering himself a candidate for such exhibition is duly qualified in respect to learning, and of good morals and behaviour. The exhibition not to exceed 50*l.* per annum, nor less than 30*l.* Exhibitions tenable for four years.”

The surplus averages 300*l.* per annum; part of which is annually applied in exhibitions, and the remainder as an accumulating fund for this purpose.

In 1763, Dr. Newcome founded two exhibitions for the support of two scholars, who come properly qualified in morals and learning from the grammar school of Grantham, and are admitted of St. John's College, Cambridge—if not, from some other school in Lincolnshire;

each to receive 20*l.* per annum, so long as they shall reside nine months in the year and behave well, till they proceed to M.A., or become fellows of the said College. If, on a vacancy, there are more candidates than one, it is left to the Master and seniors of the College to elect which of them they think the most proper and deserving. Tenable for four years.

Rev. Thomas Lovett, of Nottingham, by will founded in Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, two exhibitions of the annual value of 45*l.* each; and he directed that no scholar or person whatever shall be entitled to such exhibitions, except the son of a clergyman of the Established Church of England, and whose father, if living, shall then be, or if dead, shall have been in Priests' orders, and duly qualified for such orders by having taken a regular degree in the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge; and unless such scholar or person shall be intended to go into holy orders, and shall by himself or friends previously promise and engage that he will enter into Deacons' orders, at or before such time as he shall attain to the age of twenty-three years. Mr. Lovett further directed, "that a preference and a priority, to the nomination and appointment to such exhibitions and each of them, shall at all times be given to a person or scholar duly qualified according to the true intent and meaning of his will, who has been educated, taught, and instructed in the free grammar school of Grantham, in preference, or the free grammar school of Oakham, in case of the former failing to fill the vacancy, for the space of three years at least." Tenable for seven years.

Second Ditto, Rev. T. MOUNSEY, M.A.

THIS school was founded by William Radcliffe about the year 1500, who endowed the same with certain lands, &c. the whole of the rents of which he directed should be paid to the Schoolmaster: the estates now produce upwards of 300*l.* per annum. The school is open not only to all boys of the town of Stamford, but also of the adjacent villages, free of expense.

FELLOWSHIPS and SCHOLARSHIPS.

In 1613, Thomas Cecil, Earl of Exeter, by indenture, gave a yearly rent of 108*l.* to the Master, Fellows, and Scholars of Clare Hall, Cambridge, for founding three fellowships and eight scholarships; the three fellows to be called “the Earl of Exeter his fellows,” and not to be under the degree of B.A. at the time of their admission; and six of the scholars to be called “the Earl of Exeter his scholars;” and the other two to be called “the Lady Dorothy, Countess of Exeter, her scholars ;” and upon condition, that, as often as any of the three fellowships or eight scholarships became void during the life of the said Earl or his son, he or his son should nominate and appoint to the said Master and Fellows of Clare Hall, a meet person for every such of the said fellowships or scholarships as should then be void ; and that after the death of the Earl and his eldest son, when any of the scholarships became void, it was agreed that the Master, Fellows, and Scholars of Clare Hall, in their nomination and election of new scholars into the said scholarships which so shall be void, shall principally prefer such persons of the said University as formerly have been taught and instructed in the school of Stamford, in the county of Lincoln, if in respect of their learning and honest conversation they shall be found as fit and able as others which shall be competitors with them for the said scholarship. These fellowships have been much increased in value by the Master and Fellows of Clare Hall. Lord Exeter’s scholarships are 2*l.* per week ; and those of Lady Exeter’s are 1*l.* 6*s.* per week.

Mr. Thomas Truesdale, by will in 1700, vested 50*l.* in the hands of the Corporation of Stamford, for free-born scholars belonging to the free school, going directly from thence to the University, who pay five per cent. interest for the same.

every such scholar should receive the same for four years together, remaining there and demeaning himself well, to be accounted from the time of the first payment after he should be placed in either of the Universities ; and at the end of the four years, then to pay to two other poor scholars, of like nature and quality, the like sum of 12*l.* per annum, for four years ; and so from four years to four years, to continue constantly for evermore ; and that none of the said scholars should have the said allowance longer than four years, unless upon some special cause or urgent occasion, to be allowed by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the said corporation, or when no other is fit to be made choice of ; and that they might not exceed the number of six years at the most ; such scholars to be chosen out of the grammar school aforesaid.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Rev. William Lucy, D.D. by will, dated the 28th January, 1723, gave to St. Mary Magdalen Hall, in Ox*ford*, the sum of 2,000*l.* to be gradually raised out of his several estates in Warwick, or elsewhere; and his will was, that the yearly interest of that sum should go towards the education of four young gentlemen for eight years, from their first admission as members of the University, and no longer, and that they should during that time take their degrees of Bachelor and Master of Arts, as soon as they were of proper standing, and had qualified themselves for those degrees: his will further was, that that benefaction (which should be distinguished by the name of Lucy's Scholarships) should be confined to such children as should have had their education (three years at least before they should go to Oxford) at Hampton Lucy school, in Warwickshire, the nearest relatives to the family of the Lucies to be first preferred, if of equal learning with the rest of the children in the said school; and if any children should come out of Somersetshire to the said school, preference to be always given to those who should come out of the parish of Hilton, in that county; and his will was, that one of the four scholars to be elected should be a native of the county last mentioned.

As there are not now, nor have for many years been, any classical scholars educated at this school, none such have of course availed themselves of these scholarships; but it has occurred, that boys educated elsewhere have been brought to the school for examination as to their fitness, and appointed to the scholarships by the College.

The Rev. William Rogers, of Warwick, founded a scholarship at Hertford College, Oxford, in 1749, for a boy from this school; but upon the dissolution of that College, this endowment escheated to the Crown.

Warwick.

MASTER, Rev. GEORGE INNES, M.A.

THIS school was founded by Henry VIII.; and he gave certain lands for the support of the same, and other purposes, to the Corporation of Warwick; now producing nearly 2,800*l.* per annum. Open to all boys resident in Warwick: on entrance required to pay 1*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.*, and 5*s.* every half-year.

EXHIBITIONS.

Fulk Weale, of Warwick, woollen-draper, by will, dated 1st of February, 1729, gave and bequeathed, after payment of his debts, legacies, and funeral expenses, all the residue of his personal estate to certain Trustees, and directed that the same should be placed at interest in the names of his Trustees, until a convenient purchase of lands of inheritance could be met with; and that the said money, with the interest thereof, should be laid out in the purchase of lands of inheritance within two years after his decease, or as soon after as possible, which lands should be settled by the said Trustees upon such a number of Trustees as the major part of them should in their discretion, or by the advice of counsel, deem necessary, to the end and intent that the clear yearly profits of such lands should be applied towards the maintenance and education of two young men at a time, natives of the town of Warwick, and in default of such natives, then to one or two other boys, in some of the Colleges at Oxford, for the space of seven years; which said young men should from time to time be such as should be bred up in the free school at Warwick till they arrive at the age of seventeen years, and as should be qualified and recommended fit to be sent to the University, and approved of as so qualified by the Trustees; and in case of the death of either of the said young men in the said seven years, then for the use and benefit of such other young man so qualified as the Trustees should send in his room, so that each young man should receive the benefit of half the clear profits of the estate for the space of seven years in the said University, and no longer; and then two other young men to be sent from the said school so qualified and approved of as aforesaid for other seven years, and so for ever; and he desired that a preference might be given to any relations of his own duly qualified.

The residue amounted to upwards of 2,000*l.*; with which sum two estates were purchased, one at Hampton Curlieu, and the other at Langley, both in this county. The exhibitions are of the annual value, at present, of 70*l.* per annum; but an addition is likely to be made in consequence of an increase in the rents, as the Trustees have recently expended a large sum in repairs on the two estates; so that the farm at Hampton Curlieu, for the future, will be let at 110*l.*, and that at Langley at 100*l.* per annum.

The exhibitioners have always been qualified by passing some period of their education, immediately previous to their attaining the age of seventeen, at this school, but it sometimes happens that this portion of time has not been of long duration.

The exhibitioners appointed are required by the Trustees to produce certificates of their baptism, ascertaining that they have attained the age of seventeen years while at the school; they are considered ineligible if within that age, or if, after having attained it, they have quitted the school before applying for the appointment.

It is further required that the exhibitor should enter upon the receipt of his exhibition only from the day of his commencing his residence at a College or Hall in Oxford, and that the exhibition should determine in seven years from the date of the order; and a certificate is further required from the head of the College at which the candidate enters, of his having so commenced residence.

This school is also entitled, in default of applicants at Combroke School, to the exhibition bequeathed by Lady Tryphena Verney.

Appleby.

MASTER, Rev. WILLIAM THOMPSON.

THIS school was founded and incorporated by letters patent in 1574 by Queen Elizabeth, on the petition of the inhabitants of the borough of Appleby. The school is open to the children of the inhabitants of the borough, upon the payment of 2s. 6d. a quarter to the Master.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

Five, at Queen's College, Oxford, founded by Thomas, Earl of Thanet, in 1720, who gave 1,000*l.* to that College, on condition of their paying 40*l.* a-year to five poor scholars educated at this school, provided they are natives of Westmoreland.

This school is entitled to participate in the five valuable exhibitions of 60*l.* per annum, on the foundation of Lady Elizabeth Hastings, at Queen's College, Oxford; (detailed hereafter).

Heversham.

MASTER, Rev. GEORGE WILSON.

EDWARD WILSON, in 1619, in order to increase, maintain, and continue religion, good learning, and discipline, in the parish of Heversham, by the help of a good school, conveyed to four Trustees certain property for the sustentation of the same. All boys of the parish are admissible into the school.

EXHIBITIONS.

The same benevolent founder, by will, dated 19th December, 1652, charged upon tythes at Leck, in the parish of Tunstall in this county, belonging to him, two sums of 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* a-piece yearly, to be paid each unto Queen's College, Oxford, and Trinity College, Cambridge, for the maintenance of two poor scholars one at each College, one of which scholars he appointed should be taught at and sent to the University from Heversham School, by him formerly founded and furnished with maintenance, and not any other school whatever; and that the said scholars should be poor men's sons, whose fathers should not be able to allow them competent maintenance, and that they should be nominated to the said Colleges by the said Thomas Wilson, and his heirs male, or in his or their default, by the several Colleges; the said yearly payments to be given to them for four years next after their going from school, and no longer, unless there should be wanting other young scholars, in which case the payments might continue for two years longer, unless another should be qualified for the place sooner; but none to be capable to receive the same longer than they were admitted to the degree of Master of Arts; and in case none should be qualified, he directed the said pensions to be employed yearly for the maintenance of poor scholars at Heversham School, till they should be fit to send to College.

In consequence of Mr. Wilson's executors not paying these exhibitions, application was made to the Court of Chancery on the subject; and by two several decrees, viz., of December, 1672, and October, 1696, the executors had to pay all arrears, which led to a very considerable augmentation of the exhibitions. The consequence is, that now the sum of 106*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* is annually divided between two exhibitioners from this school; one at Queen's College, Oxford, and the other at Trinity College, Cambridge. For the last nine years, at least, there have been always two exhibitioners enjoying this charity. If no new exhibitioner offers at the end of four years, the old one continues it for two years longer; but there is only one instance of an exhibitioner keeping it a fifth year during the last ten years. The exhibitioners are nominated by Daniel Wilson, Esq., of Dallam Tower, the heir of Edward Wilson the donor.

This school is also entitled to participate in Lady Elizabeth Hastings's exhibitions: particulars hereafter detailed.

The Rev. Thomas Milner, Vicar of Bexhill, Sussex, by will, dated 1722, gave to Magdalen College, Cambridge, 1,000*l.* for the maintenance of three scholars, tenable till they take their Master of Arts degree, from this school and those of Halifax and Leeds. To this sum was added 200*l.* by his sister, to be applied by the College for the same purpose. Value, about 20*l.* per annum each.

Queen's College, Oxford, have at their disposal two exhibitions of the annual value each of 4*l.*, for two scholars from this school, on the foundation of a Mr. Rigg.

Kendal.

MASTER, Rev. WILLIAM THOMPSON.

THIS school was founded by Adam Pennyngton, of Boston, Lincolnshire, in 1535. The school is strictly classical: open to all boys from whatever quarter they come. The endowment is but small.

EXHIBITIONS.

There are three exhibitions of 5*l.* a-year each for scholars going from this school to Queen's College, Oxford, payable out of the Farleton tithes, by the will of Henry Wilson, in 1638. (See KIRKBY LONSDALE SCHOOL.) These are in the gift of the College.

An exhibition of 8*l.* a-year, paid by the Chamber of Kendal, to a scholar from this school going to the same College. The Corporation of Kendal appoint the scholar, and there is always an exhibitioner receiving this stipend. It is continued to the same person for four years.

Mr. Henry Park, Alderman, by his will, dated 8th April, 1631, gave to the Aldermen of Kendal 100*l.*, upon trust, that the interest thereof be given to a poor scholar from Kendal School to Oxford, (without mentioning any College,) for four years. The said scholar to be of the parish of Kendal, Millom, (in Cumberland,) or Heversham.

Mr. Joseph Smith gave 20*s.* a-year for a poor boy from the said school to Queen's College, Oxford, to be paid by the Mayor and Aldermen; and

Mr. Jopson gave an exhibition of 40*s.* a-year to a boy going from Kendal School to the said College.

Kirkby Lonsdale.

MASTER, Rev. J. DOBSON.

A MR. GODSHALFE gave, in 1587, to certain Trustees 100*l.* towards a free grammar school, to be had and erected at Kirkby Lonsdale; and in 1591, by the aid of other benefactors, a rent-charge of 20*l.* a-year was purchased as the endowment of this school. All boys in the town and neighbourhood are admitted into the school by the Master, free of expense, for classical instruction.

EXHIBITIONS.

Henry Wilson, by will, dated November, 1638, devised the tithes of Farleton, in the parish of Beetham, which he directed should be collected by the Mayor and Aldermen of Kendal, and the Governors of this school, upon trust, to pay thereout 35*l.* yearly, to Queen's College, Oxford, for seven poor scholars there—four from Kirkby Lonsdale, and three from Kendal School.

This school is entitled to the benefit of three scholarships, of 5*l.* per annum each, at Christ College, Cambridge, founded by the Rev. Thomas Wilson, by will, dated 9th August, 1626; for which purpose he gave to the Master and Fellows of that College 200*l.*, for the purchase of lands to be so expended.

Three other scholarships, at the same College, founded by the will of Thomas Otway, Bishop of Ossory, who died in 1692.

Kirkby Stephen.

MASTER, Mr. HESLOP.

THOMAS, LORD WHARTON, obtained letters patent in the eighth of Queen Elizabeth (1586) to found a grammar school in this parish, and endowed the same with a house and garden, and a rent-charge of 12*l.* per annum on the rectorial tithes of the parish of Winton. Out of this endowment he directed there should be paid two of 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* each, for two scholars from this school at either University, tenable for seven years. These exhibitions not having been applied for, for many years, the same have been left to accumulate; and in 1822 the Governors of the school were in possession of 200*l.*, applicable for this purpose, with which they purchased a small freehold in the parish; and it is the intention of the Governors to allow these exhibitions to accumulate, until proper persons apply for the same.

This school is entitled to an exhibition of 5*l.* at St. John's College, Cambridge, for a scholar, born in the parish of Kirkby Stephen, and educated at this school; and in default of any scholar from this school, one to be taken from Appleby School: on the foundation of the Rev. Mr. Knewstubb.

Beverley.

MASTER, Rev. G. P. RICHARDS, M.A.

A GRAMMAR SCHOOL has existed in Beverley for a very considerable length of time, but no satisfactory account can be obtained of its origin and foundation. As far back as can be traced, it has been a free school, for the instruction of the sons of the Burgesses in grammar learning. The endowment of the school is trifling.

FELLOWSHIPS and SCHOLARSHIPS.

Robert Metcalfe, D.D. by will, dated 9th October, 1652, reciting that he had purchased a farm, situate in Gilden Morden, Cambridgeshire, with 101 acres of arable land, and seven acres and a half of pasture, with the appurtenances, yielding the yearly rent of 47*l.*, gave and bequeathed the said farm with the appurtenances, to the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the town of Beverley, and their successors for ever, in trust, that they should employ the yearly rent of the said farm, namely, to pay yearly for ever unto the Preacher or Lecturer of the said town of Beverley, and his successors, the sum of 10*l.*, and to the Schoolmaster and his successors in like manner, the sum of 10*l.*, and to pay 20*l.* yearly for ever unto three poor scholars of the school of Beverley, commonly called the Free School, naturally born in the said town, for their better maintenance at the University, to every one of them 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*, the said scholars to be appointed and approved from time to time by the said Mayor, &c., and by the Lecturer and Schoolmaster, and their successors; and the said maintenance to be continued to every of the poor scholars until they should have taken the degree of Master of Arts, if they so long continued students at the University, and upon condition that they should take the said degree at the due time, within eight years after their admission into the University.

William Coates, by will, dated the 5th November, 1681, bequeathed to the Mayor, Governors, and Burgesses of Beverley, 100*l.* upon trust, yearly, to pay unto a poor scholar born in the parish of St. Mary, and to be sent from the grammar school of the said town to the University of Cambridge, the sum of 6*l.* for his better maintenance at the said University, such scholar to be nominated by the Mayor, Governors, and Burgesses; and the said yearly payment to be paid to such scholar until he take the degree of Master of Arts, according to the statutes of the College whereof he should be admitted, if he should so long continue there; but the testator willed, that the scholar to be nominated, should not have the benefit of that gift, if he should be the son of any parent at such nomination, who should be reputed able to maintain such scholar at the said University at his own costs and charges.

The legacy was received by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses; and as interest thereof, they pay 6*l.* a-year, which is given as an exhibition to a scholar at Cambridge, brought up at this grammar school.

In pursuance of the will of William Lacie, D.D. dated 7th September, 1670, and in consideration of 350*l.* paid by his executrix, as thereby directed, an annuity of 16*l.* was charged by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses, by indenture, dated 26th June, 1688, made between the said Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses, of the one part, and Michael Warton, and four others, of the other part, on certain closes at Beverley, called Gyles's Crofts, upon trust, that the said Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses should pay to two scholars born at Beverley, and educated at the free school there, and sent from thence to the University of Cambridge, and entered students at St. John's College, 8*l.* a-piece yearly, till they should go out Masters of Arts, provided they go out Masters of Arts within eight years after their admission, and so successively to such two scholars as should be sent from the said free school, for ever.

John Green, Bishop of Lincoln, by his will, bearing date 17th August, 1778, bequeathed to the Mayor and corporation of the town of Beverley, and to their successors, 1,000*l.* three per cent. consols, in trust, out of the dividends to arise therefrom, to pay the yearly sum of 10*l.* as an exhibition for the benefit of such scholar, the son of a freeman of Beverley, as the Mayor and corporation of Beverley should from time to time nominate and appoint, to be sent from the free school there, to Corpus Christi or St. John's Colleges, in Cambridge, and who should have been educated at the said school at least three years immediately preceding such nomination; and he directed, that the said exhibition should be continued to be paid to such scholar for seven years after his admission into either of the said Colleges, if he should so long live, and continue a member thereof, or until he should be of sufficient standing to take the degree of A.M., upon condition, nevertheless, that such scholar should proceed regularly to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and after that time should continue to reside in one of the said Colleges for two months at the least in every succeeding year, during the time above specified, and after such exhibitioner should have enjoyed the benefit of the exhibition for the term of seven years, or in case of his death, or of his ceasing to be a member of either of the said Colleges within that time, and before he were of sufficient standing to take the degree of Master of Arts, or should lose the benefit of that his will, by not residing within the College of which he was a member, after taking the degree of B.A., then the Mayor and corporation should nominate and appoint another scholar, sent off from the said school, qualified as aforesaid, to succeed to the said exhibition, and who should enjoy the same for the like term, and upon the like conditions, and so upon any future vacancy; and if in case of any vacancy, there should be no such person ready to offer himself, or who should be judged by the Mayor and corporation not to be a proper candidate for such exhibition, then he willed and directed, that all arrears of the said 10*l.* which should accrue, until a person qualified as aforesaid should be found, or during any vacancy, should be paid to the person next offering himself, and who should be chosen, over and above the said 10*l.* a-year, as an augmentation thereof.

It is the practice of the corporation when there has been no scholar, to allow the 10*l.* a-year to accumulate, and pay the accumulation to the scholar next appointed to receive the exhibition, and about 80*l.* was paid, as the amount of accumulations, in 1819, to an exhibitor then appointed.

Margaret Ferrers, by will, dated 18th August, 1669, devised unto George Saville and Samuel Royle, the sum of 150*l.*, upon trust, that they and the survivor of them, should, after her decease, lay out and dispose of the same in purchasing lands in the names of such persons, as the Mayor and Aldermen of the town of Beverley should nominate and appoint, upon trust, to employ and dispose of the rents and profits to the following purposes ; viz. to pay 5*s.* a-piece to twelve poor women yearly, 20*s.* for preaching a sermon yearly, and 40*s.* for the schooling of a boy, a child of some honest person, an inhabitant of the said town, to be chosen by the Mayor and Aldermen : and the residue of the rents and profits to be kept for the benefit of such boy, if he should be capable and fit to be sent to the University ; and she further directed, that the said whole residue of the said rents and profits towards his maintenance at the said University, should be for seven years, if he should not in the mean time get some better preferment ; and if such boy should not, by the Master of the said school, be thought fit and capable to be sent to the University, another should be chosen in his place, and have the same allowance by the Mayor and Aldermen ; and she directed, that when there should be but two of the Trustees living, they should convey over the lands so to be purchased to the use of themselves and eight other sufficient persons, inhabitants of the said town, and their heirs, to be nominated by the Mayor and Aldermen from time to time, that her said charitable gift might have continuance for ever.

Land was purchased agreeably to the will of Mrs. Ferrers; but there appears to be some matters in dispute with the Corporation of Beverley, who are in possession of the estate, under the impression that a rent-charge of 9*l.* per annum was only payable out of the same for the purposes of Mrs. Ferrers' will. The matter is in train for an amicable adjustment, and it is expected that there will be a considerable residue for the exhibition to the University.

Margaret Darcey, by will, dated 14th April, 1626, bequeathed the sum of 40*l.* to the use of the parish of St. Mary, Beverley, the interest thereof to be given for the maintenance of poor scholars at the University, or towards binding poor children of the said parish, apprentices; and if no need of such purpose, to be added to the 40*l.* to increase the stock for the said use. Four pounds a-year is paid on account of this benefaction, as an exhibition to a scholar at St. John's College, Cambridge, from the town of Beverley.

A fellowship, at St. John's College, Cambridge, for a person born in Beverley and educated at this school, on the foundation of a Lady Rokeby: to be in Priests' orders at his election, or within six months afterwards.

Another fellowship, at the same College, on the foundation of a Mr. Halitreholme, for a person born in Beverley and educated at this school: to be in Priests' orders at his election, or within a twelvemonth afterwards.

Bowes.

MASTER,

THIS school was founded by William Hutchinson, Esq., of Clement's Inn, London, in 1693: the school, however, since the year 1813, has been conducted as a charity school on the national system; but this school is entitled to a

SCHOLARSHIP,

at Pembroke College, Cambridge, of the annual value of 40*l.*, founded by the Rev. Charles Parkyn, formerly Rector of Oxburgh, Norfolk, for a scholar educated at the free school of Bowes. The same benevolent founder established six similar scholarships at Pembroke College, for superannuated scholars at Merchant Taylors School. (Vide p. 120.)

Bradford.

MASTER, Rev. SAMUEL SLACK, M.A.

THIS school is supposed to have been founded in the reign of Edward the Sixth, and is well endowed. The management of the school is vested in thirteen Governors, consisting of individuals of respectability, resident in the town and neighbourhood; and is open to all boys of the parish, free of expense.

EXHIBITION.

This is one of the schools entitled to send a candidate for one of the exhibitions of Lady Elizabeth Hastings. (Particulars hereafter detailed.)

Doncaster.

MASTER, Rev. L. J. HOBSON.

THIS school was founded by the Corporation of Doncaster, and the sons of freemen are entitled to a classical education here, free of expense.

SCHOLARSHIP.

One, at Jesus College, Cambridge, of 10*l.* per annum, from either this or from Arksey Schools.

Giggleswick.

MASTER, Rev. ROWLAND INGRAM, B.D.

THIS school was founded and well endowed (producing now, at least, 1,000*l.* per annum) by King Edward the Sixth, in the seventh year of his reign. The Head Master's salary is 510*l.* per annum. The school is free for instruction in classical learning to all boys for whose admission application is made, the charter containing no restriction as to residence or place.

EXHIBITIONS.

William Clapham, by will, dated 5th July, 1603, devised to the Governors of the free school in Giggleswick, to the use of the said school, the advowson of the churches and rectories of Fulmodeston, Croxton, and Kettlestone, in the county of Norfolk, and the yearly pension payable out of them of 4*l.*; and he willed that 4*l.* thereof should be yearly employed towards maintaining a poor scholar of the said school, being of the parish of Giggleswick or Clapham, to be appointed by the Governors, in some College in Cambridge, to have the said yearly allowance of 4*l.* for seven years, if he should continue at Cambridge so long, provided that such scholar should be one of the Clapham's or Claphamson's, if there should be one of those names fit for the same.

Henry Tennant, by deed, dated 29th June, 1604, granted to the Governors of the school 100*l.*, upon trust, to purchase therewith lands or a rent-charge in their names, to the intent that the yearly revenues and profits thereof should be employed towards maintaining a scholar in the University of Cambridge, born within the parish of Giggleswick, and brought up at the free grammar school, to be elected by the Master and Governors, or the major part of them, and to have such allowance, until of standing to take the degree of Master of Arts, if such scholar should abide in the University so long; but if he should die or remove, then the said yearly revenues and profits should be employed for the maintenance of another scholar, born and brought up, and elected in the same manner, and so on from time to time.

The said Henry Tennant, by his will, dated 5th July, 1604, devised to the Governors his lands and hereditaments in Settle and Settlefield, of the ancient yearly rent of 5s. towards obtaining an exhibition for a poor scholar or sizar in some College in Cambridge, until he should be Bachelor of Arts; such scholar to be born within the parish of Giggleswick, and brought up in the school there, and to be elected by the Master and Governors of the school, or the major part of them.

The advowsons of the rectories in Norfolk, and the yearly pension of 4*l.* issuing out of the same, were sold and conveyed by indenture of bargain and sale of 20th June, 1604, by the Governors to Simon Paycock and Robert Claphamson, clerk, in consideration of 100 marks, as well as the estate in Settle and Settlefield; and the only sum now accruing from these bequests and gift, is 14*l.* 13s. 4*d.* per annum.

Josias Shute, of Settle, by will, dated 30th June, 1642, devised certain parcels of land in the parish of Giggleswick, called Eshton Close, Capplerigg's Close, and Huntwait Fields, to the Governors of the free school of Giggles- wick, among other purposes, to pay 5*l.* a-year for maintaining a poor scholar of the parish in either of the Universities, till he should be Master of Arts, if he should continue there so long.

The sum of 5*l.* a-year is paid out of the rent of the land devised towards an exhibition, as directed by the will.

In consequence of the exhibitions not having been uniformly called for, there has been an accumulation of income, which has been invested in the purchase of stock now amounting to 462*l.* New Four per Cents, standing in the names of some of the Governors, which produces an annual dividend of 18*l.* 9*s.* 7*d.*

The several annual sums above mentioned, together with 3*s.* 6*d.* a-year, being a rent-charge on a close at Langcliffe in the parish of Giggleswick, the property of John Green Paley, Esq., are paid to a student at the University, being a native of the parish of Giggleswick or Clapham, and who has been a scholar for not less than one year at Giggleswick School. The exhibition is paid for seven years to the same student, and is accumulated during vacancies.

There are six scholarships at Christ College, Cambridge, for persons educated at this school.

Halifax.

MASTER, Rev. R. WILKINSON, B.D.

THIS school was founded in 1585, and a charter obtained from Queen Elizabeth, on the petition of the Vicar and other inhabitants of Halifax. The school is open as a grammar school to all boys of the parish, free of expense.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

This school is entitled, with those of Heversham and Leeds, to the three scholarships founded by the Rev. Thomas Milner, at Magdalen College, Cambridge, and increased by his sister. (See HEVERSHAM SCHOOL.)

Halsham.

MASTER,

THIS school was founded by Sir John Constable, of Kirkby Knowle, in the county of York, Knight, as a free school for eight poor scholars, and a hospital for eight poor men and two poor women. The endowment consists of a yearly rent-charge of 80*l*.

EXHIBITIONS.

It appears from an inquisition, dated the 2d of August, 1672, taken under a commission of charitable uses, from the decree of the Commissioners, and from a deed for appointment of new Trustees, dated the 7th of May, 1688, that Dame Catherine Constable, by her will, dated the 4th of August, 1590, gave the sum of 10*l.* yearly, for ever, for the maintenance of a scholar to be sent from Halsham School to Trinity College, Oxford, and to receive the exhibition for seven years, such annual payment to be issuing out of her portion of tithes in Baldersby, in the county of York; that the Mayor of Hedon and Parson or Rector of Halsham respectively for the time being, Christopher Hildyard, of York, Christopher Hildyard, of Hull, Esquires, and Christopher Carter, of York, Gentleman, were decreed and appointed to be Trustees for receiving and disposing of the said yearly rent of 10*l.*, and electing the scholar and scholars to receive the same; and that upon the decease of Christopher Hildyard, of Hull, and Christopher Carter, the surviving Trustees nominated two other persons to be Trustees in their place.

It is understood, that the portion of tithes charged with the yearly sum of 10*l.* is now the property of Lord Grantham; but no scholar has ever been sent from Halsham School to Trinity College, Oxford, and the exhibition has never been either received or called for.

Ann Watson, by will, dated the 27th October, 1720, devised all her farms, farm houses, lands, and tenements, to her Trustees therein named, and the inheritance and reversion thereof to the Minister and Churchwardens of Sutton Hedon and St. Trinity's, in Kingston-upon-Hull, and their successors, Ministers and Churchwardens of Sutton, Minister of Hedon, and Minister of St. Trinity's in Hull, upon trust, that after her death the rents and profits of her said lands should be applied for various purposes, and amongst the rest she gave towards the maintenance of a scholar at some College in Oxford, provided he should have been educated at and sent from Halsham School in Holderness, and have the exhibition left by the Lady Catherine Constable, towards the maintenance of a scholar in Oxford, sent from the said school, the yearly sum of 5*l.* for the like time Lady Constable's exhibition was or ought to be paid, for his maintenance. This exhibition has never been applied for, and in consequence has been expended on the other trusts mentioned in the testatrix's will.

Hartforth School,

IN THE PARISH OF GILLING.

MASTER,

THE only documentary evidence of the endowment of this charity, now known to exist, is contained in a manuscript statement found amongst the papers of the late Sheldon Cradock, Esq, the last Trustee, from which it appears, that this school was founded anno 1678, by Sir Thomas Wharton, of Edlington, Knight of the Bath, as a free school for thirty poor scholars inhabiting in Hartforth, Gilling, Aske, Skeeby, Melsonby, Layton, and Carkin, and that the endowment consisted of a school-house and buildings erected for that purpose, two roods and twenty perches of land in Hartforth, and a farmhold in West Rounton, which had been conveyed to Trustees, on trust, to pay 20*l.* per annum to the Master the 1st of January and 1st July, every year, and 15*l.* yearly, viz. 10*l.* yearly for putting out two poor boys apprentices, and the other 5*l.* to a poor who should go from that school to either University, till Bachelor of Arts, provided he was not absent a month in a-year; and in case no poor scholar went from that school to the University, then the Trustees (or any five or more of them) were to employ the 5*l.* for putting out another apprentice, and so to be continued till there happened a poor boy to go to the University. No application has ever been made for this scholarship.

Hemsworth.

MASTER, Rev. JOHN SIMPSON.

THIS school was founded in 1546 by Robert Holgate, Archbishop of York, and is open to the inhabitants of the place.

SCHOLARSHIP.

The Rev. John Thurleston founded at St. John's College, Cambridge, a scholarship for a native of the parishes of Wakefield, Falkirk, or Hemsworth; and directed that a preference should be given to those educated at least for three years at Hemsworth School.

Kingston-upon-Hull.

MASTER, Rev. W. WILSON.

THIS school was founded by John Alcock, successively Bishop of Rochester, Worcester, and Ely, in 1486: the endowment small; open to all sons of Burgesses, as a classical school.

EXHIBITIONS.

Thomas Ferries, by will, 1690, devised to the Mayor and Burgesses of Kingston-upon-Hull, and their successors, his messuages, with the appurtenances, in the High Street of Hull, to the end that they should pay out of the same yearly, to the poor people of that town, at Christmas time, 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* for ever, and 20*s.* yearly, for ever, to the poor of Howden, at the same time, and give and pay the rest of the rents and revenues of the said messuage, with the appurtenances, (charges of repairs deducted,) for and towards the yearly maintenance of a poor scholar of the town of Kingston-upon-Hull, at the University of Cambridge or Oxford, from time to time, for ever; and in default of such poor scholar, or when there should be none such, then for such poor scholar of the town next adjoining, at the discretion of the Mayor and Aldermen of Hull for the time being, or most part of them.

Thomas Bury, of Hull, scrivener, by will, dated 8th June, 1627, gave his estate, in Scale Lane, Hull, after the determination of two lives, to the Mayor and Burgesses of Hull, the rents of the same (repairs deducted) to be bestowed upon some poor scholar, apt to learn, born within the town of Kingston-upon-Hull, or the town of Beverley, in the county of York, whose friends should not be able to maintain them at school; and that when any such poor child should be fit for Cambridge, then that the said Mayor and Burgesses should bestow the rent of the said tenement upon such poor scholar of Hull or Beverley, as they in their discretion should think fit, for his better exhibition and maintenance in learning in some of the Colleges or Halls in the University of Cambridge; and that his gift should remain and stand good from one poor scholar to another for ever, without fraud or guile.

These charities have for a long time past been consolidated and administered together as one.

Pursuant to the direction of Ferries's will, the annual sum of 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* is yearly distributed among poor persons of Hull, under the authority of the Mayor for the time being, and 1*l.* per annum is paid for distribution among the poor of Howden, to the Churchwardens of that place.

An annual sum (at present 40*l.*) is paid as an exhibition to a poor scholar of the town of Hull, at the University of Cambridge, the exhibition being continued to each scholar in succession for three years. The exhibitioners are chosen by the Mayor and Aldermen of Hull. There are sometimes three or four candidates; at the last election there was but one.

The annual exhibitions since 1798 have been usually 40*l.* per annum; in some few instances 50*l.*, and in one 70*l.*, larger sums being given when the surplus funds remaining in hand admit of the same.

Alexander Metcalfe founded one scholarship of 12*s.* 9*d.* per week, at Clare Hall, Cambridge, for a scholar from Kingston-upon-Hull.

Leeds.

MASTER, Rev. GEORGE WALKER, M.A.

THIS school was founded in 1552, and is splendidly endowed. The Master's salary is 510*l.* per annum. The school is open to all boys of the town of Leeds, free of expense, for a classical education.

EXHIBITIONS.

This school is entitled to send a candidate for one of Lady Elizabeth Hastings's exhibitions (detailed hereafter); and is also entitled, with the schools of Heversham and Halifax, to the three scholarships founded by the Rev. Thomas Milner, (and increased by his sister,) at Magdalen College, Cambridge.

Northallerton.

MASTER, Rev. JAMES WILKINSON.

THE date of the foundation of this school is involved in some obscurity. The endowment is small; and it is now used only as a parochial charity school.

EXHIBITIONS.

This school is entitled, in case of failure from Durham School, to five scholarships at Peterhouse, Cambridge, founded by John Cosins, D.D. Bishop of Durham.

John Kettlewell conveyed, in March, 1694, to the Vicar and two substantial inhabitants of Northallerton and Brompton, a messuage and farm, commonly called Low-fields, and all his lands and hereditaments belonging thereunto, with their appurtenances, containing, by estimation, eighty acres, situate within the township of Brompton and parish of Northallerton, now producing a rental of 60*l.*; and desiring the said Vicar and the two inhabitants of the parish, to apply the proceeds for various charitable purposes; but he further directed his Trustees and their successors, that if it should happen that there were any youth of either of the said townships of piety, parts, and good improvements in school learning, whose friends were not able of themselves to maintain him at either of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, but who might be educated there by the help of such a sum yearly as that charity might supply, the said Minister and Trustees when they should see cause, should employ part, or the whole, as need should be, of the yearly rent and profits of the said premises towards the maintenance of such youth at either of the aforesaid Universities, for the full space of four years, and no longer. And for preserving the said trusts, it was declared, that the two inhabitants to be appointed for the execution of the trust as aforesaid, should be chosen by the major part of the surviving Trustees from the substantial inhabitants of Northallerton and Brompton, one out of each township.

The charity has continued under the management of the Vicar for the time being, and two substantial inhabitants, one from each of the townships of Northallerton and Brompton, chosen from time to time as the deed directs.

No part of the income has ever been applied towards the maintenance of a scholar at either of the Universities. Mr. Kettlewell, who was a very eminent divine, was educated at this school.

Pocklington.

MASTER, Rev. THOMAS SHIELD, B.D.

THIS school was founded and well endowed by John Dowman, LL.D., Archdeacon of Suffolk, and Canon Residentiary of St. Paul's, in the sixth year of the reign of Henry the Eighth. The Master and Usher of the school are a body corporate, and the Master has the sole controul of the estates belonging to the school; the revenue of which, now amounts to at least 900*l.* per annum; after paying 200*l.* a-year to the Usher, he retains the residue to his own use.

The mastership of the school is in the appointment of the Master and senior Fellows of St. John's College, Cambridge; the Master of which College is the Visitor of the school.

From the minutes of evidence before the Select Committee of the House of Commons, in 1818, it appears that at that period the school had so dwindled, as to have but one scholar! The school is open to all children resident in the town of Pocklington for a classical education.

EXHIBITIONS.

Dr. Dowman, the founder of this school, also established at St. John's College, Cambridge, five scholarships for scholars educated here, who have rooms found them, and various other emoluments.

Pontefract.

MASTER, Rev. E. L. BENWELL.

KING EDWARD THE SIXTH was the original founder of this school, about the year 1549, with a small endowment. The school is open to all boys of the town.

EXHIBITIONS.

This school is intitled upon certain conditions, (see NORMANTON SCHOOL,) to two Scholarships at Emanuel College, Cambridge, founded by John Frieston, of Altofts, in the county of York; and the same benevolent individual gave certain lands in the town of Pontefract to University College, Oxford, to pay out of the rents of the same 10*l.* per annum, as an exhibition, and 5*l.* per annum for two scholars from this school, with the addition of rooms, &c.

Richmond.

MASTER, Rev. JAMES TATE, M.A.

QUEEN ELIZABETH, by letters patent, in the ninth year of her reign, on the petition of the inhabitants of Richmond, founded a grammar school, for the education and instruction of boys and youths inhabiting therein, and appointed the Bailiffs of the town, the Governors of the same. The amount of the present rental of the estates is about 340*l.*, and the Master's salary is 310*l.*

EXHIBITIONS.

John Bathurst, M.D. by his will, dated April, 1659, devised all his messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, in the town and town fields of Richmond, in the county of York, to Trustees therein named, in such manner as therein set forth, charged, nevertheless, in such sort as they his said Trustees should think fit, with the payment of the sum of 12*l.* by the year, for ever, unto the Aldermen and Burgesses of Richmond for the time being, to be by them employed as followeth; that is to say, 8*l.* part thereof, towards the yearly maintenance of two poor scholars in the University of Cambridge, that should be found to be pious, virtuous, and competently learned, during their continuance at the University, until they were Masters of Arts ; but he directed it should cease to such as should discontinue above one quarter of a year together, or such as should be employed out of the University in any other calling or employment.

These exhibitions are stated to have been formerly given without reference to the place where the candidate was educated or had resided ; but the Trustees, considering this to be contrary to the Testator's intention, passed a resolution, in 1795, to confine the benefit of the charity to boys brought up as free scholars, at the grammar school in this town, and such only have since been appointed.

The scholars are elected by the Trustees, as vacancies in the exhibitions occur, and the children of poorer parents obtain a preference. They receive the benefit of any accumulations on the fund since the last vacancy, and when there is only one candidate he is allowed to enjoy both scholarships, receiving his appointment, however, only from year to year. The scholarships are seldom held by the same individual for more than three years, and become void on quitting the University, though otherwise tenable till M.A.

William Allen, L.L.D. Rector of Swanington, and Vicar of Wooddalling, Norfolk, by will, dated 1730, bequeathed his estate at Bures St. Mary, in Suffolk, and villages adjacent, to Trinity Hall, Cambridge, for the founding of two scholarships of 10*l.* per annum each, more or less ; his nearest kindred to have a preference to the said scholarships before all others ; for want of such, then two scholars from the free grammar school of Richmond ; in failure there, then two scholars from any school in Yorkshire ; again, in failure, then for two scholars from the Diocese of Norwich, or two scholars out of the town or county of Cambridge. These scholarships are worth now 17*l.* per annum, but the leases are on the eve of expiration, when it is more than probable a considerable addition will be made to them.

The Rev. Thomas Kay, Rector of Melsonby, near Richmond, by will, dated 1782, founded an exhibition of 30*l.* per annum, at Worcester College, Oxford, for a native of that part of the county, commonly called Richmondshire, if two candidates from thence offer themselves; if only one, then for a native of the county at large.

This school is entitled to send candidates for the exhibitions of Lady Elizabeth Hastings, at Queen's College, Oxford. (Detailed hereafter.)

Ripon.

MASTER, Rev. W. PLUES.

THIS school was founded and endowed by King Philip and Queen Mary, in 1555; ten individuals of respectability in the neighbourhood are the Governors of the same. The number of free scholars unlimited, and are educated free of expense.

EXHIBITIONS.

This school is entitled to send candidates for the exhibitions of Lady Elizabeth Hastings, at Queen's College, Oxford. (Detailed hereafter.)

Rishworth.

MASTER, Rev. R. YOUNGER.

EXHIBITIONS.

John Wheelwright, gentleman, by his will, dated the 14th day of October, 1724, devised all his messuages, lands, &c., in the county of York, and elsewhere, unto John Wheelwright and others, upon trust, to convert into a free school, and convenient apartments for the habitation of a Schoolmaster, a house the Testator had built at Dewsbury, in the county of York, for the teaching of two poor boys and girls there; and upon further trust, that the said Trustees should out of the Testator's personal estate apply the sum of 150*l.* for building a school at Rishworth, in the county of York, to contain twenty boys and girls; and should also out of his real estates pay the yearly sum of 40*l.* to a Schoolmaster, sufficiently skilled in the Latin and Greek languages, and of sound principles, according to the doctrine of the Church of England; the children to be chosen by the Trustees from amongst the poorest tenants living on any of the Testator's estates; and the Testator directed that so many of the said boys and girls as should not be elected of his said tenants' children, should be chosen by his Trustees out of the poor of the parish where the said school stood, the said Master to teach them to read and write, and to prepare as many of the boys for the Latin and Greek tongue, as the Trustees should judge to have capacities to learn the same; and he directed that his dwelling-house in Rishworth, should be made convenient, and so continued by the Trustees, for the lodging of the Schoolmaster, and also for the lodging, boarding, and entertaining of the twenty boys and girls. And he further directed, that one of the boys of the school that should be best capable of University education, which he thereby ordered, should, at the age of eighteen years, or so soon as he should have school-learning sufficient, be sent to Cambridge or Oxford, and should be there maintained by the Trustees out of his said estate, at the rate of 40*l.* per annum, for four years, and no longer; after the expiration of which four years, another boy should be sent upon the same footing as the former, and so to be continued one after another, for ever, all and every such boy and boys to be chosen by the Trustees, with the advice of the Head Schoolmaster for the time; and the Testator thereby bequeathed unto the said John Wheelwright and others, all his personal estate upon the trusts therein mentioned. In case of the non-performance of these trusts by his Trustees, and on complaint made, he authorized and empowered the Archbishop of York for the time being, to inquire into and rectify all and every such abuse or default, and to put the same again upon the footing thereby intended; and he ordered the clear yearly sum of 100*l.* to the person appointed to manage the several estates; and that whatever surplus might arise out of the real and personal estate, over and above the discharges of the several trusts, should go and be applied by the Trustees to the purchasing of lands, and that the profits thereof should always be applied to and for the better maintenance and support of the said twenty children, and to the enlarging of the number of scholars thereof, or for the sending of more of them to the University, as the said augmentation might allow of, in such manner as his said Trustees should think fit.

An information concerning this charity was filed in the Court of Chancery in the year 1816, among other things, praying that directions might be given for the future regulation of the charity, by increasing the allowances for the Master of Rishworth School, &c. &c.

By a report of the Master, on the 21st January, 1826, he appointed as Trustees John Wheelwright, Samuel Knight, and George Priestley, for the future management of this charity, and also reported that he found that the annual rents and profits of the charity-estates had been greatly increased since the decease of the Testator, and that the then rental of the charity-estates amounted to the annual sum of 1,939*l.* ; and that there was standing in the name of the Accountant-General, in trust, in the cause, in Bank 3*l.* per cent. Annuities, 7,476*l.* 7*s.* 9*d.*, and in cash, the sum of 1,521*l.* 10*s.* 1*d.* ; and he found that the school or building used as the school at Rishworth, was a large building, containing one room only, and also the house of the Master, &c. were in a very dilapidated state ; and under such circumstances, it was desirable that a new school and convenient building should be erected upon the site of the school, or on some other more convenient and eligible part of the charity-estates within the township of Rishworth, at the discretion of the Trustees ; he had thought fit to adopt and approve of the following as a proper scheme for the application of the surplus-funds, accumulations, and increased rents, in the augmentation and extension of the charities, according to the directions contained in the Testator's will, (that is to say) that there should be maintained at Rishworth, out of the trust-funds, two schools, to be conducted respectively upon the following plan (that is to say) ; the first as a preparatory school ; secondly, a grammar school, to consist of at first thirty boys, to be elected in the first instance by the Trustees, according to the directions of the will, and upon future vacancies to be selected from the boys at the preparatory school; and the Master further reported, that one should be selected every second year, and sent to one of the Colleges at Oxford or Cambridge, with an exhibition of 150*l.* a-year for four years: that upon the examination of the candidates for the University, to be conducted as thereafter provided, the Trustees should be at liberty to apply 100*l.* for the benefit of the boy who should appear next in merit to the successful candidate: that the salary of the Head Master should not exceed 200*l.*: that the Trustees should be at liberty to lay out a sum not exceeding 4,000*l.* under the direction of the Master, (to whom this cause was referred,) in the erection of a new school-house at Rishworth, with proper accommodation for the Master, &c. And that there should be appointed by the Archbishop of York for the time being, an able and sufficient person to examine in public, before the Trustees and the Master, all the boys in their respective classes once a-year, on the feast-day of St. John the Baptist, who should state in writing to the Archbishop, and to the Trustees, his unbiassed opinion of the progress of the boys, for which, and his expenses, he should receive 20*l.*, such examiner to be a graduate M.A., or higher, of Oxford or Cambridge: that the surplus-rents and profits should be invested to accumulate; and that such accumulations, with the balance of the funds in court, in trust in the cause, after payment of the costs of the suit, and the expenses of the school and buildings thereinbefore proposed to be erected, together with any increase in the rents, and from the sale of the timber, should go and be applied by the Trustees to the enlarging the number of boys in the school, or for the sending of more of them to the University, as the said augmentation might allow of, in such manner as the Trustees for the time being, or the majority of them, might think fit: that inasmuch as the Testator appeared to have intended to maintain a school-house and Schoolmaster at Dewsbury, the Trustees should be at liberty to expend a sum not exceeding 100*l.* a-year in maintaining the school-house there.

By an order made in the suit, dated the 24th May, 1826, it was ordered that the said Master's report be confirmed.

Rotherham.

MASTER, Rev. B. BIRKETT.

LAWRENCE WOODNETT, Esq. of Lincoln's Inn, in conjunction with Anthony Collins, Esq. of London, founded this school in 1584, and endowed the same with lands, &c. in and near Rotherham. The school is open to all boys of the town for classical instruction.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

This school, with certain restrictions, is entitled to two scholarships at Emanuel College, Cambridge, on the foundation of John Frieston, Esq. (See NORMANTON SCHOOL.)

Sedberg.

MASTER, Rev. H. WILKINSON.

THIS grammar school was originally founded by Dr. Roger Lupton, who endowed the same with the rents and revenues of the lands and possessions of a certain chauntry, called Lupton chauntry ; which lands, &c., fell into the hands of King Edward the Sixth, by reason of the Act for dissolving chauntries, &c. ; but on the petition of the inhabitants of Sedbergh to King Edward the Sixth to re-establish this school, his Majesty was pleased to accede to the wishes of the inhabitants, and ordered that there should be one Master and an Usher ; and His Majesty ordained that there should be within the town and parish of Sedbergh, twelve men of the more discreet and honest inhabitants of the said town, who should be called Governors of the possessions, revenues, and goods of the said school. The lands given for the purpose by King Edward VI., now produce a rental of about 500*l.* per annum ; the whole of which sum is given to the Master, who pays out of the same 100*l.* a-year to the Usher. The appointment to the mastership is vested in the Master and Fellows of St. John's College, Cambridge, who are the Visitors to the school. The school has always been maintained as a grammar school, free for all boys properly qualified to enter upon an education in grammatical learning, without restriction. This school has long been considered one of the principal grammar schools in the north of England.

FELLOWSHIPS and SCHOLARSHIPS.

Dr. Roger Lupton, the original founder of this school, founded two fellowships and eight scholarships at St. John's College, Cambridge, as appears from the deeds in the possession of the Governors, viz. “ And, after reciting, that in consideration of 1,000*l.* given by the said Roger Lupton, to the Master and Fellows and Scholars of the College of St. John the Evangelist in the University of Cambridge, it was agreed and consented between the said Roger Lupton and the said Master, Fellows, and Scholars, that the said Master, Fellows, and Scholars, among the rest of the statutes which by the executors of Margaret, Countess of Richmond and Derby, foundress of the same College, were ordained to be incorporated, should make certain statutes and ordinances for two fellows and eight scholars to be maintained in the same College, over and above the scholars instituted for the foundress aforesaid, and for other benefactors of the same College, which two fellows and eight scholars should come instructed from the grammar school of Sedbergh, founded as aforesaid by the said Roger Lupton, according to certain writings, covenants, and ordinances, in that particular made, by virtue of which the said Master, Fellows, and Scholars, had always theretofore maintained, and ought to maintain in the same College, two fellows and eight scholars coming instructed from the school of Sedberg; His Majesty therefore thereby ordained that the same two fellows and eight scholars to be maintained in the said College should thenceforth come instructed from the school in Sedbergh thereby erected, as they used to come and be elected from the school erected by the said Roger Lupton in Sedbergh.”

One fellowship and two scholarships at St. John's College, Cambridge, founded by Henry Hebblethawyte, citizen and draper of London; for the maintenance of poor and friendless scholars, especially such as shall come from Sedbergh grammar school. The fellow to be elected from such who is, or has been one of his scholars.

Francis Harrison left by will in 1619, to the Governors, the sum of 60*l.*, in trust, to apply the interest to the use of the scholars of the grammar school of Sedbergh, with a preference to his kindred, and in default of his kindred within five degrees, of the poorest of the scholars born in Sedbergh.

Posthumous Wharton left by will in 1710, 20*l.*, the interest thereof to be applied by the Governors towards maintaining a poor scholar, born within the parish and educated at Sedbergh School, at St. John's College, in Cambridge.

Richard Holmes, of Lowther, clerk, left by will in 1735, 100*l.*, in trust, to apply the yearly interest as an exhibition, towards the maintenance of some scholar of the poorer sort, being Sedbergh born, that should go from Sedbergh School to St. John's College, Cambridge, to be continued so long as the Governors should think fit.

The interest of the above three bequests is bestowed in a single exhibition on a student at one of the Universities, born and belonging to Sedbergh, and who has received his education at the grammar school. The exhibition is conferred by the Governors, on the Master of the school certifying that the candidate is fit to be entered at the University, and it is paid for three years. In cases of vacancy the arrears are accumulated for the benefit of the boy who next succeeds.

Skipton.

MASTER, Rev. R. THOMLINSON.

WILLIAM GOMYSTED, Clerk, in the second year of the reign of Edward the Sixth, conveyed to Trustees certain lands, &c. for the endowment of a school in this town. The rental is now about 600*l.* per annum.

EXHIBITIONS.

This school is entitled to send candidates for the exhibitions of Lady Elizabeth Hastings, at Queen's College, Oxford. Detailed hereafter.

Two exhibitions at Christ College, Cambridge, on the foundation of Sir William Petyt.

Thornton.

MASTER, Rev. M. MACKRETH.

By a deed poll, under the hand and seal of the Right Honourable Elizabeth, Viscountess Lumley, dated the 8th of October, 1657, and enrolled in the Court of Chancery, which directed, that Sir John Mayne and John Penrice, Esq., should, with the monies arising by sale of certain lands and hereditaments therein mentioned, erect two hospitals, one at Thornton or Sinnington, in the county of York, and another in the parish of St. Botolph, Aldgate, or St. Botolph, Bishopsgate; and another building, for the habitation of a Schoolmaster, in some convenient place, upon a parcel of land in the parishes of Sinnington or Thornton, containing ten acres, to be purchased by the Trustees, who should teach the children of the inhabitants of Sinnington and Thornton, free of expense.

EXHIBITIONS.

In pursuance of the directions of Viscountess Lumley, a school-house, with commodious buildings for the habitation of a Schoolmaster, were erected at Thornton. And she further directed that her Trustees should pay and allow, yearly, to such ten poor scholars of the University of Cambridge and Oxford, educated in the said school to be erected, and in default of such, to so many of such others not exceeding the number of ten, (subsequently reduced to five,) who should be nominated by the respective convocations of the said Universities for the time being, the sum of 4*l.* a-year a-piece, until they should have time to become graduates in the said Universities.

By order of the Court of Chancery, in 1820, it was directed that, in consequence of the increased rents, there should be for the future five exhibitions under this charity of 15*l.* per annum each. Exhibitions not called for are to accumulate.

Threshfield.

MASTER,

THIS school was founded pursuant to the will of the Rev. Matthew Hewitt, Rector of the one mediety of the Rectory of Linton, for which he bequeathed rent-charges on his estates at Linton, Threshfield, &c.—20*l.* a-year for the Master, and 10*l.* for the Usher. The school is considered a grammar school, and free to all boys who apply for instruction in Latin and English grammar, free of expense.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

The same individual left his estates at Great Gomersall, and Burstall to his nephew; chargeable with the payment of four scholarships of 12*l.* 10*s.* per annum each, at St. John's College, Cambridge, for scholars educated at this school.

Wakefield.

MASTER, Rev. THOMAS ROGERS, M.A.

At the request of the inhabitants of the town, Queen Elizabeth, in 1592, founded a grammar school here, which is open to the sons of the inhabitants, indefinitely, free of expense, for a classical education.

EXHIBITIONS.

John Storie, by will, dated the 29th April, 1764, devised his copyhold and freehold estates within the county of York, for maintaining and bringing up three boys, the children of parents not able to bring them up, at one of the Universities of Cambridge or Oxford, for three years; such boys to be chosen out of those poor children that he had lately settled lands upon, for their teaching at the petty school, until they should be fit to go to the free school at Wakefield; and so to be sent from thence, and maintained at one of the Universities for three years, and after that time other three boys of the same to be sent up, and maintained there three years successively, for ever; and he desired his friends, Mr. John Morewood, of Al-freton, and Mr. Andrew Morewood, of the Hallows, to see that the same was settled accordingly.

The funds of this charity are appropriated to the payment of three exhibitions to students at one of the Universities, brought up at this grammar school. The exhibitions are generally full, and one-third of the clear disposable income is given to each exhibitioner, and the allowance is continued for three years.

The sum of 1,500*l.*, for which interest is received from Storie's petty-gift trust, has arisen in part from the sale of land, 500*l.*, and the remaining 1000*l.* in consequence of the exhibitions not having been regularly applied for.

WILLIAM HERON, citizen and woodmonger, by his will dated 12th July 1580, after giving certain annuities to his wife and others for life, made the following bequests, viz.: unto Thomas Heron and his heirs for ever, the yearly rent of 5*l.*; unto University College in Oxford and Peterhouse in Cambridge, to each of them the yearly rent of 5*l.* towards the education and bringing up of poor scholars within the said two several Colleges or houses for ever; these sums are regularly paid by the Cloth-workers Company to scholars at the two Colleges.

Edward Pilsworth, citizen and cloth-worker, by his will dated the 7th of July 1603, gave and devised all his messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, within the city of London, with the appurtenances, &c., amongst various other purposes, to pay yearly, for ever, 5*l.* towards the exhibition and maintenance of a poor scholar in Magdalen College, Oxford.

The Company pay 10*l.* per annum instead of 5*l.* to a scholar at Magdalen College, Oxford, who is appointed by the Court of Assistants, and who holds the exhibition for six years, unless he previously obtains preferment.

William Hewett, by will dated the 4th of April, 1599, bequeathed to the Company 110*l.*, to the intent that they should allow yearly, for ever, 5*l.* to some poor honest scholar of Cambridge studying divinity.

The exhibition paid to a student at Cambridge is now 10*l.* a-year, the Company having lately raised all the exhibitions in their disposal to that amount, from their own funds. The exhibitioner is appointed by the Court of Assistants, upon petition, accompanied by a certificate from the College to which the candidate belongs, that he is studying divinity. The exhibition is held for six years.

John Heath, in 1665, gave to the Company 1,000*l.*, on condition that they should distribute yearly 50*l.*; and directed that, amongst other purposes, they should yearly pay to two poor scholars, one of Oxford, and the other of Cambridge, studying divinity, whose surnames should be Heath, 50*s.* a-piece; and if there be none such, then to two such other poor scholars in the said Universities as the Company should think fit; no scholar to enjoy the same above six years.

Two scholars, one of Oxford, and the other of Cambridge, receive now 10*l.* a-year each, instead of 2*l.* 10*s.* They are appointed by the Court of Assistants.

Barbara Burnell, by will dated the 27th of June, 1630, gave to the Cloth-workers Company 300*l.*, to the intent that they should purchase lands with the same, and that they and their successors, in consideration of the said 300*l.*, should pay yearly to a poor scholar of Oxford, intending to profess divinity, the sum of 5*l.* The sum of 10*l.* a-year, instead of 5*l.*, is paid to a scholar at Oxford, who is appointed by the Court of Assistants, in the same manner as Hewett's exhibitioner.

Cordwainers Company.

JAMES SHAWE, by will dated 5th May 1630, devised to the Vicar and Churchwardens of St. Seaulchre, London, certain messuages and tenements, among other purposes, that they should yearly pay to the Master, Wardens, and Commonalty of Cordwainers, out of the rents and profits thereof, the sum of 8*l.* per annum, to be employed by the said Company for the maintenance of two scholars at the Universities of Cambridge and Oxford.

Cutlers Company.

THOMAS BUCKE, citizen and cutler of London, by will dated 3d December 1566, gave to the Master and Wardens of the commonalty and mystery of Cutlers of London, and their successors, certain property, in trust, for charitable purposes, and amongst the rest, that the said Master and Wardens should pay an annuity of 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* to the Master and scholars of the house or college called St. John's College, in the University of Cambridge, and their successors, towards the finding of some scholar of his name or kindred within the Isle of Ely, or elsewhere, if any might be found; and for want of such of his name, then towards the finding of some other scholar, whose father should be free of the said Company of Cutlers of London, if any such should be thereunto thought meet by the Master and Wardens of the said mystery of Cutlers, for the time being, and the Vicar of the parish church of St. Sepulchre without Newgate, of London, for the time being, for ever; trusting in God, that the said Company of Cutlers would help to augment and increase it, so that there might be one scholar found and maintained by the said Company of Cutlers, for ever, in the College aforesaid, that it might be to the praise of God.

With regard to this annuity, and other trusts under the will of Mr. Bucke, the Commissioners for inquiring into Charities, state, “ that the annuity of 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*, devised for an exhibition to St. John's College, Cambridge, appears to have been regularly paid till 1793, but since that time it has been withheld. There is an order in the minute-book of the Company, dated April 1796, that the exhibition to St. John's College should be discontinued, till there should appear to be a scholar in the College according to the intention of the donor's will. We are informed, that no person has since been named to the Company as of that College, who was of the testator's name or kindred, and that no son of a freeman of the Company has applied for the benefit of the exhibition; but we are not aware that the Company have, in the mean time, taken any steps to invite applications. We have the authority of the clerk of the Company for stating, that they are ready to pay the arrears which have accrued in respect of this branch of the charity, whenever they are legally called on so to do, as well as those which have arisen since the discontinuance of the other payments directed by the testator. It remains for us only to express a hope, that as the sums due in respect of the several gifts are ascertained, the Company will lose no time in discharging the claims upon them; and that they will, in future, make the annual payments with punctuality."

John Craythorne, by will dated 21st November 1568, gave the reversion of the messuage or tenement called the Bell Savage, situate within the parish of St. Bride's, in Fleet Street, London, after the decease of Margaret, his wife, to the Master, Wardens, and Commonalty of the Company of Cutlers within the city of London, and their successors, for ever, upon condition, that the said Master, Wardens, and Commonalty, should yearly give and bestow, after the decease of his said wife, 10*l.* in coals, viz.: every quarter of a year 50*s.*, and the same coals to be given and distributed to and among the poor people dwelling within the said parish of St. Bride, by the oversight of the two Churchwardens thereof, for the time being, and six of the chiefest householders within the same parish ; and also should yearly pay 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* towards the finding and keeping of two scholars within the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, (that is to say,) to either of the scholars 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*, to be paid to them quarterly, for ever ; and the same two scholars who should first take benefit by force of his said will, should be named by his wife, or by such other as she should appoint in or by her last will ; and afterwards the said scholars should be always, from time to time, named and appointed for ever by the said Master, Wardens, and Commonalty of Cutlers, and their successors, provided that neither of the said two scholars should enjoy that his legacy longer than they were abiding in and within the said Universities, nor any longer than they, or any of them, should otherwise be preferred, to the yearly value of 10*l.* or upwards. The inn called the Bell Savage, together with the premises adjoining it, and forming a part of the establishment, are supposed to include the messuage wherein the testator dwelt, called “ the sign of the Rose in Fleet Street.” These are altogether let by the Company at the rent of 1,101*l.* 10*s.* per annum. The several annuities mentioned in the will have been regularly paid ; but the Company have increased the two exhibitions, since the year 1800, to 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* each. The exhibitioners are appointed by the Company, and their annual stipend is paid to them until they take their Master’s degree, or are otherwise preferred, upon the production of testimonials of their good conduct and regular residence in the University.

Fishmongers Company.

SIR Thomas Kneseworth, Knt., bequeathed a very considerable property to the Company for various charitable purposes ; the income of which is now but little short of 3,000*l.* per annum ; and he directed that they should pay, annually, 4*l.* each to four priests, studying arts or divinity in one of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, to pray for his soul, &c. From the revenues of this estate, however, the Company have for some years past established twelve exhibitions for poor students at the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge ; eleven of the exhibitioners receive from this fund 20*l.* a-year, and the remaining one 16*l.*, his exhibition being made up 20*l.* by the addition of a sum of 4*l.*, derived from the benefaction of Bernard Randolph, hereafter mentioned. Prior to 1804, the exhibitions were 10*l.* a-year. The exhibitioners are nominated by members of the Court of Assistants, in rotation, and elected by the Court. It is required, that the person nominated be already a member of some College in one of the Universities, and that a certificate be produced from the heads of the College of his being entered and resident, and a declaration from the student himself, that he has not any certain annual income of 50*l.* On receiving their stipends, the exhibitioners are required to produce similar declarations, and certificates of actual residence during the half year for which the payments are claimed. They hold the exhibitions for seven years from their matriculation, or for such part thereof as they are actually resident.

bridge; the appointment to the same he vested in the Master, Wardens, and Court of Assistants of the Fishmongers Company. It is a foundation fellowship, and is entitled to the same privileges as the other fellows at that College.

---

Bernard Randolph, Esq., Common Sergeant of the city of London, in 1582 gave to the Company 200*l.*, in trust, for charitable purposes; and amongst others, that they should pay 4*l.* yearly, by quarterly payments, to some towardly scholar that should study divinity in the University of Cambridge, the said scholar to be appointed from time to time, within thirty days next after the death or advancement of any such scholar, by the Bishop of London for the time being, and (cede vacante) by the Lord Mayor of London for the time being, the name of the person nominated to be signified to one of the Wardens of the said Company of Fishmongers; and in default thereof, then the same scholar to be nominated and appointed by the said Wardens and their successors.

---

Robert Carter, by will dated November 1563, gave a tenement in Thames Street, called the White Lyon, after the death of his wife, to his cousin, Richard Carter, who should convey the same, in case of his decease without issue of heirs male, to the Wardens and Commonalty of the mystery of Fishmongers, London, and that the said Wardens, &c. and their successors, for ever, should pay out of the rents and profits of the said tenement, 4*l.* a year to a poor scholar or student in St. John's College, Cambridge, such scholar not having above 4*l.* by exhibitions, or other ways or means. The Company are in possession of the house in Thames Street, but have never fulfilled the intention of the testator by the payment of this exhibition.

Mark Quested, citizen and fishmonger of London, by will dated January 1642, bequeathed to the Company of Fishmongers an estate at Hollingbourn, Kent, now producing 300*l.* per annum, for the purpose of building twelve alms-houses at Harrietsham, and for the support of twelve alms-people, &c. He directed also, out of the revenues of the estate, that the sum of 8*l.* a piece yearly should be paid to four Masters of Arts, and to four students 4*l.* a piece yearly, so long as they should abide in either of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge. These payments have never taken place, the funds not having hitherto been sufficient for the purpose. But from the recent renewal of the leases, the estates are let, as before mentioned, for 300*l.* per annum, and the disbursements are short of 200*l.*; it is to be hoped that the Company will shortly be enabled to commence, after a lapse approaching to two centuries, carrying into execution the charitable designs of the testator, as regards these University payments.

Goldsmiths Company.

PHILIP STRELLEY bequeathed, in 1603, an estate to the Company, then of the value of 55*l.*, in trust, among other purposes, that they should pay 10*l.* per annum out of the said yearly rent for and towards the exhibition and maintenance, in the Universities of Cambridge and Oxford, of two such poor scholars as should be poor men's sons, born within the counties of Derby and Nottingham, and town of Nottingham, and city of Worcester, or any of them; and for lack of such within the said counties and city, then towards the maintenance of such poor scholars as should be the sons of poor men of the said Company of Goldsmiths; and for lack of them, then of such other poor scholars at the said Universities, as the said Wardens, Renters, and Goldfiners of the said mystery for the time being should think meet; (that is to say,) to every of the said poor scholars the sum of 5*l.* for the space of seven years together, with a like preference to the sons of his tenants born within his manor of Ogarthorpe, and of others of his name and kindred. The two exhibitions are regularly paid to two scholars, one at each University, and continued for seven years, provided they reside so long. In the appointment of these exhibitioners, the order of preference directed by the donor is adhered to.

John Perryn, formerly of East Acton, Middlesex, Esq., by will dated the 18th of December, 1656, gave and devised all his freehold messuages, farms, lands, tenements, and hereditaments in Acton aforesaid, to the Wardens and Commonalty of the mystery of Goldsmiths, London, and their successors, for ever, upon trust, among other things, to pay 5*l.* a-year toward the maintenance of one scholar that should be bred up in Christ's Hospital, and sent to either Oxford or Cambridge. This 5*l.* was transferred to the Governors of Christ's Hospital, and is merged in their exhibitions as detailed in p. 116.

Under this will, the Company acquired an estate at Acton, Middlesex, consisting of two farms, &c., which now produces a rental of 1057*l.* 18*s.* Mr. Perryn only specified in his will certain payments to be made out of his estate, to the amount of about 82*l.* per annum ; but he willed all the remainder of the rents and profits of the said premises in Acton aforesaid, should be (by the Wardens of the Company of Goldsmiths, and six of the most discreet and able men of the same Company) disposed of and distributed to pious and charitable uses ;—some part thereof to poor members of that Company, and for exhibitions for and towards the maintenance of Scholars in the Universities, and such other charitable uses as they should think meet. The Company have built, at very great cost, alms-houses at Acton, and with pensions to poor freemen of the Company, expend annually, on account of this trust, 1277*l.* The Company, however, have never established exhibitions at the Universities, under the residuary clause of this will ; all applications for the same they have rejected, on the ground that the estate is indebted to the Company for its large disbursements in the erection of the alms-houses at Acton. As the establishment of these exhibitions is mentioned by the testator, full as explicitly as that a portion should be applied to poor members of the Company, no just reason can be assigned why the whole should be devoted to this latter purpose : and the Company are bound in justice, to found, at all events, some exhibitions, even if the charge of the same is defrayed out of the general funds of the Company.

Grocers Company.

EMME BACKHOUSE, by will bearing date 27th August 1587, gave a house in which she dwelt, and all the tenements thereto belonging, after certain limitations therein mentioned, to the use of the Master and Wardens of the Grocers Company, upon trust, to dispose out of the profits of the same 40*l.*, yearly, towards the maintenance, educating, and bringing up of four poor scholars in the University of Cambridge, and four scholars in the University of Oxford, to each 5*l.*, to be named, placed, and displaced by the said Master, Wardens, and Company, at their discretion, hoping that they would prefer some of her own kindred to such scholarships, being fit for the same, before strangers; and the residue of the profits of the said premises to be disposed to such good uses, as by the said Corporation should be thought convenient.

The Company derived under the will of Emme Backhouse two houses in Wood Street, and also a house in Steyning Lane, then in the occupation of the Haberdashers Company, charged with the payment of 25*l.* per annum to four scholars in the University of Oxford; and also with the sum of 10*l.* per annum to two scholars in the University of Cambridge: but the scholarships at Jesus College, Oxford, appear to have been derived from a legacy of 500*l.* given by Mary Robinson, next herein mentioned, and are stated in the account given of her benefaction, to have been charged upon the houses in Wood Street, by an order of the Court of Assistants. The four scholarships at Cambridge, and the same number at Oxford, established by Mrs. Backhouse, appear to have been thus reduced to two at the former University only. The reason for making this reduction has not been yet satisfactorily accounted for.

The premises given by Mrs. Backhouse now consist of warehouses, &c., being No. 104, in Wood Street, let in three divisions, to Thomas Green, Robert Wilson, and Thomas Hunter, at rents amounting, after the deduction of land-tax, to 233*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* The Company are not now in possession of the house in Steyning Lane; but an annual sum of 20*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*, considered as a fee-farm rent, received from the Haberdashers Company, subject to a deduction of 4*l.* for land-tax, is also understood to be derived from this gift. This estate, for many years previous to 1805, produced only 51*l.* 14*s.* 2*d.* per annum.

The two exhibitors at Cambridge are appointed by the Grocers Company, upon petitions from the candidates, and certificates of the residence and good conduct of the petitioners, from the colleges to which they belong. They are allowed to hold the exhibitions till they take the degree of B.A., when others are appointed.

Mary Robinson, by her will bearing date 13th February 1617, gave to the Grocers Company 500*l.*, upon condition, trust, and confidence, that they should purchase so much land, or otherwise raise so much maintenance or yearly increase, as should amount to 25*l.* a-year for ever above all charges, the same to be given yearly to four poor scholars of Jesus College, Oxford, at the nomination of the said Company, to be paid quarterly to the said poor scholars, so as they should proceed and become students in divinity, and so become preachers of the Gospel; and when any of them should attain better preferment, or die, their portion to be bestowed upon others.

The manner in which the payment of 25*l.* per annum in respect of this gift was charged upon the property given by Mrs. Emme Backhouse, has been already noticed in the account of her gift; and this annual sum is remitted by the Company to the Principal of Jesus Col- lege, to be divided amongst the four exhibitioners. The occurrence of a vacancy upon each exhibitioner's taking the degree of B.A. is certified to the Company by the Principal, who at the same time sends a list of candidates to succeed to the exhibition. Petitions are also sometimes received from the candidates themselves, and the appointment is made by the Company.

Andrew Bayning, by will dated 4th October 1610, gave 120*l.* to the Grocers Company, to be disbursed upon a purchase of some house or lands of the yearly value of 5*l.* above all charges, to the end that they should give yearly, for ever, 5*l.* towards the maintenance of a poor scholar, to be brought up in the University of Cambridge.

Robert Cocke gave by his will, the date of which does not appear, to the Grocers Company, 100*l.*, on trust, to bestow the same in lands, and dispose of the benefit thereof yearly, for ever, towards the maintenance and bringing up of one poor scholar in the University of Oxford or Cambridge, as to the Wardens of the said Company should seem meet.

Extracts of the two last-mentioned wills appear in an old book of wills belonging to the Grocers Company; but these gifts are not mentioned in the inquisition, and no trace is found of them in the account books of the Company; it is, therefore, conjectured that they never were received by the Company.

Haberdashers Company.

Mr. Nicholas Culverwell, by will dated the 22d day of October 1569, gave to the Master and Wardens of the art or mystery of Haberdashers in London 300*l.*, whereof 100*l.* was to be for ever put forth, by advice of the Assistants, to five of the poorest young men of the same Company, which should begin housekeeping, and should occupy some trade; that is to say, every man to have 20*l.* for five years, putting in sufficient bond for repayment thereof, and then other five to have it for other five years, and so forth, for ever; and the other 200*l.* was given conditionally, that the Master and Wardens, upon receipt thereof, should be bound for the payment of 10*l.* yearly, for ever, to two of the poorest preachers studying divinity in the Universities; that is to say, one at Christ College, Cambridge, and the other in Magdalen College, Oxford, each of them 5*l.* a-year, and they to be named by Mr. Culverwell's wife during her life, and after her death by the Bishop of London, for ever.

Two preachers studying divinity, one at Magdalen College, Oxford, the other at Christ College, Cambridge, appointed by the Bishop of London, regularly receive the two exhibitions of 5*l.*, the payment of which is secured by separate bonds to each College from the Company, dated the 4th December 1572, in the penalty of 150*l.* each.

Mr. Robert Offley, by will dated April 1596, bequeathed to the Company 200*l.* for the founding of two scholarships for the study of divinity in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge; one of the scholars to be nominated by the Court of Assistants of the Company, with a preference to the son of a member of the Company, and the other to be nominated by the Mayor, Aldermen, and forty of the Common Council of the city of Chester, with a preference to the son of a citizen of the said city, each scholar to receive 5*l.* a-year, and to retain the exhibition as long as he should remain at his studies in the University without promotion.

It appears from the Company's books, that the two exhibitions of 5*l.* each were paid to the year 1674, but in that year that which was in the gift of the Company was discontinued. The other, to which the exhibitioner was nominated by the city of Chester, and which appears to have been established at Brasenose College, Oxford, continued to be paid till the 1st August 1775, when that exhibition became vacant, and notice thereof was given to the Corporation of Chester, and also to the Principal of Brasenose College, Oxford; but no applications have been since made respecting it to the Company.

Upon the recommendation of the Commissioners for inquiring into Charities, the Company have resolved that both these exhibitions should be set up, and that, in compensation for all arrears, 10*l.* a-year should be paid to each exhibitioner, to commence from Christmas 1822.

By indenture, dated the 20th January 1608, the Haberdashers Company, in consideration of 200*l.* paid to them by Mrs. Frances Clarke, covenanted with her to pay yearly to two poor scholars 5*l.* each, one of them to be of Christ Church, Oxford, and the other of any College in Cambridge; the scholars not to hold the exhibitions more than four years.

These two exhibitions appear to have been paid to the year 1670, when one of them ceased. The other was paid to Michaelmas 1692, when that also was discontinued.

The Company have re-established these exhibitions, doubling the amount, as a compensation for the arrears unpaid, as in the case of Offley's exhibitions.

Roger Jeston, by will dated the 2d April 1622, devised all his messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, with their appurtenances, situate in or near Grubb Street, in the parish of St. Giles without Cripplegate, London, unto the Master and four Wardens of the fraternity of Haberdashers, in the city of London, their successors and assigns, for ever, chargeable for ever with the payment, amongst other things, to three poor scholars studying divinity in Trinity College, Cambridge, such as the Master and eight seniors of the College should appoint, whereof he would that the children of any of the Company of Haberdashers, or any Staffordshire man, (having need,) should be first preferred, the sum of 20*l.* amongst them yearly; that is to say, 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* a-piece. These exhibitions are regularly paid to three scholars appointed by the College. No claim has been for many years made by sons of members of the Company.

By indenture, dated the 4th September 1629, reciting, that Dame Rebecca Romney had delivered to the Master and four Wardens of the Haberdashers Company 1,200*l.* for certain purposes therein mentioned; the said Master and Wardens covenanted with the said Dame Rebecca Romney, that they would pay, among other things, 24*l.* a-year to four poor scholars, two of Emanuel College, and two of Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, likely to become good scholars, and to take upon them the study of divinity, such and for so long a time as the Master, Wardens, and Assistants of the said Company should from time to time nominate and appoint, to each 6*l.*, payable half-yearly, at Lady-day and Michaelmas.

No appointments to Lady Romney's exhibitions appear to have been made, nor any payment on account thereof, since the year 1739. It has been recommended to the Company in this case, by the Commissioners for inquiring into Charities, (as in those of the exhibitions founded by Mr. Offley and Mrs. Frances Clarke before mentioned,) that they should re-establish these exhibitions, doubling the amount in future to each exhibitor, by way of compensation for the arrears unpaid, which they have accordingly done.

Mrs. Martha Barrett by will, between 1580 and 1590, gave to the Haberdashers Company 200*l.* to be lent to four young men, for four years, and so from four years to four years, for ever. The interest, at five per cent., arising from 100*l.* out of the 200*l.* to be applied to the use of a scholar studying divinity in Magdalen College, Cambridge. This exhibition was paid till the year 1700, when it is supposed that the 100*l.* was lent out and lost, by the failure of the security, no further trace of it appearing in the books, and the exhibition is not now paid.

Ironmongers Company.

THOMAS LEWIN, by will dated the 20th April 1555, devised his messuage, with its garden and appurtenances, in the parish of St. Nicholas Olave, Bread Street, and fourteen other messuages in the same parish, subject to a life estate therein to his wife, to the Master, Wardens, and Company of Ironmongers, and their successors, upon condition, that they should provide for the performance of certain superstitious rites and uses therein mentioned, and find a good, sad, and honest priest to celebrate mass for souls, four times a week, within the parish church of St. Nicholas Olave, at a yearly salary of 10*l.*, (for which he was also required by the will to attend the Company's feasts and quarter days, saying grace before them, de profundis, and other prayers,) and should permit four honest and sad impotent poor, aged, and decayed men of the Company, for the time being, to inhabit for their lives, (behaving themselves honestly and quietly,) four tenements, which the testator (as thereby declared) intended to erect in the church-yard of St. Nicholas, and should pay quarterly to every one of the said four persons, 20*d.* towards their sustentation and living, and also upon condition that the said Master and Wardens for the time being, and their successors, should yearly pay to two poor scholars, the one to be of Oxford, the other of Cambridge, towards their sustentation and maintenance there, 5*l.*; that is to say, to each of them 50*s.*, to be paid quarterly.

Under the above devise, the Company are possessed of twelve houses in Bread Street Hill, erected after the fire of London, on land awarded in respect of the site of the houses mentioned in the will.

Pursuant to the directions of the will, the Company pay to four almspeople, freemen of the Company, 1*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* per annum, equally amongst them, and to two students, one at Oxford, the other at Cambridge, 2*l.* 10*s.* per annum a-piece. The stipends or exhibitions to the two students have always been regularly paid. The students are chosen at quarterly courts ; they are required to be resident at the respective Universities, and receive the payments until the time of their taking a degree.

Margaret Dane, by will dated the 16th day of May 1579, bequeathed to the Master, Wardens, and Company of Ironmongers, 2,000*l.*, upon condition that the Master and Wardens, amongst other things, should pay to the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, to each 5*l.*, for the relief and bringing up in learning two poor scholars, the one to be in Oxford, and the other in Cambridge. It is stated in an entry of the books of the Company, that this 2,000*l.* was taken by the Parliament during the civil wars, and never repaid to the Court ; and, in consequence, among other reductions, the exhibition to Oxford has for many years been discontinued: that to Cambridge, however, is regularly paid, and the exhibitor is nominated by the University.

---

William Chapman, by will dated the 8th day of August 1579, bequeathed 200*l.* to the Master, Wardens, and Commonalty of Ironmongers, and their successors, to the intent that they should find and maintain, in Oriel College, Oxford, yearly, two poor scholars to study divinity there, until they should be of the age of thirty years, when they should be displaced, and two other poor scholars appointed in their room to study divinity in the said College, and so on from time to time ; and that they and their successors should yearly pay out of the said stock and employment of the said 200*l.* to the finding of either of the said scholars 5*l.* a-piece.

The sum of 10*l.* a-year is paid to two students of Oriel College, Oxford, 5*l.* each. The students are nominated by the College, and continue to receive the payment until they are thirty years of age.

Thomas Hallwood, by will dated the 20th April 1622, ordered his executors to pay the Wardens and Company of Ironmongers 400*l.*, upon trust, that the Wardens, together with his executors, should make choice of four poor scholars, viz., two scholars of Magdalen College, in Oxford, and two other scholars of Christ College, in Cambridge, or such two other Colleges as the Wardens and his executors should allow and appoint, unto whom he desired that the said Wardens and executors should pay such rents and profits as should grow or be made out of the said 400*l.* every half year during the space of three whole years, for the better maintenance of the said four poor scholars, if they should so long continue their studies, and be resident in either of the said Universities, and should study and proceed for divinity, and from the end of the three years, or sooner, discontinuance by either of such poor scholars of his residence in one of the said Universities, that they should pay the like rents and profits to some other poor scholars, by them to be elected for other three years, and so in succession for ever; and he desired, if any of his own kindred should happen thereafter to make suit for the said exhibition, then such his kinsman, being of one of the said Universities, and studying divinity, and standing in need thereof, should be preferred before any other; and to the end the said Wardens should have some benefit to them and their successors, he willed, there should be deducted out of the said rents and profits the sum of 40*s.* a-year, for ever.

The above-mentioned sum of 400*l.* was paid to the Company in 1625, and lent out on bond at interest of 4*l.*

per cent. It was afterwards repaid and carried to the general account with the other funds of the Company.

Ever since the donation, the Company have paid 16*l.* per annum, in exhibitions of 4*l.* a-piece, to two scholars at Oxford, and two at Cambridge, chosen by the Company at their Quarterly Courts. The payment of the exhibition is continued to each scholar for three years, unless before the expiration of that time he takes a degree, or ceases to reside in the University.

Leathersellers Company.

ROBERT ROGERS, by will bearing date 11th September 1601, directed that 400*l.* should be delivered to the Leathersellers, to be employed in lands, the best pennyworth they could get, and that the house should have 40*s.* of it a-year for ever, and the rest to go to four poor scholars, students of divinity, two of them to be of Cambridge, and two of Oxford, to be maintained with the overplus of the same revenue, to be equally divided betwixt the said scholars, and to be continued with them for four years; and then at four years' end, four other scholars to have the pension; and so to continue for ever; but if any of them should remove from the University, then the said pension to be employed to other poor scholars, as before.

The manner in which the sum of 400*l.*, directed to be laid out in land, was disposed of, will appear from the following deed:—

By indenture of bargain and sale, bearing date 14th December 1602, between George Lee and Philippa his wife, of the first part; the Wardens of the mystery of Leathersellers, of the second part; and Nicholas Blencowe and several others, citizens and leathersellers, of the third part: reciting the said gift of 400*l.* by the will of Robert Rogers; and also, that the said Robert Rogers, by his said will, gave all the residue of his goods and chattels, unbequeathed, for the further maintenance of poor scholars, and other charitable uses, at the discretion of his executors, who had paid to the said Wardens the sum of 12*l.* 10*s.* out of the unbequeathed residue, to make up the said legacy 412*l.* 10*s.*, for the purchase of a MOIETY of the lands and hereditaments thereafter mentioned; and further reciting, that the said Wardens had in their hands divers sums of money, of the gift and bequest of Elizabeth Gravener, which had proceeded from the sale of the manor of Shabcome and other lands in the county of Devon; which sums of money were, by the will of the said Elizabeth Gravener, appointed to be distributed and given in alms, as well towards the reparations and amending of highways, &c.; (as stated in the abstract of her will;) and that for the better performance of part of the will of the said Elizabeth Gravener, concerning the employment of the said sums of money, the Wardens, or the more part of the said Company, had thought fit to bestow 402*l.* 10*s.* in purchasing the other moiety of the lands and hereditaments therein mentioned, the profits of the same moiety to be distributed in alms, and other charitable uses, according to the meaning of the said Elizabeth Gravener, in her will specified; it was witnessed, that the said George Lee and Philippa his wife, in consideration of 412*l.* 10*s.*, paid to them by the said Wardens, as of the gift and bequest of the said Robert Rogers, granted to the said parties of the third part, their heirs and assigns, all that moiety of the messuage, tenement, or inn, commonly called the George, and the moiety of one cottage to the same adjoining, and of all buildings and appurtenances thereto belonging, in the parish of Chipping Barnet, in the county of Herts; and the moiety of a close or parcel of land to the said messuage belonging and adjoining, containing by estimation two acres; and of eight fields or parcels of ground, containing by estimation thirty-six acres, in the parish of Chipping Barnet, abutting upon the King's highway there, on the North; upon the brook called Totteridge Brook, on the South; and the lane called Totteridge Lane, on the West; and the moiety of four closes of land, meadow or pasture, containing by estimation twenty-five acres, lying in Chipping Barnet or East Barnet, or one of them, whereof one was called Totteridge Mead, containing four acres, abutting on the brook there, or one part thereof towards a little grove, on the West; one other of the said closes, lying between Totteridge Mead and the highway, called London Highway, containing four acres and somewhat more; and the other two closes lying between the last-mentioned close and the London Highway, containing ten acres and somewhat more; and also the moiety of a parcel of ground, containing by estimation three acres, some time a grove, but then stocked up, abutting on the great mead there, called Paulet Mead: and the said George Lee and Philippa his wife, in consideration of the like sum of 412*l.* 10*s.*, paid to them by the said Wardens, as of the gift and bequest of the said Elizabeth Gravener, granted to the said parties of the third part, their heirs and assigns, the other moiety of the premises above enumerated; to hold the same, upon trust, that all the rents and profits of the one moiety of the same premises, purchased with the legacy of the said Robert Rogers, should be, for ever, employed and disposed to the uses limited and appointed in the will of the said Robert Rogers, and upon trust, that the rents and profits of the other moiety of the said premises should be, for ever, distributed and given in alms, and to other charitable uses, at and by the discretion of the Wardens of the Leathersellers, or the more part of the same Company, according to the true intent and meaning of the said Elizabeth Gravener, in her said will limited and declared.

The total quantity of the lands thus purchased, as stated by estimation in this deed, is sixty-six acres, besides the George Inn, cottage, and other buildings adjoining. The Company are now in possession of an estate at Chipping Barnet, consisting of the following parcels, the total quantity whereof, by admeasurement, as taken from a plan made in 1772, is somewhat more than seventy acres. This variation is only accounted for by a supposed inaccuracy in the estimated quantities mentioned in the purchase deed:—

The whole of the above-mentioned estate, except Nos. 6 and 7, was leased, in 1752, to one tenant, for a term of sixty-one years, at the yearly rent of 95*l.*, subject to a deduction therefrom for land-tax beyond the amount of 2*s.* in the pound. That lease contains no covenant for building, but no house is mentioned as being demised by it; and it appears, from a reference to the minute book of the company for that year, that the lease was granted upon an agreement that the lessee should, instead of the cottage then standing, lay out at least 80*l.* in building a farm-house on some more convenient part of the premises. It is supposed that the house on No. 1, now occupied by Mr. Fitzgerald, was built in pursuance of this agreement. This house is erected at the extremity of the estate, and considerable additions have been made to it on the adjoining land.

The lessee of this estate under the Company for the term of sixty-one years, obtained from the Lord of the Manor a copyhold grant of a piece of waste ground, lying on the side of the road, and adjoining to this estate, and built the houses now occupied by Miss Grant and Mr. Blacklock; and in consequence thereof, upon the expiration of that lease in 1813, the exact boundary of the property became a matter of dispute, which, after an action had been brought by the Company, was referred to arbitration, and the arbitrator, under the powers vested in him, defined the boundary, and directed the Company to grant the existing lease for sixty-one years, of the small parcels of land, comprised in No. 5. All the residue of the premises, included in the lease of 1752, was, upon the expiration thereof, let by auction. Very high rents were thus obtained, which it is feared, upon a re-letting of the property, will not be supported.

The premises Nos. 3 and 4, were let in 1813, in two lots, to two persons, who were unable to pay their rent, and became insolvent, by which a considerable loss was sustained. They were permitted to surrender their leases in 1816, when No. 3 was let to Mr. Fitzgerald, and No. 4 to Mr. Bingham. This last letting was by tender, and it has been since found necessary to make a deduction from Mr. Bingham's rent of twenty per cent. before noticed.

In 1813, the land-tax of this estate amounting to 25*l.* 19*s.* 5*d.* per annum, was redeemed by the Company at an expense of 322*l.* 13*s.* 3*d.*

The Commissioners for inquiring into Charities state "that the only sums paid in respect of Rogers's gift, consist of four exhibitions of 16*l.* each, paid to two scholars of Oxford, and two of Cambridge, appointed by the Court of Assistants of the Company. These exhibitions are continued for four years, and are paid, upon certificates of residence transmitted from the respective Colleges of which the scholars are members. Till 1810, their amount was only 4*l.* each. In that year they were increased to 8*l.*, and in 1814, to their present amount.

“ It appears, from Mr. Rogers’s will, that all the rents and profits of a MOIETY of this estate, being the produce of his bequest, ought, with the exception of 40s. per annum, to which the Company are entitled, to be equally divided amongst his four exhibitioners; and with regard to the other moiety, purchased with part of Mrs. Gravener’s gift, we apprehend that the rents and profits, after a reasonable allowance to the Wardens of the Company for their pains, ought to be disposed of for such charitable purposes as are mentioned in her will. As those purposes are not very accurately defined, it may be proper that an application should be made to the Court of Chancery for the future government of this lady’s charity. And as the surplus of the rents of this property has been very considerable, more especially since the great increase thereof in 1813, we conceive that it may be a proper question to be submitted to that court, whether the Company should be subjected to a retrospective account in favour of these two charities.

“ If it should be thought fit by the Court that such account should be taken, we apprehend that the Company would be entitled to claim allowances for the sums expended by them in the purchase of the land-tax, as before mentioned, and for the expenses of leasing the property, and of the legal proceedings which took place in 1813.”

William Moseley, citizen and leatherseller of London, by will dated the 5th of September 1617, devised that his executors should, within the space of eighteen months next after his decease, pay to the Wardens and Company of Leathersellers of the city of London, the sum of 200*l.* upon special trust and confidence, that the said Wardens and Company should, with as much convenient speed as might be, purchase and buy with the same, unto the Wardens and commonalty of the Leathersellers of London aforesaid, by such name or names as they are incorporated and called, and to their successors for ever, lands or tenements of the best worth and value they could; and that the said Wardens and Company and their successors, should have and deduct out of the rents and profits of the same twenty shillings a-year for ever, to the common use and benefit of the said Company; and should well and truly pay or cause to be paid half-yearly for ever, the residue and rest of all such rents and profits, in manner and form following; that is to say, two-third parts thereof to some good and godly preacher, to be chosen from time to time by and with the good liking of the Wardens and Assistants of the said Company for the time being, which preacher should preach every week on the Sabbath-day publicly, in the parish church of Kinver, in the county of Stafford; and the other third part of the said residue of the said rents and profits to the Schoolmaster of the free school in Kinver aforesaid for the time being, the same payments to have continuance for ever.

He also willed and devised the sum of 100*l.* more to be by his executors paid to the said Wardens and Company of Leathersellers, that they therewith should in like manner purchase to them and their successors lands or tenements, and should deduct out of the rents and profits of the same ten shillings a-year for ever, to the common use and benefit of the said Company; and should well and truly pay half-yearly for ever, the residue of all such rents and profits, in manner following; that is to say, that the said Wardens and Company should make choice of some poor scholar, either in the University of Cambridge or Oxford, unto whom his desire was that they should pay the whole residue of all such rents and profits half-yearly, during the space of five whole years, for and towards his better maintenance, if such poor scholar should so long continue his studies, and be resident in either of the said Universities, and from and after the end of the said five years or sooner discontinuance by such poor scholar, either of his study or residence in one of the said Universities, then that the said Wardens and Company should pay the same to some other poor scholar, by them to be elected for other five years, in such manner and form as aforesaid, and so from the end of five years to five years for ever, giving a preference to his own kindred, if any should make suit for this his said exhibition.

Anne Elliott, by her will dated the 1st of June, 1605, gave and bequeathed the sum of 200*l.* to be paid to the Master and Wardens of the Company of Leathersellers of the city of London, at such time as they should and would purchase and buy with the same, unto the Master, Wardens, and Commonalty of the Leathersellers aforesaid, by such name or names as they are incorporated or called, and to their successors for ever, lands or tenements of the clear yearly value of ten pounds by the year, to be weekly given and bestowed to and upon the poor almsmen and almswomen for the time being of the said Company of Leathersellers, for ever; and by the said will, after reciting that she had already begun, and so did resolve to continue for ever, the payment of five pounds yearly, to some one poor scholar in Oxford or Cambridge, and had made choice of one Andrew Castleton, then scholar in Cambridge, upon whom she had conferred her said allowance or exhibition for the term of ten years from Midsummer then next, the said Anne Elliott for the better performance of that her intention unto the said Andrew Castleton and other poor scholars successively, gave and bequeathed the sum of 100*l.* unto the said Wardens and Company of Leathersellers, that they therewith might purchase to them and their successors, so much land as the rent or value thereof might arise unto five pounds the year, which she desired might be employed for ever, in manner following; (that is to say), that the said Wardens and Company should continue the payment of five pounds a-year unto the said Andrew Castleton during the said term of ten years, and after the expiration thereof, that the said Wardens and Company should make choice of some poor scholar, either in Cambridge or Oxford, unto whom her desire and request was, that they should pay five pounds yearly, during the space of five whole years, for and towards his better maintenance, if such poor scholar should so long continue his study, and be resting in any of the said Universities; and she desired, that if any of her own kindred should happen to make suit for the said exhibition, they should be preferred.

In the year 1627, the legacies given by these benefactors were invested in the purchase of an estate at Sydenham, which was conveyed to the Company by the following deeds:—

By indenture of feoffment, dated the 12th of June 1627, George Andrews, William Yeats, and Simon Yeomans, in consideration of the sum of 600*l.*, granted, bargained, sold, and enfeoffed to the Wardens and Society of Leathersellers, their successors and assigns, for ever, all that messuage or tenement, with the appurtenances, situate in Perry Street, in Sydenham, in the parish of Lewisham, in the county of Kent, then or late in the occupation of the said George Andrews and Richard Rundell, or one of them; and also all those two several closes of land or pasture, some time being one close, and then divided into two parts, containing in the whole by estimation four acres, to the said messuage adjoining; and also all those two parcels of land or pasture, containing by estimation one acre and a half, commonly called Tanners, lying in or near Perry Street aforesaid, abutting northward towards a parcel of land there commonly called Annables, and towards the way leading to a certain field commonly called Roger's Field on the South, and towards the King's highway on the West; and also all those pieces and parcels of land and pasture, lying in a certain close commonly called Jack Robin's Close and Tanner's Field, in Sydenham aforesaid, or elsewhere in the parish of Lewisham, in the said county of Kent, or in any or either of them; and also all those several inclosures or parcels of land, meadow, pasture, and wood ground, commonly known by the several names of Hawkes, Priest Field, Annables, Beechcroft, Swallands, Tomlin's Croft, High Field, alias Pigs Hill, More Mead, More Mead

Grove, Polecroft, Pole Hill Grove, and Guls Grove, containing by estimation forty-eight acres, together with all woods, &c.; to hold the same to the only proper and absolute use and behoof of the said Wardens and Society, their successors and assigns, for ever.

The Commissioners for inquiring into Charities, state, that 5*l.* a-year was paid to an exhibitor till the year 1654, when the payment was reduced to 4*l.*, at which it continued till 1811, when it was increased to 8*l.* a-year, at which it now remains; the reason of the reduction is not very satisfactorily explained. It is clear, however, that *Moseley's exhibitor is entitled, under his will, to the whole of the clear rent of the land purchased with the 100*l.* given to found the exhibition*, after deducting 10*s.* a-year for the use of the Company; and his share of the present rent (after deducting that 10*s.*) would be 27*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.*, subject to his proportion of charge for collecting the rents and managing the property.

The exhibitor is appointed to either University indifferently, by the Court of Assitants, and receives his exhibition on a certificate from his College, that he is a resident member. Till 1777, the exhibition was held five years, as directed by Moseley's will; since that time it has been held only for four years. The reason for the departure from the express directions of the founder, is not satisfactorily explained.

Mrs. Elliott's exhibitor is appointed and paid in the same manner as Moseley's. The exhibition was at first 5*l.*; in 1654 it was reduced to 4*l.*, and in 1811 raised to 8*l.*, and from 1777 has been held for four years only, instead of five. The same observation occurs, as in the former case, as to the impropriety of shortening the duration of the exhibition; and there appears to have been a more marked impropriety in the reduction of the payment to 4*l.*, as it was expressly fixed in this case, by the donor, at 5*l.*, which was not so in the former.

Mrs. Elliott does not direct that the rents and profits of the lands to be purchased with her two legacies shall be paid to the objects of her bounty, and seems, from the terms of her will, only to have contemplated obtaining the security of land for the payment of the annual sums of 10*l.* and 5*l.* to the alms-people and the exhibitioner. If so, the proportion of the improved rents applicable to the share of the purchase-money derived from her benefactions, after paying those sums, will properly remain to the benefit of the Company. A question, however, may be raised, whether, as she made no disposition as to any surplus rents that might accrue, the annuitants are not entitled to receive their proportions of the improved rents; in that case, the alms-people would receive, upon the present rental, 56*l.* 11*s.*, and the exhibitioner 28*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.*, subject to deductions for management. This question, in fact, only affects the exhibitioner; for the payments actually made to the alms-people, (even taking Mrs. Elliott's donation at this amount) exceed the sum of all the benefactions specifically appropriated to them.

Robert Holmden, by will bearing date 20th July 1619, gave to the Company of Leathersellers his messuage, called the George on Horseback, in Great East Cheap, upon condition that they should pay out of the said messuage, yearly, the sum of 12*l.* to the uses following: 4*l.* yearly towards the maintenance of a scholar in one of the Universities of Cambridge or Oxford, to be taken out of the free grammar school of Seven Oaks, for the space of four years, and so from time to time ; and if there should be no scholar ready to be preferred out of the school of Seven Oaks, then that the said 4*l.* should be paid to a scholar out of the free school of Tunbridge.

Under this gift, the Company are the owners of a house in East Cheap, now in the occupation of Mr. Curwen, tea-broker, and of a piece of ground behind it, under lease to the Trustees of the parish of St. Clement East Cheap.

The exhibition of 4*l.* per annum was paid, as directed, to a scholar, either at Oxford or Cambridge, appointed by the Company, till 1817, when its amount was voluntarily raised by them to 8*l.* per annum.

Of late years, this exhibition has been given to a scholar at either of the Universities, without reference to the place of his previous education. There have been no applications for the benefit of it, from scholars of either of the schools of Seven Oaks or Tunbridge, except in the instance of the vacancy before the last, when the Master of Tunbridge school applied to the Company on behalf of one of his scholars, after that vacancy had been filled up ; but in lieu thereof, an exhibition of 16*l.* per annum, arising from Rogers's gift, before mentioned, being vacant, was given to the scholar thus recommended.

George Humble, by will bearing date 8th September 1638, gave to the Leathersellers Company, for ever, his house in Gracechurch Street, then let at 9*l.* per annum, but which after nine years would be worth more, to the intent, that out of the rents and profits thereof the Master and Wardens of the said Company should pay yearly to two poor scholars, one of Cambridge, and the other of Oxford, to be applied by the Court of Assistants at Midsummer, during the first four years of their being at the University, 4*l.* a-year, and so from thenceforth for ever. And he directed that the remainder of the said 9*l.* per annum, “and what more,” should be divided, yearly, among such poor people of the said Company as the Court of Assistants should think fit.

Exhibitions have always been paid by the Company in respect of this gift to two scholars, one at each of the Universities, appointed by the Court of Assistants, for four years; and in 1815 the amount of each of them was voluntarily raised by the Company from 4*l.* to 8*l.* There is no specific appropriation of the residue of the rents of these premises, to which, beyond the original amount of the two exhibitions, being 4*l.* per annum each, the poor of the Company are entitled.

Mercers Company.

MARTHA BARRETT gave to the Company of Mercers 100*l.*, to the intent that they should yearly pay to one of the poorest scholars in Magdalen College, Oxford, studying divinity, to be elected by the Master, Wardens, and Commonalty of the Mercers Company, 5*l.* a-year.

It appears, that since the month of October 1763, two appointments only have been made of exhibitioners to Magdalen College, no other applications having been received for this benefaction. The first of these exhibitioners was appointed at Christmas, 1765, and continued till Christmas 1771; the other was appointed at Lady-day 1818, and still holds the exhibition. From the arrears which accumulated while the exhibition remained unclaimed, the sum of 286*l.* 16*s.* 3*d.* was, at two several periods in the years 1808 and 1818, invested in the purchase of 400*l.*, three per cent. consols, leaving, at the time of the last investment, a balance in hand of 28*l.* 15*s.* The annual dividends of 12*l.* being added to the original 5*l.*, makes the present amount of the exhibition 17*l.* per annum, which is the sum now paid to the exhibitioner.

Alderman William Walthall, by will dated the 16th of July 1608, gave to the Mercers Company the sum of 500*l.*, and he directed, among other purposes, that 9*l.* should be yearly distributed to three of the poorest scholars in Cambridge, towards their charge, that should happen to commence Master of Arts, such as might be recommended to the Wardens of the said Company to have most need to be relieved.

The payments to poor scholars have not been applied for for many years, and the accumulations thereof have been invested in the purchase of three per cent. consols. The amount of stock thus purchased is now 900*l.*, producing a yearly dividend of 27*l.*, which, added to the original annuity, would afford three exhibitions of 12*l.* a-year each. The non-application of this benefaction appears to have arisen in a great measure from a difficulty felt by the Company, in ascertaining who were entitled to receive it under the description of persons "commencing Master of Arts." The Commissioners state, that it appears to them that the intentions of the donor would be sufficiently complied with, by paying the money to the poor scholars on taking their Master's degree, towards defraying the expense thereof.

Mrs. Mary Robinson, by will, proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, the 26th of September 1618, gave to the Company of Mercers 500*l.* upon trust, either to purchase so much land, or otherwise so much maintenance, as should amount to the clear yearly value of 25*l.* which she directed should be yearly paid to four poor scholars of some College or Colleges in Cambridge, at the nomination of the said Company, quarterly, so as they should become students in divinity, and preachers of the Gospel; and when any one of the said poor scholars should be preferred, or die, then she directed that his portion should be bestowed upon some other in his place. This money was invested, with other sums for charitable purposes, by the Company, in the purchase of a farm.

On the balance of accounts of the Chalgrave estate, which was purchased with this bequest and other trustmonies by the Company, at Michaelmas 1802, there was due to this charity an arrear of 356*l.* 15*s.* 5½*d.* This sum, with other arrears of rent unapplied, and the proportion of the produce of timber, have been funded, and have produced the following sums of stock:—

And at the audit in October 1820, there remained on hand unapplied, 43*l.* 13*s.* 0½*d.*

Four exhibitioners now receive 24*l.* a-year each. They are appointed by the General Court, and the exhibitions are now always kept full. It is required that the candidates should be entered at some college in Cambridge, and that they should produce from their college testimonials of good conduct, and further certificates of statutable residence are required upon every payment of the exhibitions. They retain their exhibitions for seven years, unless they previously obtain church preferment.

This limitation of the duration of the exhibitions appears to have long prevailed, but it may be doubted, whether it is in strict conformity with the intentions of Mrs. Robinson, who, from the terms of her will, appears only to have contemplated vacancies taking place by preferment or death.

The surplus of the present income, beyond the amount of the exhibitions, is carried to account, with a view to be applied in a permanent increase of the allowances, when it shall have reached a sufficient sum.

By indenture, bearing date the 4th of December, 17th Elizabeth, between the Wardens and Commonalty of Mercers of the one part, and Lady Margaret North, widow of the Right Honourable Edward Lord North of the other part, reciting, that the said Lady Margaret North, of a charitable intent to advance learning, and to provide for the relief of some of her kinsmen, was minded, after her death, to advance the persons and children therein named; and, after all their deceases, to have four children continually for ever brought up in some grammar school, and after, in one of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge ; for accomplishing which, the said Lady Margaret North had paid to the said Wardens and Commonalty the sum of 500*l.* ; the said Wardens and Commonalty, in consideration thereof, covenanted with the said Lady Margaret North, to pay to her 40*l.* a-year for her life, and after her decease, to pay the same to the persons mentioned in the said indenture, in the proportions therein specified ; and after the death of all the said persons, to pay yearly to four male children, of the age of nine years or above, to be brought up and taught, first in some grammar school, and after in the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge (if they should be found apt to learning), 40 marks ; viz. to each of the said four scholars, 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* ; provided that, if either of the said children should not be kept at learning in some grammar school or university, or should be two years Master of Arts in either of the said universities, or advanced to any competent living, that then the payment to him should thenceforth cease, and that the other should be chosen in his place ; all which children were to be called the scholars of Lady Margaret North, and should be chosen, appointed, and taken from time to time by the Wardens and Assistants of the said Company for the time being, out of the male children proceeding from the aforesaid kinsmen ; and from lack thereof, from the kin of the said Lady Margaret North ; and for lack of such, the choice to be made of other children, apt for learning, according to the good discretion of the said Wardens and Assistants for the time being. This legacy, the same as Mrs. Robinson's, was invested in the purchase of the Chalgrave estate.

From the arrears of Lady North's benefaction, which have been unappropriated from time to time, a sum of 1,850*l.* three per cent. consols has been purchased, the annual dividend on which being 55*l.* 10*s.* added to the original annuity of 26*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* makes the present income of this charity 82*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.* No children are now kept at school from this fund ; but four exhibitions, of 20*l.* each, are paid to four students at either university, who are appointed by the Court of Assistants, and paid upon similar testimonials and certificates, as Mrs. Robinson's exhibitioners. The surplus of income is carried to account, and at the audit in October 1820, there was a balance in hand of 23*l.* 1*s.* 5½*d.*

These exhibitions, as well as Mrs. Robinson's, are held for seven years, upon which it may be observed, that the limit of duration fixed by Lady North, was until the student should have been two years Master of Arts, or have obtained preferment.

Thomas Rich gave by will, in 1672, to the Mercers Company, his tenements in St. Mary Axe, (consisting now of a house, let for 30*l.* per annum,) which he charged with a payment of two exhibitions of 6*l.* each, to two scholars sent from Mercers School to the University. By the same will, he also charged the said premises with the further annual sum of 12*l.* to be paid to the Governors of Christ's Hospital, for two other exhibitions of 6*l.* each, to two poor scholars, who should have been educated in Christ's Hospital, and sent to the university.

Merchant Taylors Company.

WALTER Fish, by his will dated 17th of September, 22d Elizabeth, devised to the Master and Wardens of the Merchant Taylors Company, a house and tenement in Cannon Street, London, to hold to the said Company and their successors for ever, upon trust, that the Company should employ the rent of the said premises between five poor studious scholars of St. John's College, Oxford, which should be most like to bend their studies to divinity, to be yearly divided between them, towards the amendment of their victuals and batteling.

The sum of 22*l.* the present rental of the premises, is yearly paid to five poor scholars in divinity, of St. John's College, Oxford, to each 4*l.* 8*s.*

John Juxon, by will dated 17th of August 1626, granted to the Master and Wardens of the Merchant Taylors Company, and their successors, for ever, upon the discontinuance of certain lectures by the testator directed to be held (which have long since ceased), an annuity of 12*l.* per annum, issuing and payable out of certain lands purchased by him of Anthony Calcot, situate at Mortlake, in the county of Surrey, to be by them paid according as they should think fit, at or before the feast of St. Thomas the Apostle, to some poor scholars, the one year in Oxford, and the other year in Cambridge, for ever.

The sum of 12*l.* per annum is answered by a payment of 9*l.* 12*s.* by the Company to a scholar of Oxford and Cambridge alternately, 2*l.* 8*s.* being deducted on account of land-tax. The exhibition is constantly in a course of payment.

John Vernon, by his will dated 10th October 1615, gave to the Master and Wardens of the Merchant Taylors Company 1,500*l.* to purchase land to the value of 83*l.* by the year, or more, if the Master and Wardens could with that sum (which was after eighteen years purchase, and at the rate of 5*l.* 10*s.* in the hundred), which said 83*l.* he directed, among other things, should be disposed of to four poor scholars, students in divinity in St. John's College, Oxford, 16*l.* yearly, viz. 4*l.* a man, to be elected by the Master, Wardens, and Assistants, to continue no longer than they should study divinity, and remain in the said college, or stand in the liking of the said Master, Wardens, and Assistants, and so to be disposed of from one to another for ever.

---

John Wooller, by will dated 26th of March 1617, devised to the Master and Wardens of the Merchant Taylors Company, an annuity of 24*l.*, to be issuing out of his messuage or tenement, with the wharf, and all other the appurtenances thereto belonging, called the Cross Keys, in Thames Street, in the parish of St. Magnus the Martyr, near London Bridge; to bestow the said yearly rent-charge of 24*l.* among other purposes, yearly, for ever, 40*s.* to a poor scholar of the college of St. John's in Oxford, as should have most need, and intending to study divinity.

The sum of 4*l.* per annum is paid yearly to a poor scholar of the college of St. John's in Oxford.

Dr. John Andrew, by will bearing date 15th of May 1747, directed that his body should be interred in the chapel of Trinity Hall, Cambridge; and in order to make a suitable provision for his relations, (relying on the integrity of that Society), and for the future encouragement of learning, he directed that, as soon as a suitable purchase of a freehold estate should be met with, all his three per cent. annuities in the Bank of England should be sold and invested therein, and settled to the uses thereafter mentioned, viz. that the rents and profits thereof should be paid to his sisters, Ann Andrew, Elizabeth Woodward, Bridget Andrew, and Lois Andrew, for their joint lives, and to the survivors and survivor of them; and after the death of the last survivor, to the use of the said Hall; and he directed that four new scholarships should be then founded, to be chosen from such as had been educated in Merchant Taylors School, in the city of London, who should have been in the bench or table of the said school; who, beside the usual allowance and payments made to the other scholars of the house, should receive 5*l.* quarterly from the bursar of the said College; and that the remainder of the rents and profits of the said estate should be put out on government securities, until there should be raised the sum of 20,000*l.* to be laid out in additional buildings to the said College, as therein mentioned, with certain allowances to the Master and officers of the College for making up the account, and receiving and paying the rents of the estate; and that after the 20,000*l.* should be so raised, he directed that four new civil law fellowships should be erected, and added to their number, with a provision that no person should be appointed to the same fellowships, unless he should have been educated at the same school; and that when the said fellowships should be added, the said account should be discontinued, and the rents of the estate or estates be applied to the general use of the College; but that the salary of 20*l.* a year to the bursar therein mentioned should be continued, and 10*l.* a year be added to that of the law-lecturer of the said College; and he directed, that until a purchase should be made, the interest and dividends of the aforesaid three per cent. annuities should be received by his executrix, for the use of herself and her said sisters, in equal shares.

The testator, among other legacies, gave to his brother, the Rev. William Andrew, 1,050*l.* lent by the testator upon the Huntingdon and Cambridge turnpikes, to be applied to the support and maintenance of his son John Andrew, during his natural life, in such manner as his brother should direct; and after his decease, he gave the said 1,050*l.* to the said Master and Fellows of the said College, to be laid out in land, towards the better support of the additional scholarships and fellowships; and until they were erected, the profits thereof were to make part of the fund intended for the additional buildings; and the testator gave to his brother's son William, the interest and dividends of 500*l.* Bank stock, during his life, the said capital stock to be transferred to the aforesaid College; and after the death of the said William, to be applied in like manner as the said 1,050*l.*; and he directed all the rest and residue of his estate, except 1,000*l.* East India stock, which he devised to his sister Ann, to be equally divided among his sisters, but that in case any of them should die before a division was made, their share should go to the survivors.

And he appointed his sister, Lois Andrew, executrix of his said will.

By a codicil to his said will, bearing even date therewith, he directed, that in case his sister Bridget should survive her sisters Woodward and Lois, as her health would not permit her to enjoy what he had given her, that the College should pay her 200*l.* a year; and that the remainder of his three per cents. and India stock, should be applied to the account towards additional building, or the profits of the estate purchased therewith; and that whereas his sister Ann was then deceased, he directed that the 1,000*l.* East India stock, given to her by his said will, should be added to his three per cent. annuities, and be applied in the same manner with them.

By an indenture of three parts, made 6th February 1801, between Thomas Harrison Andrew, of Moss Hall, Finchley, in the county of Middlesex, (therein described as the residuary devisee and legatee of James Andrew, who was heir-at-law and only next of kin of Dr. John Andrew, and also residuary devisee and legatee, and only next of kin of Lois Andrew, spinster, deceased, one of the residuary devisees and legatees, and next of kin of the said Dr. John Andrew) of the first part; the Master and Wardens of the said Company, of the second part; and the President and Scholars of St. John's College, Oxford, of the third part; reciting the said will and codicil, and the death of the testator without issue; and deducing the representation, real and personal, to the said Thomas Harrison Andrew, and stating that the said testator at the time of making his will and codicil, and at his death, was possessed of 500*l.* Bank stock ; 17,200*l.* three per cent. consols, 1,000*l.* three per cent. reduced annuities of the year 1726 ; 1,000*l.* East India stock ; and 1,050*l.* secured upon the Huntingdon and Cambridge turnpike tolls ; and that the said several stocks had been transferred into the joint names of the Master, Fellows, and Scholars of Trinity Hall aforesaid, and of Lois Andrews, the then executrix of the said testator named in his will ; and that by a deed-poll under the common seal of the same Hall, dated 17th May 1755, reciting the before-mentioned facts, and acknowledging that the above-mentioned sums, standing in the said several stocks, were all the Bank annuities, Bank stock, and East India stock, of which the said testator was possessed at his decease, the said Master, Fellows, and Scholars, agreed to stand possessed thereof, in trust, in the first place, for the said several annuitants, and, subject thereto, to the purposes mentioned in the will of the said Dr. John Andrew ; and, further reciting, that no part of the said sums mentioned in the will had been invested in the purchase of lands, as therein directed ; and that after the death of the said Lois Andrew, the said Master, Fellows, and Scholars, had refused to accept the said bequest of the said Dr. John Andrew, or to execute the trusts of his will ; whereupon the attorney-general, at the relation of the Merchant Taylors Company, had filed an information against the said Hall ; and that by a decree, made in the said cause, dated 5th March 1798, it was ordered, that the said information should be dismissed, so far as it prayed that the defendants, the Master, Fellows, and Scholars, might be bound to execute the trusts of the said will ; and that the said defendants should transfer the several stocks and funds before mentioned, into the name of the accountant-general, in trust, for the said cause ; and that it should be referred to one of the Masters of the said Court, to take an account of what had been received by the defendants for interest on the 1,050*l.* turnpike securities before mentioned, which should be paid into the Bank in the name of the accountant-general, to the credit of the said cause ; that the relators should be at liberty to lay proposals before the said trustees for carrying into execution the said intended donation, and to tax the costs as therein mentioned ; and further reciting in the said indenture, that the Master made a separate report, dated 16th August 1800, whereby he found that upon the turnpike securities to Midsummer 1799, a sum of 1,897*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* for interest, had come to the hands of the said Master, Fellows, and Scholars ; and that the funds so transferred to the said accountant-general then amounted, after payment of costs, as follows, to 26,394*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.* three per cent. annuities ; 503*l.* 17*s.* 3*d.* Bank stock ; 1,000*l.* East India stock ; 1,000*l.* three per cent. annuities of 1726 ; and 846*l.* 10*s.* 11*d.* cash, beside the said turnpike securities ; and that a compromise respecting the said trust had been come to between the Merchant Taylors Company and the said Thomas Harrison Andrew, whereby it was agreed, that the sum of 2,610*l.* cash, with interest for the same at 5*l.* per cent., and also the sum of 2,666*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* three per cent. consols, should be allotted and appropriated out of the said funds for the purpose of establishing six civil law scholarships or exhibitions, as near as might be to the intent of the said will, and that the residue of the funds in the said cause, after payment of costs, should be transferred to the said Thomas Har-risson Andrew ; and that at a meeting between the said Master and Wardens, and the President and Scholars of St. John's College, Oxford, proposals had been laid before the said President and Scholars for the establishing of six civil law scholarships or exhibitions at that College from Merchant Taylors School, to the effect following, viz. that the said two last-mentioned sums, and interest and dividends thereof, should be paid to the Master and Wardens of the said Company, for establishing the said scholarships or exhibitions, so soon as the funds and accumulating interest would admit thereof, at *50*l.* per annum each*, to be elected from the said school, and taken out of the bench or table thereof, from among such as had been four years at least scholars in the said school, or from such other persons as had been at the bench or table, and in the school for four years, but had left the said school not under sixteen nor above twenty years of age at the time of election, who were to continue twelve years, and not longer, and to be accounted civil law scholars or civil law exhibitioners, with such other provision respecting their residence, and accommodation, and studies at College, as therein mentioned ; and that in case of the vacancy of a scholar, not exceeding six months, the pension should go to the next succeeding scholar ; if longer than six months, to constitute a part of the accumulating fund after mentioned ; and that until all the scholars or exhibitioners were elected, the interest of the funds, or such parts thereof as should not be applied to the paying the pensions, should be an accumulating fund, to be disposed of by the Company as they should think proper, for the benefit of the said scholars ; it is witnessed, that the said parties did thereby mutually covenant and agree, that the said Master and Wardens should and would accept the said sum of 2,610*l.* cash, and interest for the same, from the date of the indenture now in recital, at five per cent. ; and also the sum of 2,666*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* three per cent. consols, with their costs, in full satisfaction of all their right and interest in the said funds, and in the money due on the said turnpike securities, the said Thomas Harrison Andrew to take the residue of the said funds and securities for his own proper use and benefit, and the same to be transferred to him accordingly ; and that a bill should be filed in the said Court of Chancery, on the part of the said Thomas Harrison Andrew, against the said Master and Wardens, and also against the said President and Scholars, for the purposes of carrying the said agreement into execution.

The above arrangement was subsequently confirmed by a Decree of the Court of Chancery, dated 21st June 1802 ; and by the same decree it was referred to the Master to compute interest on the sum of 2,610*l.* from the date of the indenture, who accordingly computed the same, and reported, that from the date of the said indenture to the 28th November 1802, being the date of such report, the said interest amounted to 247*l.* 2*s.* 3*d.* which being added to the sum of 2,610*l.* made the sum of 2,857*l.* 2*s.* 3*d.* to be paid to the defendants, the Master and Wardens of the said Company, according to the decree. The Master further stated, that he had not taxed costs, as the parties had not brought their bills before him.

The above-mentioned sums, so allotted by the said agreement and decree to the Merchant Taylors Company, were transferred to them agreeably to the directions thereof. The said sum of 2,857*l.* 2*s.* 3*d.* was in February 1803, laid out in the purchase of 4,045*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.* three per cent. consols, making, with the 2,666*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* in the same stock before mentioned, the sum of 6,712*l.* 8*s.* 3*d.* three per cents.

This sum was augmented by an accumulating interest till it amounted to the sum of 10,000*l.* in that stock, in the year 1818, at which time the trust was actively commenced by the establishment of *six civil law scholarships at St. John's, Oxford, of 50*l.* each.*

There are at present six scholarships of 50*l.* each, being the interest of the 10,000*l.* consols. The scholars, as vacancies occur, are elected by the Company on St. Barnabas's-day, from among the scholars of Merchant Taylor's school, as near as may be, according to the directions of the founder.

Though the Merchant Taylors Company have no controul over the scholarships of Dr. Stuart and Mr. Parkin, yet as the scholarships are attached to Merchant Taylors School, they may, therefore, very properly be introduced here.

Copy of so much of the Rev. Dr. Stuart's will, as relates to 2,500*l.* given to Merchant Taylors School, &c.

“ In the name of God, Amen! I, William Stuart, Doctor in Divinity and Chancellor of the diocese of Exeter, being in perfect mind and memory, and mindful of my mortality, do make and declare my last will and testament, in manner and form following:—

“ To my beloved wife, Mary Stuart, I give, as a jointure, the sum of 2,500*l.*, for her to enjoy all the interest, income, or profits of the said sum during her natural life, and after her decease to be inherited by the child or children which God shall give me by her.

“ But, if it shall please God that I shall die childless, then from and after the decease of my said dear wife, the said sum of 2,500*l.*, enjoyed by her as above said, shall descend to be equally divided between my nephew the Rev. Mr. Charles Stuart and my niece Mary Stuart, and to their or either of their children, to be enjoyed by them and the survivor of them.

“ And, in the meanwhile, if the said sum of 2,500*l.*, so given as a jointure to my dear wife, and after her death to be divided between my said nephew and niece, should be found not safe in the hands, or under the securities, I shall have put them out upon, it shall then be in the power of my said dear wife, by and with the consent of my said nephew and niece, but not in the power of my said nephew and niece without the free and actual consent of my said dear wife, to call in any part of the said 2,500*l.* as they shall see cause to think not safe, but shall be obliged to put it out again in such a manner as shall be to the satisfaction and security of my said dear wife.

“ In case my said nephew and niece should die unmarried, or by their marriage should have or leave no child behind them, then my will and meaning is, and I do hereby give and bequeath unto the Head Master of Merchant Taylors School, in London, for the time being, and to the President and Fellows of St. John Baptist's College, in Oxford, for the time being, the sum of 1,250*l.*, being one moiety of the said 2,500*l.* above mentioned; and the other moiety of the said 2,500*l.* I likewise give and bequeath unto the Head Master of the school above mentioned, for the time being, and to the Master and Fellows of Pembroke Hall, in Cambridge, for the time being; in trust, nevertheless, and for the sole use and purpose hereinafter mentioned, and for no other; that is to say, that the Head Master of the said school, and the Heads and Fellows of the said two Colleges respectively, shall, within two years after they are entitled to their respective moieties, lay out the same in the best manner they can devise, to answer for ever the design for which I give the said sums; that is to say, that a boy who has continued in Merchant Taylors School five years, at least, in hopes of being elected out of it, and has come the nearest to it, and yet lost the election for no fault in morals or defect in learning, but by superannuation only, that the said scholar may have no reason to think his time lost, or himself unhappy on that account, the interest and profit annually arising out of that 1,250*l.*, which I have given to the Head Master of Merchant Taylors School, and to the President and Fellows of St. John Baptist's College, in Oxon., in trust, I have given for the use and encouragement of that one superannuated scholar that shall enter himself in the said College of St. John Baptist, Oxon., to be enjoyed by him for the space of eight years and no longer, or for so long only as he shall reside there, and duly perform all the exercises that the statutes of that University and of the said College require by Scholars, Bachelors, and Masters of Arts. The other 1,250*l.*, which I have given, in trust, to the Head Master of Merchant Taylors School aforesaid, and to the Master and Fellows of Pembroke Hall, in Cambridge, I design for the use and encouragement of another scholar of Merchant Taylors School that shall be superannuated as aforesaid, and shall enter himself of Pembroke Hall, in Cambridge; and he shall receive and enjoy all the interest and profits annually arising from the said 1,250*l.* for the space of seven years, from his first entry in that University, or for so long time only as he shall reside there, and duly perform all exercises which the statutes of that College and University require of Scholars, Bachelors, and Masters of Arts.

“ As soon as the term of eight years shall be fully completed by the said superannuated scholar in St. John Baptist's College, in Oxon, and the term of seven years shall be completed by the other superannuated scholar in Cambridge, the payment of the interest of each of the said sums of 1,250*l.* shall be discontinued to them respectively.

“ And, as often as it shall happen that there shall be no scholar in Merchant Taylors School actually superannuated in the manner above required, from the expiration of the term allowed as above to each of the said scholars for their enjoyment of the said interest to the time that a scholar in the said school shall be superannuated as above, whatever interest shall become due, the Master of Merchant Taylors School, with the Heads and Fellows of the two Colleges above mentioned, shall have hereby power to demand and receive, and shall be obliged to add it to that 1,250*l.*, from whence the said interest shall arise for the augmentation of the said sum, and for the better support of the said superannuated scholars for the future.

“ But, if there shall be in the said school a scholar that shall actually have lost the election by superannuation only within a year after the expiration of either of the terms allowed as above to either of the said scholars in Oxford or Cambridge, then and in that case the interest that shall become due for that year shall not be reserved as above mentioned, but it shall be given to, and be enjoyed by, the boy that shall be superannuated within that year.

“ And to the end, that this my design may not be defeated by the carelessness, extravagance, or misfortune, of any of my heirs, my will and meaning is, that none of them shall have the said two moieties, making together 2,500*l.*, in their power either to spend, or waste, or lose; but that, immediately after the death of my dear wife, whoever shall survive or succeed as my heirs, whether it be my nephew or niece above mentioned, or either of their children or grandchildren, in order to qualify themselves to be my heirs, and to gain a title to the whole or any part of the interest or profit annually made of the said 2,500*l.*, shall be obliged to give the Master of the said school, and the Heads of the two Colleges above mentioned, such security for the principal sum as counsel learned in the law shall judge sufficient. And, as often as a new heir or heirs, descended in a right line from my nephew or niece above mentioned, shall succeed and be entitled to the whole, or to a moiety of the said 2,500*l.*, they shall be obliged to give new security to the persons and for the purpose above said.

“ But, if any of my heirs appointed shall think fit to refuse to give the security hereby required, then and in that case the Master of Merchant Taylors School, London, and the Heads and Fellows of St. John Baptist's College, Oxon., and Pembroke Hall, in Cambridge, shall have full power, as I hereby give them, to seize upon the principal as in their own right, upon condition that they pay to my heir or heirs so refusing, half only of the lawful interest of the sum to him, her, or them, to whom the whole would otherwise belong, reserving the other half for the necessary expenses which such a refusal may occasion, and for supplying the superannuated scholars with books.

“ As soon as the heirs in a direct line from my said nephew and niece shall cease, I appoint the Head Master of Merchant Taylors School, London, the President and Fellows of St. John Baptist's College, Oxon., and the Master and Fellows of Pembroke Hall, Cambridge, all for the time being, my executors in trust for this my donation, and to see that this my benefaction take place from that time. And whatever expenses the said executors in trust shall be at in securing the said sums for the purposes aforesaid, they shall be defrayed out of the interest arising from the whole, that so one scholar may not have more in any year than the other, and that the principal may not be diminished.

“ All the rest and residue of my goods and chattels, of what kind soever here undisposed of, I give to my dear wife, Mary Stuart, whom I, by these presents, constitute and appoint sole executrix of this my last will and testament.

“ In testimony that I design this for my last will and testament, consisting of twelve pages in folio, all writ with my own hand, I have hereunto set my name and seal this 10th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1733.’’

In consequence of failure of heirs in a direct line, this property was transferred as directed by the testator.

Extracted from the Registry of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury.

“ In the name of God, Amen! I, Charles Parkin, clerk, Rector of Oxburgh, in the county of Norfolk, being of sound and perfect mind and memory, do make and ordain this my last will and testament, in manner and form as follows:—First, I recommend my soul with all humility to Almighty God, hoping to obtain remission of all my sins and life eternal, in and through the merits alone of my blessed Saviour Jesus Christ, the Redeemer of all mankind, and my body to be buried in the chancel of Oxburgh, in a decent manner. As to my estates and worldly goods which God of his abundant goodness has bestowed upon me, I give and bequeath to my loving sister, Sarah Parkin, my house and freehold lands in Barton Bendish, in Norfolk, for life, and after to the Master, Fellows, and Scholars, of Pembroke Hall, in Cambridge; and also I give to her my copyhold land in West Dereham, held of the manor of Batchcroft, in the said town, for her life only, and on condition that she settles it after my death on the aforesaid Hall, and gives such a security in a month’s time, after my decease, to do so, as the said Society shall see proper. Otherwise I give it to the said Master, Fellows, and Scholars, above mentioned at my death. And whereas I have several sums of money on certain mortgages, viz., 440*l.* on the lands of Mr. — Howard, of West Dereham; 600*l.* on the lands, &c. of Mr. John Briston, of Godeston; 70*l.* on the lands of Mr. Abraham Wright, now Mr. H. Clerk, of Methwold, lying in Werham; 650*l.* on Mr. Took Cosins, in Barton and Eastmore; 200*l.* on Capt. Ben. Young, in Foulden, &c.; 570*l.* on Mr. Nolworth's, of East Dereham; 250*l.* on the late Rev. Mr. Blomfield's, in Fersefield; 80*l.* on Mr. Henry Snellings, (of Hilburgh,) lying in Foulden; 320*l.* on Mr. Coots, (of Scarning,) lying in Ovington; 105*l.* on Phil. Culham, in Swaffham; 500*l.* on Mr. Charles Brown's, lying in Massingam; 163*l.* on Mr. S. Smith's, in West Derham; 144*l.* on Mr. Geo. Sandcroft's, in Watton; also certain bonds for money, viz., 100*l.* to the Rev. Mr. Wright, of East Harling; 25*l.* to Isaac Williams, of Foulden; 70*l.* to Mr. S. Belson, of Woodrising; 20*l.* to Mr. Stephen Howes, of Foulden; a note of Mr. B. Crowe, of Swaffham, for 50*l.*; one of Mr. Peter Blomfield, of Swaffham, for 40*l.*; out of the annual interest money arising from these mortgages, bonds, and notes, I give and bequeath the sum of 60*l.* per annum to my sister, Sarah, to be paid her by two equal payments, 30*l.* on Midsummer-day, and on Christmas-day 30*l.*, or in the space of two months after each of those days, on this condition, that she continues in her single state and does not marry; but if she marries or acts in any respect so as to endeavour to oppose and set aside this my will, or make any further claim or demand whatever on my estate, goods, or chattels, all that I have here in this my will given and granted to her, I do declare and ordain to be entirely and absolutely void. Also, out of the annual interest money arising from the said mortgages, bonds, &c., I give and bequeath to my sister, Grace Sharpe, the sum of 16*l.* per annum, to be paid on the said days by equal portions or in the space of two months after, as is appointed for the payment of my sister Sarah's annual sum, and on the like pains and penalty, if she or any one person, claiming under her endeavours, any ways to oppose and set aside this my will, or make any further claim or demand on my estate, goods, or chattels, then all that I have in this my will granted her I do declare and ordain to be entirely and absolutely void. And, on the death of the said Sarah and Grace, my will is, that the mortgages, bonds, &c., aforesaid, be vested in the Master, Fellows, and Scholars, of Pembroke Hall, in Cambridge. And, I do hereby give and grant to the Master, Fellows, and Scholars, aforesaid, together with what shall remain yearly out of the annual interest of the said mortgages, bonds, and notes, after the payments of 60*l.* per annum to my sister Sarah, and of 16*l.* per annum to my sister Grace Sharpe, as above mentioned. And, on the death of either Sarah or Grace, the legacy that was paid yearly to them shall cease, and be vested immediately as either of them dies, in the Master, Fellows, &c., in trust as after mentioned. All the above-mentioned mortgages, bonds, and notes, I give to the Master, Fellows, and Scholars, of Pembroke Hall, on this trust and condition, for the founding of five or six scholarships or exhibitions in the said Hall, to be appropriated to, and conferred on, five or six scholars educated in Merchant Taylors School, London, regard being always had to their seniority and station therein, and particularly to those who are at the head of the school, and become superannuated, whom I by all means prefer as emeriti milites; and one other scholar I will to be of the free school of Bowes, in the county of York, founded by my late uncle, William Hutchinson, Esq., of Clement's Inn, and of Aldenham in Hertfordshire, Grace, his eldest sister and coheir, being my grandmother; and there being other sisters and coheirs, from whom Ch.

Whitell, Esq., of Gray's Inn and of Bowes, and Ambrose Edwards, Esq., of Barnard Castle, is descended, if any one of those families is qualified, I will that he be first preferred and admitted at all times to the said exhibition on its vacancy. And my intention is, that those five or six scholarships shall each have an equal portion or dividend, and be chosen within the space of two months after any voidance or vacancy by the Master of Pembroke Hall for the time being; and they shall perform the same exercises, and be subject to the same rules and ordinances as the Greek scholars in the said Hall are; and that they be resident at least nine months in every year, and may enjoy the same till they are seven years standing in the University, and no longer. But, until the whole property and interest of the said mortgages, bonds, notes, &c., be in the said Master, Fellows, &c., aforesaid, I will that no more scholarships or exhibitions be settled than in proportion to the interest money that they are hereby entitled to and do actually receive. And this I leave to the judgment and discretion of the said Master, Fellows, &c. Whereas a considerable sum of interest money is now due and in arrear on the mortgages of Took Cosen, S. Howard, John Briston, &c., as will appear from my account books, my desire is that the same be paid to my sister, Sarah, and Mr. Christopher Adamson, Gent., of Werham, as soon as possible; and with the money arising from the sale of my goods and chattels, which I hereby order to be sold, except certain goods hereafter mentioned, I will to be put out on good security, and the yearly interest of it so put out to be paid to my sister, Sarah, for her life, and on her decease the whole property and interest of it to be vested in the Master, Fellows, and Scholars, of Pembroke Hall aforesaid, in trust, for the uses before mentioned, after deducting from the said money my funeral charges and debts (which are but little); also paying to my sister Grace 6*l.*, to my sister Sarah 10*l.*, to Mr. Christopher Adamson, of Werham, 10*l.*, to the poor of Oxburgh 4*l.*, to the poor of Boughton 2*l.*; also twelve guineas, at least, for a decent mural monument near to my grave. And I appoint my said sister Sarah and Mr. Christopher Adamson my executors of this my last will and testament. And I further give and bequeath to my sister Sarah all my plate and rings, with the furniture of two rooms, and whatever other necessities she shall choose, and what English books she shall desire. And to the Master and Fellows of Pembroke Hall whatever books they shall choose and have not in their library, with all my abbey seals, deeds, manuscripts, (excepting that of Norfolk). The remainder of my books to be sold by them, and the money arising from their sale to be given to my said sister Sarah. And all this said will and testament I have wrote with my own hand. In witness whereof each page is here written and signed with my name; and have also put here my hand and seal this 17th day of June, 1759, Charles Parkin. Signed, sealed, published, and declared, by Charles Parkin, to be his last will and testament, in the presence of us witnesses, Th<sup>s</sup> Womack, W<sup>m</sup> Rookley, W<sup>m</sup> Johnson.

“ Proved at London, the 24th Sept. 1765, before the judge, by the oath of Sarah Parkin, sp<sup>r</sup>, the sister, and Christopher Adamson, the executor, to whom administration was granted, having been first sworn by commission duly to administer.”

Salters Company.

It appears from an entry in the book of gifts of the Salters Company, that William Robson, in his life time, on 13th May, 1633, deposited in the hands of the Company 5,000*l.* upon an agreement with them as to 2,500*l.* thereof, that interest should be paid to himself for life, and after his decease to certain persons of his kindred for their lives, and after their decease, should remain freely and wholly to the use of the said Company; and as to the other 2,500*l.* thereof, that the Company should pay interest at five per cent., being 125*l.* yearly, for ever, among other purposes, to St. John's College, Cambridge, towards the maintenance of two poor scholars there, by 5*l.* a piece; also to Jesus College, Oxford, towards the maintenance of two poor scholars there by 5*l.* a piece.

Skinners Company.

SIR James Lancaster by his will dated 18th April 1618, after various other bequests, gives certain lands and hereditaments to the Company of Skinners, London, in trust, among other purposes, that they should, out of the rest of the rents, issues, and profits of the said manors, lands, tenements, and premises, for ever, pay unto such four poor scholars who should study divinity in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, or such of them as the said Master and Wardens for the time being should think good, the sum of 60*l.* ; viz. to the said four poor scholars, 15*l.* a piece per annum ; and that as often as any of the said four scholars should be preferred to better means of living, or should depart from the University, the said Master, Wardens, and Commonalty, should place and prefer such other scholars studying divinity to the pensions aforesaid, as they should think fitting, in their good discretion.

By order of the Court of Chancery in July 1713, it was ordered, as to the said four poor scholars, to be nominated by the Skinners Company as aforesaid, two of them were to be sent to Oxford, and the other two to Cambridge ; and to the end that the charity intended for the said four poor scholars might be duly answered, and any abuse thereof prevented for the time to come, it was further ordered, that the Skinners Company should forthwith send to the Vice-chancellor of each University, true copies of the testator's will, and of the deeds of conveyance, attested by the said Master ; and that as often as any nomination should be made by the said Company of one of the four scholars, upon any vacancy of such scholarship in either of the Universities, the Company was to certify to the Vice-chancellor of such University, to which the scholar so nominated was to be sent, the name of such scholar, and of the school where he was educated, and the place of his parents' abode, and of the college to which he should be sent.

The practice of the Company is, when vacancies arise, the exhibitioners are appointed by the Court of Assistants, who take care to keep two at Oxford, and two at Cambridge, according to the decree. It does not, however, appear that any such certificate is sent to the Vice-chancellor of the respective Universities, as is directed by the will ; but when a vacancy happens, the course is, not to appoint to the benefaction till the person applying brings a certificate of his being entered at one of the Universities, and annexes the same to his petition. When there is a vacancy, it is declared at the first court that takes place after its happening ; at the next ensuing court, the petitions of the candidates are read and considered ; and at the third court the appointment is made. This is the general rule : but if a case of merit comes before the court at the third time, it is not objected to for not having gone through the previous stages. Before the annual payment is made, the scholar is required to bring a certificate from his college of his studying divinity, and of his general good behaviour. If there is any arrear, it is added to the payment of the person next appointed.

Edward Lewis, by will dated 3d March 1673, (of which there is an extract in page 157 of the Will-Book of the Company) gave to the Company of Skinners, whereof he was a member, the sum of 100*l.* upon trust, that the Master, Wardens, and Assistants of the said Company should yearly, after his decease, pay, for the better maintenance of one godly and religious poor scholar in the University of Cambridge, for the time being, one annuity or exhibition of 5*l.* to be paid half yearly, viz. 50*s.* every half year ; for the true payment whereof, he desired that the said Company should give a bond, under their common seal, to his executrix.

No mention occurs in any of the books of the Company of any such sum having been actually received ; but it is presumed that the Company did receive it, as it appears by their books, from the period during which they were kept by the father and immediate predecessor of the present clerk, viz. from 1759, that the annuity has been regularly paid, and no doubt is entertained that it has always been paid from the time it was to have had its commencement under the will. If there has been any suspension of the payment from deaths or otherwise, the arrears have been always satisfied and accounted for.

Corporate Bodies, Trustees, &c.

Hulme's Exhibitions.

Fifteen Exhibitions at Brasenose College, Oxford, on the foundation of William Hulme, Esq.—A Divinity Lecturer—and an accumulating Fund, for purchasing Advowsons ; such livings, when voidable, restricted to those who have been Exhibitioners on this Foundation.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the 10th year of the reign of George the Third, intituled, “ An Act to enable the Trustees of the Estates devised by William Hulme, Esq. to grant Building Leases thereof ; and to increase the number of Exhibitioners in Brasenose College, Oxford, founded by the said Testator ; and for other the purposes therein mentioned ;” after reciting that William Hulme, theretofore of Kearsley, Lancashire, Esq. deceased, did, by his last will dated the 24th day of October, 1691, devise and give his messuages, tenements, and lands of inheritance in Heaton-Norris, Denton, Ashton-under-Lyne, Reddish, Manchester, and Harwood, in the said county, unto James Chetham, Esq. William Hulme, Esq. and William Baguley, Gent. and their heirs for ever, to the intent and purpose that the clear annual rents, &c. arising, should be paid and distributed to and amongst such four of the poorest sort of Bachelors of Arts, taking such degree in Brasenose College, in Oxford, as from time to time should resolve to reside there by the space of four years next after such degree taken, equally and proportionably as the same rents, &c. should annually amount unto, and so to continue to such like four poor Bachelors successively for ever, such said Bachelors from time to time to be nominated and approved of by the Warden of the Collegiate Church of Manchester, the Rectors of the Parish Churches of Prestwich and Bury, in the county of Lancaster, for the time being, and their successors for ever; and the said testator declared his mind to be, that no such Bachelors should continue to have any thing of the said testator's exhibition, but only for the space of four years, to be accounted from the time of such degree taken; and reciting, that by virtue of divers conveyances, the said several trust estates were then become legally vested in certain persons therein named (all since deceased), in trust for such uses and purposes as were in the said will mentioned; it was, amongst other things enacted, that it should be lawful for the said trustees, at any time thereafter, to grant, demise, or lease, all or any part of the said trust estate, situate in the said town of Manchester, or within the liberties or precincts thereof, for such term, and subject to such rents, covenants, &c. as in the said Act are particularly mentioned; and by the said Act power was given to the said trustees, from time to time, and when and so often as the annual rents and produce of the said trust estate should be sufficient for that purpose, to increase the number of exhibitioners to receive benefit under the trusts of the will of the said William Hulme, so as such additional number of exhibitioners should be within the descriptions and qualifications, and should be nominated according to the mode required by the said will; and also to make unto each of the exhibitioners who should be thereafter nominated, such yearly allowance as to them, the said trustees, should seem meet and reasonable ; provided that such allowance should never be less than 60*l.* nor more than 80*l.*, or in the like proportion for less time than a year, as in and by the said Act is more particularly provided : and whereas by an Act passed in the 35th year of the reign of George the Third, intituled, “ An Act for amending an Act passed in the 10th year of the reign of his present Majesty,” &c. to enable the trustees to convey in fee, or grant leases for lives, or for long terms of years, with or without covenants for renewal, or for perpetual renewal, under reserved yearly rents, the said trust estates ; and to enable the trustees to apply the trust monies, in making such allowance to the exhibitioners as may be thought proper ; and for other purposes therein mentioned ; after reciting therein the said Act of the 10th year of the same reign, and that by virtue of divers conveyances, the said trust estates were then become vested in certain persons therein named, in trust for such uses as were in the said will and Act mentioned, it was by the Act now in recital enacted, that it should be lawful for the said trustees, at any time or times thereafter, absolutely to grant and convey in fee the said trust estates, or any part thereof, or to demise or lease the same, in such manner as in the now-reciting Act are particularly mentioned ; and it was thereby further enacted, that it should be lawful for the said trustees from time to time to make unto each of the exhibitioners, who then were and should be thereafter nominated to take the benefit of the said trust, such yearly allowance as they, the said trustees, should think meet and reasonable ; provided that the same should never be less than 60*l.* nor more than

110*l.*, or in the like proportion for less time than a year, as in and by the said Act is more particularly provided : and whereas by an Act passed in the 54th year of the reign of his said late Majesty King George the Third, intituled, “ An Act for amending two several Acts of the 10th and 35th years of the reign of his present Majesty, relating to the estates devised by William Hulme, Esq., and to enable the trustees thereof to apply the trust monies in making an allowance to and provision for the exhibitioners of certain exhibitions, founded by the said testator in Brasenose College, Oxford, and also in founding and supporting a lecture in divinity in the said college ; and to incorporate the said trustees ; and for other the purposes therein mentioned ;” after reciting therein the said Acts, and that Edward Earl of Derby, and eight others, were the trustees then acting in the several trusts of the said will, and the said recited Acts ; and that under the provisions of the said recited Acts there had been, for some time past, and there then were, fifteen Bachelors of Arts of the said College of Brasenose, nominated to receive the exhibition of the said testator, to whom the yearly sum of 110*l.* a piece had been, and was then, paid out of the said trust estates ; and reciting also the great increase in the value of the said estates ; it was by the now-reciting Act enacted, that it should be lawful for the said trustees and their successors, from time to time, to make unto each of the then present and future exhibitioners, such yearly allowance as they, the said trustees, or their successors, should think meet, provided that the same should never exceed the sum of 220*l.* in any one year, and that the said allowance should not be paid to any of such exhibitioners who should not regularly reside in the said College from the beginning of Michaelmas term to the end of that term in every year, unless such exhibitor should have obtained such permission, as was therein-after mentioned, from the said trustees dispensing with his residence at the said College, and that no such permission should extend beyond the power thereby given; and the said trustees were by the now-reciting Act empowered, to provide rooms and lodgings in Oxford aforesaid, for the residence and accommodation of the exhibitors who were then, or should thereafter be nominated to take the benefit of the said trust; and for that purpose to purchase any houses, buildings, or land in Oxford aforesaid, and to alter and improve such houses or buildings, and make the same convenient for the residence and accommodation of the said exhibitors, or to erect any suitable and convenient buildings upon such land for the purposes aforesaid; and from time to time to permit and allow the said exhibitors to reside in such houses or buildings rent free, in addition to the said annual stipends, which they, the said trustees, were or should be empowered to pay to such exhibitors by the now-reciting Act, subject, nevertheless, to the regulations of the University of Oxford, and of the said College of Brasenose, made or to be made; provided that no exhibitor should be allowed to reside in any such houses or buildings for any longer period than he should receive his exhibition, or during only such term or part thereof as the said trustees should from time to time determine upon; and provided that no greater sum should be expended by the said trustees in the actual purchase of any such houses, buildings, land, or hereditaments, than the sum of 5,000*l.* in the whole; and the said trustees and their successors were by the now-reciting Act empowered to pay to a Lecturer, to be nominated by the Principal of the said College of Brasenose for the time being, for the delivering lectures in divinity to the exhibitioners therein, granting such yearly allowance as the trustees should from time to time think proper, not exceeding the sum of 150*l.* a year, and that the delivery of such lectures should be under such regulations as should be agreed upon by the Principal of the said College, and the said trustees ; and that the regular attendance of the exhibitioners, to take the benefit of the said trust at such lectures, should be enforced by the said trustees, by making such deductions from the stipends and allowances by the now-reciting Act allowed to be made to the said exhibitioners, or by subjecting the said exhibitioners to such penalties and forfeitures as the trustees should think proper ; and that such divinity lecture should be founded in the said College by the name of “ Hulme’s Divinity Lecture ;” provided that no person should be appointed to such office of Lecturer, except he should be in Priest’s orders, and have taken the degree of Bachelor of Divinity, or Master of Arts, in the said University, and be a member of the said College ; and it was by the now-reciting Act further enacted, that the said Edward Earl of Derby, &c., and such other person and persons as should from time to time be elected and chosen trustees of the said estates, should be, and they were thereby created, One Body Politic and Corporate, by the name and style of “ The Trustees of the Estates devised by William Hulme, Esq.,” and that they and their successors should, by the same name, have perpetual succession, &c. ; and that the said trustees should and might have and use a Common Seal, for the affairs of them and their successors, relating to the said trust estates, and the affairs of the said trust, on which should be engraved the Coat of Arms borne by the said William Hulme, and round which should be inscribed the following words, "Sigillum Hulmianum ;" and it was further enacted, that the said trustees and their successors should have one General Annual Meeting, on the first Thursday after the feast of Saint Michael the Archangel, in every year, between the hours of twelve and two o'clock, at such place in Manchester aforesaid, as the said trustees and their successors should agree upon ; at which General Annual Meeting, the said trustees should transact all business whatsoever, relating to the said trust estates ; and should have any other General Meeting so often as the affairs of the said trust estates should require the same ; but that notices in writing, of every such general meeting, should be given to each trustee ; and it was by the now-reciting Act further enacted, that it should be lawful for the nominators of the said exhibitioners, at any time thereafter, when any vacancy should arise in the number of the said exhibitioners, to nominate to the said exhibitions, Under-graduates in the said College of Brasenose, who should have then entered upon the thirteenth term from their matriculation, and who should resolve and continue to reside there by the space of four years, next after the commencement of such thirteenth term, and who should also resolve to take their degree of Bachelor of Arts in the University of Oxford, as soon as they should be of academical standing for such degree ; and that the Under-graduates so to be nominated, and residing according to the regulations of the now-reciting Act, should from time to time have, and be entitled to the allowances and yearly payments thereby authorized to be made to the said exhibitioners, for the space of four years, to be accounted from the commencement of the said thirteenth term ;

provided that the said Under-graduates, so to be nominated, should, if prevented from taking their degree of Bachelor of Arts, as soon as they should be of standing for the same, be actually admitted to such degree, within eight months afterwards; but that in case they should not, within the space of eight months, duly take their said degree, then their respective nominations should be void, and they should respectively forfeit all further right to the said allowances and payments: and whereas since the passing of the said last-recited Act, the several individuals who have been from time to time nominated to receive the exhibitions of the said William Hulme, have not exceeded at any one time fifteen, but several Under-graduates in the said College of Brasenose, have, by virtue of the said last-recited Act, been from time to time nominated exhibitioners, in common with Bachelors of Arts, and the amount of the exhibitions has been gradually augmented, and there is now paid out of the said trust estates, to or for the use of each of the exhibitioners, the yearly sum of 155*l.*; namely, the yearly sum of 120*l.* towards his maintenance and lodging, and the further yearly sum of 35*l.* towards the purchase of suitable books: and whereas since the passing of the said last-recited Act, a Divinity Lecturer has from time to time been nominated by the Principal of the said College of Brasenose, at the yearly salary of 105*l.*: and whereas since the passing of the said last-recited Act, the incorporated trustees of the said trust estates have used their utmost endeavours to carry into effect the provisions of that Act, by which they are empowered to provide rooms and lodgings in Oxford, for the residence and accommodation of the exhibitioners, as herein-before mentioned, but such their endeavours have hitherto proved wholly ineffectual; and from the information which the said trustees possess, they do not foresee any prospect of being enabled, within a reasonable period of time, to procure, either by purchase or otherwise, any such rooms or lodgings: and whereas at a General Meeting of the said trustees, held in Manchester aforesaid, on the first Thursday after the feast of St. Michael the Archangel, in the year 1826, for the purpose of regulating the affairs of the said trust estates, it appeared from the accounts detailing the state and condition thereof, that the gross annual income arising from such parts of the said trust estates as consist of lands and hereditaments, amounted to the sum of 3,291*l.* 17*s.* 11*d.*; and that the accumulated fund which had from time to time arisen from the surplus rents and profits of the said trust estates, (invested in Government and real securities, and in cash,) amounted to the sum of 42,203*l.* 0*s.* 4*d.*; and that the dividends annually accruing from such fund, produced the sum of 1,658*l.* 19*s.*; and that the expenditure of the said trust estates for the last year, amounted to the sum of 3,828*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.*, the same being the average annual expenditure, which will be required for satisfying the trusts and purposes of the said testator's will, and the said recited Acts, or thereabouts: and whereas the state of the funds of the said trust estates is such, as not only to enable the said trustees to satisfy and discharge the annual expenditure to which the said trust estates are now subject, and such further annual expenditure as they may, at any time hereafter, be made subject to, by reason of any increase in the yearly allowance, which the said trustees and their successors are authorized to make to each of the exhibitors, and also to fulfil and execute each and every of the trusts and objects in the said recited Acts particularly mentioned, but also to enable the said trustees to enlarge the charitable foundation of the said William Hulme to a very considerable extent, by an appropriation, for that purpose, as well of a part of the said present accumulated fund, as also of such further accumulated fund, as shall from time to time arise: and whereas the said trustees do not at present consider it advisable either to augment the present number of exhibitioners receiving benefit under the trusts of the will of the said William Hulme, or to increase the yearly allowance which is now paid to each exhibitioner: and whereas, at the last-mentioned General Meeting of the said trustees, it was unanimously resolved by them, that the benevolent and pious objects of the said testator would be best advanced by applying part of the present and future accumulations of the said trust estates and monies in the Purchase of Advowsons of Livings, and by presenting thereto such individuals as, at the time of the avoidance of such Livings, actually shall be, or theretofore shall have been, exhibitioners on the foundation of the said testator, in the said College of Brasenose: But inasmuch as the said trustees cannot effect an enlargement of the charitable foundation of the said testator, William Hulme, in the manner proposed by them, without the aid and authority of Parliament; Wherefore your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the incorporated trustees of the estates devised by William Hulme, Esq., do most humbly beseech your Majesty, that it may be enacted; that from and after the passing of this Act, it shall be lawful for the said trustees, at all times hereafter, to lay out and expend such part of the savings, &c. now made, or hereafter to be made, from and out of the surplus rents, &c., as they the said trustees shall, in their discretion, think necessary and proper, in purchasing the fee-simple and inheritance of and in Advowsons, and rights of patronage of, in, and to any ecclesiastical Benefices, Perpetual Curacies, Parochial Chapelries, or Donatives, with all and every the rights, &c. thereto belonging, so as the same be situate in that part of the United Kingdom, called England; and that the same, when so purchased, shall, by good and sufficient conveyances in the law, be effectually granted, conveyed, and assured unto the said trustees, upon the several trusts, and for the several purposes, in this Act mentioned: provided nevertheless, that such part only of the accumulated fund, which has now arisen, or which may hereafter arise, from and out of the surplus rents, &c. of the said trust estates and monies, shall be laid out and expended for the purposes of this Act, as when deducted from the entire accumulated fund, for the time being, will leave a surplus accumulation of 20,000*l.* at the least; and provided also, that the amount to be paid for the purchase of any one advowson, or right of patronage, so to be purchased, shall not exceed the sum of 7,000*l.*

And be it further enacted, that the said trustees shall, within one calendar month subsequent to the feast of St. Michael the Archangel, next after the passing of this Act, cause to be transmitted to the Bishop of the diocese of Chester, a list in writing, containing the names of all the individuals then living, who shall be, or shall theretofore have been exhibitors on the foundation of the said William Hulme, specifying the dates of their respective nominations; and the said trustees and their successors shall, within the same period, in each succeeding year, cause to be transmitted to the Bishop of the diocese of Chester for the time being, a list in writing, containing the names of all such individuals as shall have been nominated exhibitioners in the course of the preceding year.

And be it further enacted, that when any ecclesiastical benefice shall happen, from any cause whatever, to become void, the said trustees and their successors are hereby authorized and empowered, within the space of five calendar months next after the happening of any such avoidance, to nominate, from and out of the number of such persons who shall either then be, or shall have previously been, exhibitioners on the foundation of the said William Hulme, such individual as the said trustees and their successors, may think proper, and who shall be qualified as herein-after mentioned; that is to say, the said individual shall have taken his degree of Bachelor of Arts in the University of Oxford, and shall have entered into holy orders, and shall also, in all other respects, be capable of being, and shall be ready and willing to be, presented to any such ecclesiastical benefice.

And be it further enacted, that from and after the purchasing of any advowson, or right of patronage of, in, or to any ecclesiastical benefice, by virtue of this Act, and after the same shall happen to become void, it shall be lawful for the said trustees and their successors, to expend a competent part of the savings, &c. now made, or hereafter to be made, from and out of the rents, &c. of the said trust estates and monies, in the erection and building of any Parsonage or Glebe-House, for the residence of the Incumbent, to be from time to time presented, in manner aforesaid, to any such ecclesiastical benefice, and in the erection of any out-buildings whatsoever, or in making such alterations and improvements in, or addition to, any existing Parsonage or Glebe-House, or out-builings, as the said trustees and their successors shall in their discretion deem necessary : provided nevertheless, that the monies so to be expended shall not exceed, in the whole, the sum of 700*l*.

Duchess of Somerset's Exhibitions.

“ THIS Indenture made the 17th of February 1679, between the Right Noble the Lady Sarah Duchess Dowager of Somerset, widow, of the one part ;—the Right Worshipful Thomas Yate, D.D., Principal of the King's Hall and College of Brasenose in the University of Oxford, and the Scholars of the same College, on the other part ;—witnesseth, that the said Duchess for the founding, establishing, and sustentation of four scholarships in the said College to the honour of God and the advancement of good learning, and to be called for ever ‘ Somerset Scholarships,’ hath granted, aliened, released, and confirmed, and by these presents doth grant, &c., unto the said Principal and Scholars, and their successors for ever, all that tenement or messuage, with several pieces of arable and pasture land, and all those five closes, &c., in the parish of Iver, in the county of Buckingham, which said premises are now in the possession of the said Principal and Scholars, by virtue of a bargain and sale to them thereof made by the said Duchess, by indenture bearing date the day before the date of these presents for one whole year from the day before the date of that indenture, and by force and virtue of the statute for transferring uses into possession,—to have and to hold the said premises, with their rights, &c., unto the said Principal and Scholars and their successors, to the end, intent, and purpose, that the said Principal and Scholars and their successors shall from time to time, and at all times hereafter, use all good care and diligence to preserve, defend, and improve the said premises, to be employed and converted to the sole and proper uses hereinafter directed and declared,—that is, for the support and maintenance of four scholars to be bred and trained up in good learning and piety in the said College of Brasenose for ever.

“ Secondly. The said four scholars shall be nominated and presented by the said Duchess during her life to the said Principal and Scholars of Brasenose College, who shall be obliged to elect them, within three days after such presentation, into the scholarship or scholarships then vacant, if, on examination, they shall be found fit and worthy, or else signify their refusal to the said Duchess, who shall nominate one or more.

Lancaster, Chester, and Hereford, and not elsewhere; although such youth or youths shall have been educated in any other school.

“ Fourthly. That the said Principal and Scholars shall be obliged to allow unto every one of the scholars so named and elected, the sum of 5s. per week for their subsistence, for seven full and complete years from the day of his or their election, unless they die, or be absent contrary to the statutes of the said College, or shall be promoted to any fellowship or preferment in the same or any other College, or shall be expelled for his or their misdemeanour. But if, by reason of any public calamity, the lands should fall in their rents, the scholars shall be contented with their allowance proportionable to the profits that arise.

“ Fifthly. The Principal and Scholars shall provide the said four scholars one chamber with four studies, where the Somerset Scholars may cohabit together, or else distinct lodgings; and they shall wear gowns of cloth with open sleeves, like the students of Christ Church; and square caps, but without tassels, whilst they are undergraduates. And in satisfaction to the said Principal and Scholars, for the chambers and for the buying the first gowns and caps for the said scholars, the said Duchess hath paid to the said Principal and Scholars the sum of 50*l.*

“ Sixthly. The said scholars that shall afterwards be admitted, shall each at his first admission be allowed a new gown and cap; and the same at the beginning of the third and fifth years; the charge whereof is not to be deducted out of their allowance of 5s. per week apiece, in regard there is upon the computation of the yearly value of the premises, an allowance of 5*l.* per annum made by the said Duchess for buying the said caps and gowns, over and above the said 5s. apiece.

“ Seventhly. The said Somerset Scholars shall pay no caution at their first admission; but if they or any of them shall at any time exceed their allowance in commons or battling, and do not pay for such exceedings within fourteen days after the respective quarter-day, then their names shall be crossed, and their allowances stopped until all arrears be paid.

“ Eighthly. The four said scholars shall at their admission be required to speak the Latin tongue in their public and private conferences with one another, under the penalty of two-pence for every default.

“ Eleventhly. Once in every year a commemoration of the said Duchess to be had; and 40s. distributed to the Principal, Fellows, and Scholars, then present at prayers, giving to the Principal a double share; and a speech made in Latin in the Hall, to be performed by turns successively by the said Somerset Scholars.”

This Deed was enrolled in Chancery in Hilary Term, 1679.

The following is the Deed, relative to Her Grace's five scholarships at St. John's College, in Cambridge:—

“ This Indenture made the 12th of July 1682, between the Right Noble Sarah Duchess Dowager of Somerset, of the one part; and the Rev. Humphrey Gower, D.D., Master of the College of St. John the Evangelist, and the Fellows and Scholars of the same College, in the University of Cambridge, of the other past;—witnesseth, that the said Duchess for the founding, establishing, and sustentation of five scholarships in the said College, to be called for ever ‘Somerset Scholarships,’ and for and in consideration of 5*s.* in hand paid, the receipt whereof she doth hereby acknowledge, hath bargained and sold, &c., the manor of Thornhill, in Wilts, &c.

“Secondly. The same as in the preceding Deed.

“Thirdly. After the decease of the said Duchess, all scholars to be elected shall be taken and chosen by the Master and Senior Fellows of the said College, out of the free school of Hereford, within forty days after the said scholarships or any of them respectively shall become void; in which choice, preference to be given to such youths in the said school as shall have been born in the counties of Somerset, Wilts, and Hereford, or in any one of them.

“Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth clauses, the same as in the preceding Deed.

“Tenthly. The Bishop of Ely for the time being and his successors to be for ever the Visitor of the said five scholarships, &c., and the entertainment in the Hall, at any one visitation, not to exceed 3*l.*

“Eleventhly. A commemoration, as before expressed.”

The following is an extract from Her Grace’s will, dated the 17th of May 1686, in the Registry of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury :—

“Also, I do will, direct, and appoint, that the before-named Sir Samuel Grimston, and his heirs, shall settle, convey, and assure by such lawful ways, means, and assurances, as the said Henry Lord Delamere and Sir William Gregory, and the survivor of them and his heirs, shall think necessary and convenient for the doing thereof firmly and legally unto and upon the Principal, Fellows, and Scholars, of Brasenose College, in the University of Oxford, and their successors, for ever, all that my manor of Thornhill, with its rights, members, and appurtenances, in the said county of Wilts, and all messuages, farms, lands, tenements, meadows, pastures, woods, rents, commons, advantages, and hereditaments whatsoever, unto the said manor belonging or any wise appertaining, or reputed or taken to be part, parcel, or member thereof, to be for ever used and employed for the founding and maintaining of a further number of scholars in the said College for ever, over and above those that I have already founded there, in such sort, manner, and form, as is hereinafter directed.

“ And also, I do likewise will, direct, and appoint, that the said Sir William Grimston, and his heirs, shall convey, settle, and assure, in such manner and form, and by such lawful ways, means, and assurances, as the said Henry Lord Delamere and Sir William Gregory, and the survivor of them and his heirs, shall think necessary and convenient for the firm and legal doing and establishing thereof unto and upon the Master, Fellows, and Scholars of St. John's College, in the University of Cambridge, and their successors, for ever, all that the manor of Wootton Rivers, with the rights, members, and appurtenances thereof, in the county of Wilts, and all and singular messuages, farms, lands, tenements, meadows, pastures, woods, commons, rents, and hereditaments whatsoever, unto the said manor belonging, or in any wise appertaining, or accepted, reputed, or taken part, parcel, or member thereof, to be for ever used and employed, for the founding and maintaining a further number of scholars in the said College, over and above those five scholarships which I have already founded in the said College, in such sort, manner, and form, as is hereinafter directed.

“ And for the better iucreeasing both of the number and maintenance of the said additional scholars in either of the before-mentioned Colleges, I do direct and appoint, and I do desire that it may be so provided for in the settlement thereof, that the said manors and hereditaments, to the said Colleges respectively appointed, may be ordered and managed in such sort and manner as is hereinafter directed; that is to say, I do will, direct, and appoint, that no lease or leases shall be granted or renewed of any the leasehold messuages, farms, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, within the said manors hereby by me given or appointed to the said Colleges, or either of them respectively, for any longer or greater term than one-and-twenty years in possession only: and that upon every such new lease there shall be reserved the best improved rent that can be gotten for the same farm so to be leased; and that there shall not be directly or indirectly taken for the making of any new grant of any copyhold estate or estates, any fine or fines for more than after the rate or proportion of one third part of the improved value or rent of the said tenements or farm so letten; and that full two-third parts of the improved yearly value of the said tenement or farm shall be reserved in rent, and made payable half-yearly, for the same to be from time to time employed and applied as is hereinafter mentioned; and that in every such new lease or grant to be made of the said premises or any part thereof, the tenant or lessee thereof shall be bound to pay all manner of taxes, and to keep the messuages and buildings upon the same in good and sufficient repair.

“ And I do further will and appoint, that the said additional scholars, in each of the said Colleges respectively, shall be called by the name of ‘ Somerset Scholars,’ and that their allowance for their maintenance and other things shall be equal and proportionable, saving only to those six scholars in each of the said Colleges, concerning whom I have hereinafter given particular directions, with those I have already founded there; and that the election, management, ordering, and government of all the said additional scholars shall be in the same manner, and according to the same rules, as are given and settled by me for and concerning the ‘ Somerset Scholars’ by me founded already in the said respective Colleges, with this alteration only as to the election of the scholars into the said additional scholarships: for my will is, and I do appoint, that the said additional scholars that shall be chosen in Brasenose College, in Oxford, shall, from time to time, for ever be elected out of Manchester School, in the county of Lancaster, and the free school of Hereford, and the free school of Marlborough, in the county of Wilts, by turns; the first of them to be chosen out of Manchester School, the second out of Hereford free school, and the third out of Marlborough free school; and that the said additional scholars, that shall be chosen into St. John’s College, in Cambridge, shall, from time to time, for ever be elected out of Marlborough free school, Hereford free school, and Manchester free school, by turns, the first of them to be chosen out of Marlborough free school, the second out of Hereford free school, and the third out of Manchester free school; and to keep the same course and turns for ever.

“ And I do further will and appoint, that if any of my said scholars shall be absent from his said respective College above three calendar months in any one year, upon any pretence whatsoever, that then his place in the said College shall be ipso facto void.

“ Provided always, and my will and mind is, that upon any vacancy of any of my said scholarships, by reason of undue absence, or upon any other account or cause whatsoever in either of the said Colleges respectively, if the Principal, Fellows, and Scholars of Brasenose College, in Oxford, or the Master, Fellows, and Scholars of St. John's College, in Cambridge, or either of the said Colleges respectively, shall neglect by the space of thirty days to give notice of such avoidance unto the Master of the School out of which the next of the said scholars is to be chosen into the said College, that then the College so neglecting shall lose the privilege of electing any of the said additional scholars for seven years next after such neglect: and that during that seven years they, the said Henry Lord Delamere, Sir Samuel Grimstone, and Sir William Gregory, and the survivors and survivor of them, and his heirs, shall and lawfully may, from time to time, nominate and present a scholar or scholars out of the aforesaid schools respectively, (and qualified, as in the foundation of my said scholarships is directed,) unto the said College or Colleges respectively, where such place shall be void, to be settled and placed in all or any such of the said scholarships as shall happen to be void within the said seven years.

“ And I do further will and appoint, that, at the first settlement thereof, there shall be one additional Somerset Scholar placed and settled in each of the said Colleges with provision to be made, that when the rents of the manor and hereditaments given to Brasenose College, in Oxford, shall be so improved that they shall come to 30*l.* per annum, then there shall be one other Somerset Scholar placed in the said College, and so from time to time upon every increase and advancement of 15*l.* per annum in the rents of the said manor and premises to them appointed there shall be one scholar more added to the Somerset Scholars in the said College; and that in like manner, when the rents of the manor and hereditaments hereby given or appointed to St. John's College, in Cambridge, shall come to be 30*l.* per annum, there shall be one other additional Somerset Scholar settled in the said College; and so in like manner, from time to time, upon every increase or advancement of 15*l.* per annum in the rents of the said manor and premises to them given or appointed, there shall be one scholar more added to the Somerset Scholars in the said College.

“ And, as touching the fines that shall according to the rents aforesaid be taken or received upon the granting or renewing of copyhold estates in the said respective manors, I do will and appoint, that three parts out of four thereof shall go and be to the use and benefit of the said respective Colleges, to whom such manor is hereinbefore appointed, in recompence for their providing chambers for the said additional scholars, and studies, gowns, and caps; and the other fourth part of the said fines to go and be to the use and benefit of all the Somerset Scholars in that College, to buy them books, which advantage by the said fines, although it can be but small at first, in regard that all the farms within the aforesaid manors are at present in lease or grants under small old rents, yet as the present leases and estates shall determine, they will, I hope, prove considerable, for by the account I receive from my officers, I find that the manor appointed to Brasenose College will, when the present lease and estates are expired, be worth about 560*l.* per annum; and that the manor appointed to St. John's College will then be worth about 530*l.* per annum.

“ And I do further declare my will and mind to be, and I do appoint, that the term now in being of the leasehold farm and lands lying in the manor of Thornhill, which leasehold farm and lands at the full and improved value is worth 160*l.* per annum, shall expire or determine, then six Somerset Scholars shall in manner aforesaid be chosen and settled in Brasenose College, and that the said six scholars shall have for their allowances for their maintenance the whole rent of the said leasehold farm and lands in Thornhill, and that none others of the additional Somerset Scholars, in that College, shall have any share or part thereof with them; and that the said six scholars, or any of them, shall not have any share or part with the other additional Somerset Scholars of that house of any other rents, revenues, or profits, of the said manor of Thornhill.

“ And my will and mind further is, and I do appoint, that when the term now in being of the leasehold farm and lands lying in the manor of Wootton Rivers, which leasehold farm and lands at the full improved value is likewise worth 160*l.* per annum, shall expire or determine, then six Somerset Scholars shall in manner and form aforesaid be chosen and settled into St. John's College, in Cambridge, and that the said six scholars shall have for their allowances for their maintenance the whole rent of the said leasehold farm and lands in Wootton Rivers, and that none others of the Somerset Scholars, in that College, shall have any share or part thereof with them; and that the said six scholars, or any of them, shall not have any share or part with the other Somerset Scholars of that house, or any other rents, revenues, or profits, of the said manor of Wootton Rivers.

“ And my will is, and I do hereby appoint and direct, that such youths shall be chosen into the said twelve last-mentioned scholarships, whose parents and friends are not able to contribute any thing considerable towards their maintenance in the University, and therefore I have given and appointed for them the large allowance; and my will is, that the persons that shall be chosen into the said twelve scholarships, or any of them, shall be such as design or intend to take upon them the ministry; and that they shall in order thereunto, so soon as they shall be fit for it, incline and dispose themselves to the study of divinity; but in all other things relating to the said additional Somerset scholarships in former rules and directions shall stand and be observed, and these last-mentioned twelve Somerset Scholars to differ from them in nothing, save only in their maintenance, as is hereinbefore expressed.”

On the 12th of January 1703, administration with the will and codicil (in which she directs that her scholars at both the Colleges of Brasenose and St. John should be entitled to a preference, in case of a vacancy, to the valuable living of Wootton Rivers, in the county of Wilts) annexed of the goods of the Right Honourable Sarah Duchess Dowager of Somerset was granted to Wm. Staunton, the curator or guardian lawfully assigned to the Honourable Langham Booth, Esq., a minor, the residuary legatee, named in the said codicil for the use and benefit of the said minor, until he attains the age of one-and-twenty years, having been first sworn by commission duly to administer, the Right Honourable Henry Comes, Sir Samuel Grimston, Baronet, and Sir William Gregory, Knight, the executors, dying without taking upon them the probate and execution of the said will and codicil.

On the 19th of February 1705, administration with the will and codicil annexed of the goods of the Right Honourable Sarah Duchess Dowager of Somerset was granted to the Honourable Langham Booth, Esq., the residuary legatee named in the said codicil, he having been first sworn by commission duly to administer the letters of administration of the goods of the said deceased, granted in the month of January 1703, to William Staunton, Esq., for the use and benefit of the said Honourable Langham Booth, Esq., then a minor, having ceased and expired, by reason of the said minor having attained his age of twenty-one years; and the Right Honourable Henry Comes, Sir Samuel Grimston, Baronet, and Sir William Gregory, Knight, the executors named in the said will, having departed this life without taking upon them, or either of them, the probate and execution of the said will and codicil.

Lady Elizabeth Hastings's Exhibitions.

By a codicil to the will of Lady Elizabeth Hastings, the daughter of Theophilus Earl of Huntingdon, dated the 24th of April 1739, she bequeathes :—

“ First,—I give and devise all my manors, lands, and hereditaments in Wheldale, otherwise called Queldale, in the West Riding of the county of York, with all the quit-rents or chief-rents, and royalties belonging to the same, to the Provost and Scholars of Queen's College, in the University of Oxford, for ever,—subject, nevertheless, to a term of ninety-nine years, determinable upon the lives of one or more annuitants, as the case shall be, and as is more fully explained in a former codicil, for charging annuities for lives, pursuant to a power reserved by my will.

“ And to the end that the Provost may have true and speedy information of the state of the annuitants, the Bailiff for the time being, who collects the rents of the said premises, shall, at the end of every year, send a list of the names of the annuitants, then alive, to the Provost of the said College, signed by the Bailiff and one or more of the Trustees ; as also upon the death of the last annuitant, as soon as he receives information of it, immediately send notice thereof to the said Provost, in writing, signed also by himself and one or more of the Trustees.

“ And I will that, after the expiration of the said term of ninety-nine years, determinable as aforesaid, 140*l.*, out of the clear rents and profits of the same premises, shall from time to time be applied for Exhibitions, towards the maintenance of five poor scholars of the said College, to be nominated and elected in manner hereinafter directed ; each of which poor scholars shall be entitled to a yearly payment of 28*l.*, but shall receive for the four first years (to be computed from the Pentecost preceding the election) only 20*l.* each year, by quarterly or half-yearly payments; my will being, that the remaining 8*l.*, out of each sum of 28*l.*, be laid up and deposited yearly in the College Chest, and that out of this deposited money, 20*l.* shall be paid at the middle of the fifth year, and 20*l.* more at the end of the said year, (over and above the first-mentioned yearly payment) to each of the said exhibitors that shall have taken their Bachelor of Arts degree, and shall strictly and religiously conform to the directions, limitations, and conditions hereinafter given, made, or expressed.

“ And in regard to the qualifications, nomination, and election of poor scholars, who shall be entitled to such exhibitions, my will is, that eight of the principal Schools in the county of York, viz. those of Leeds, Wakefield, Bradford, Beverley, Skipton, Sedbergh, Ripon, and Sherburn, and two more in the county of Westmoreland, viz. Appleby and Haversham, and two more in Cumberland, viz. St. Bees and Penrith, shall each of them have the privilege or liberty of sending one poor scholar, every five years, to the place of nomination hereinafter appointed.

“ Provided, the Head Master of each School send along with such scholar a certificate, that he hath distinguished himself above the rest of the same rank in his school for his morals and learning,—that such scholar is well grounded in the principles of the Church of England as by law established,—that he hath competent parts and remarkable industry, and that he hath applied himself to the reading of Greek authors at least four years.

“ And provided also, that each candidate brings a certificate of his age from the register, signed by the Minister and Churchwardens of the parish he was born in. It being required that every candidate shall be entered upon the nineteenth year of his age, and none be allowed to stand after his one and twentieth is completed.

“ I will also, that fair copies of this codicil be writ out in parchment, and sent to every one of the said respective schools there, to be safely kept by the Master for the time being, who is desired to read the same, or cause it to be read, to the scholars, candidates for the exhibitions, four times or oftener in the two last years antecedent to the election.

“ And I make it my earnest request, that the Rectors of Berwick Spofforth, and Bolton Percy, and the Vicars of Leeds, Ledsham, Thorp-Arch, and Collingham, in the county of York, will, in the year wherein the exhibitions shall commence, (if the year be not too far advanced, for giving notice, as is hereafter directed,) and so likewise at the expiration of every five years, for ever after, meet together at the best inn in Abberford, or Abberforth, in the same county, viz., on Thursday in Whitsun-week, before eight of the clock in the morning.

“ Also all the boys to meet at the said best inn at Abberforth, the night preceding the day of nomination, in order to be ready to begin their exercises the next morning.

“ And I entreat the Rectors and Vicars aforementioned will be there half an hour after seven, that they may choose the boys’ morning exercise, and put them upon beginning the same by eight of the clock.

“ And my will is, that their exercise be a part of an Oration in Tully, not exceeding eight or ten lines, to be translated into English; and part of an Oration in Demosthenes, about the same number of lines, to be translated into Latin ; and two or three verses of the Latin Testament, to be translated into Greek ; and four books of each sort being provided, immediately put them upon beginning the translations, four of the boys being employed in one kind of translation, four in a second, and four in a third ; and then changing the books, till they have gone through the three several translations.

“ And whilst the boys are making their morning exercise, the said Rectors and Vicars, or the greater number of them, shall proceed to chuse the afternoon exercise, (which shall be upon two subjects),—one, of Practical Divinity, out of the Church Catechism, upon which each boy shall give his thoughts in Latin, in not fewer than eight lines, nor more than twelve ; the other subject, some distinguished sentence of a Classic author, upon which each boy shall write two distichs of verses :—all which translations and compositions are to be written out fair upon one sheet of paper, and signed by the name of each boy they belong to, and then shewed to every nominating Rector and Vicar, who are desired impartially to weigh and consider, and return ten of the best of the said exercises (each of which ten to be signed by the greater number of the Rectors and Vicars present) to the Provost and Fellows of Queen's College, in the University of Oxford.

“ And when the said Provost and Fellows have received the same, they are hereby required to meet together, as soon after as conveniently may be, to examine into them carefully and impartially, and choose out of them eight of the best performances, which appear the best, which done, the names subscribed to those eight shall be fairly written, each in a distinct paper, and the papers rolled up, and put into an urn or vase by the Provost, or, in his absence, by the Vice-Provost, or Senior Fellow, and, after having been shaken well together in the urn, shall be drawn out of the same by some person whom he or they shall appoint; and those five, whose names are first drawn, shall, to all intents and purposes, be held duly elected, and intitled to the whole profits each of his exhibition, for the space of five years, as before provided, from Pentecost then next preceding the election.

“ And though this method of choosing by lot, may be called by some superstition or enthusiasm, yet as the advice was given by an orthodox and pious Prelate of the Church of England, as leaving something to Providence, and as it will be a means to save the scholars the trouble and expense of a journey to Oxford, under too great an uncertainty of being elected, I will this method of balloting be for ever observed.

“ Provided also, and my will is, that no more sons than one of the same person shall be nominated or elected to or for any of the said exhibitions.

“ And, as my intention in continuing the exhibitions to each person for five years, is to take away from them all necessity of entering precipitately into Holy Orders, and to give them an opportunity of laying in some sort a sound foundation of divine as well as human learning, so my desire is, that the four first years they apply themselves as they shall be directed in their College and University, chiefly to the arts and sciences; but that the fifth year be employed wholly in divinity, Church history, and the Apostolical Fathers in the original tongues.

“ And it is farther required, that, from their first admission into the College, they be obliged to spend one hour every morning in the study of the Holy Scriptures, and to write their own explications of such particular places and passages of Holy Scripture as their tutors shall think proper to appoint them, and which their tutors are required to call for at proper times; and that, in a convenient time, before the expiration of their fourth year, each of them shall be obliged to translate into English, such a portion of St. Chrysostom's book, "De Sacerdotio," (published by Mr. Hughes, or any other better edition, if such shall hereafter be published,) as the Provost or their Tutors shall appoint, or, if it be thought feasible, to make an abstract of the whole; and I beg of the Provost to recommend this, in a particular manner, to their tutors.

"It is also enjoined, that as soon as any of them shall have taken the degree of Bachelor of Arts, they shall forthwith apply themselves to the Provost or their Tutors, for their particular directions in their Theological studies, to qualify them for Holy Orders, and be obliged to make proper abstracts, or observations in writing, from the several authors they are appointed to read, which, at the end of each term, or at least every half year, shall be carried by them to the Provost, that he may be a witness of their proficiency, or punish them for their neglect; and I most earnestly beg the Provost to insist upon their so doing.

"Also, my will and meaning is, that none of the said exhibitions shall be continued to one and the same person above the space of five years, from the time of his admission.

"And, that if any such scholar or exhibitioner shall, before the said five years are completed, either marry, or accept of any ecclesiastical Benefice, Curacy, or School, or enter into Holy Orders, from thenceforth his place shall become vacant.

“ Provided also, and my will and desire further is, that in case any of the said Rectories or Vicarages shall happen to be vacant at the time of such meeting of the nominating Rectors and Vicars, or any of the said Rectors or Vicars shall be absent from such meeting, such of the said Rectors and Vicars as are present at such meeting; in case they are five in number, shall proceed to examine, nominate, and certify, in such manner as is before directed.

“ And in case it shall appear to the Vicar of Ledsham, (who is desired to have previous information for a month before, what persons will be present, and to move every one concerned by letter, or otherwise, for his personal attendance,) that only four of the Rectors and Vicars can be at the meeting, he is hereby further desired to request the Rector of Methley, or the Vicar of Pontefract, to make up the fifth; and if only two can be present, to desire the Vicar of Abberford, and both the said Rector of Methley and Vicar of Pontefract, to appear and act.

“ And in case the said Rectors and Vicars shall neglect to nominate as aforesaid, or shall be equally divided in their choice, the Provost and Fellows of the said College are hereby empowered to appoint, in the last case, one person as an umpire: and, in the first case, five proper persons, residing as near as may be to the place of meeting, to fill up the vacancies within three calendar months after the time hereby appointed for the nomination; provided they observe the qualifications, rules, and restrictions herein-before prescribed.

“ Provided also, and my will further is, that every such exhibitor shall regularly observe, and strictly conform himself to, the rules and orders of the said College, upon pain of forfeiting the benefit of such exhibition for such time as the said Provost shall think fit.

“ And that it shall be lawful to and for the Provost and greater part of the resident Fellows, for the time being, of the said College, in case of notorious obstinacy, immorality, or neglect of duty, after three admonitions in a public convention, called by the said Provost, to deprive such scholar of his exhibition.

“ Provided also, that every fifth year notice be sent, that the term of five years is near expiring, by the Provost and Fellows of the said College, or their agent, to the said Vicar of Ledsham, for the time being, three months at least before the Thursday in Whitsun-week, who is required immediately to give notice of meeting on the said Thursday, to the Rectors and other Vicars, and to the Schoolmasters of all the Schools, for the time being, who have any right to send boys.

“ Provided also, 10*l.* be allowed and paid every five years, out of the premises, by the Provost and Fellows of Queen's College, for ever, to the Vicar of Ledsham, and his successors, 1*l.* thereof being to the said Vicar for his trouble in giving notice, and the other 9*l.* towards the defraying of the expenses of the meeting of the said Rectors and Vicars, and poor Scholars, at the time and place before-mentioned, and towards defraying the travelling expenses of the poor Scholars, each Scholar from every School in Yorkshire that, for the time being, has the privilege of sending, being allowed 5*s.*, and each Scholar from all the Schools in Westmoreland and Cumberland that, for the time being, hath the same privilege, being allowed 10*s.*

“ Provided also, if any one or more of these twelve Schools herein mentioned, shall so far come to decay as to have no scholar or scholars returned by the Rectors and Vicars, to take their lot by ballotting, as before appointed, in four successive elections, I desire the Provost and Fellows of the said College, to place, constitute, and appoint one or more other School or Schools, in the county where the School is, which has come to decay, in the room and stead of any one or more of these twelve Schools herein mentioned.

“ And I will, that the new appointed School or Schools shall have all the benefit and advantages, and be subject to the same rules, restrictions, and conditions as the other Schools.

“ And to the end it may be known whether any School has so far come to decay, the Provost and Fellows of the said College are hereby required to enter into a book, set apart for this purpose, the names of all the boys returned, as well as elected, together with the names of each School they are returned from, in a column over against the name of every boy respectively.

“ And to the intent that all doubts may be removed, and all disputes avoided at the time of nomination, with regard to the directions and appointments herein made and given, as also that proper books, at the time and place of examination, may not be wanting, I do hereby direct, order, and appoint, that a fair copy of this codicil, as also a fair and perfect Greek Testament, an Exposition of the Church Catechism by the late Archbishop Wake, the Orations of Tully and Demosthenes, Homer’s Iliad, and Virgil’s Works, together with three Dictionaries, three Lexicons, three Latin Grammars, and three Greek Grammars, be always and constantly provided by the Vicar of Ledsham, for the time being, as often as there shall be occasion, and deposited in the hands of the Vicar of Abberforth, for all which books, as well as codicils, the said Vicar is to be allowed and reimbursed by the Provost and Fellows of the said College.

“ And I do hereby earnestly request the said Vicar of Abberforth, and his successors, from time to time, to take the care and charge of the said codicil or codicils and books, during the intervals between the meetings, and at the time of the meetings to deliver them to any one of the said Rectors or Vicars, for the use and benefit of the said Rectors and Vicars examiners.

“ And as to the overplus of the rents and profits issuing out of the premises, after all deductions are made, and after all the exhibitions are answered; and as to all sum or sums of money that may arise by death, marriage, or misbehaviour of any of the said exhibitioners, or by getting of Coals, (which are supposed to be in the estate) or by any other contingencies,—for the further encouragement of residence, my will and mind is, that as soon as the said overplus, and the said money arising by death, marriage, misbehaviour, coals, or other contingencies, shall amount to 60*l.* the Provost shall pay it to any one of the exhibitioners, whom he thinks in all respects most deserving of it; provided he has already taken his degree of Bachelor of Arts, is not married, and has enjoyed his exhibition five years, to be computed from the time of election, and consents to stay another whole year in the College, without accepting any School or other preferment whatsoever, that may be a means to hinder him from pursuing his studies in divinity.

“ And in case the said overplus and money arising by the said contingencies, shall amount to more than 60*l.*, the said Provost shall dispose of it to two or more of the said exhibitioners, that have taken their Bachelor of Arts degree, and enjoyed their exhibitions five years, under the limitations and conditions before mentioned, with regard to residence, marriage, and preferment.

“ And in case there are not a sufficient number of exhibitioners so quailified, to take the said overplus, or that are willing to take it upon the last-mentioned limitations and conditions, that such part of it as remains undisposed of, be kept in the College Chest, till there are exhibitioners one or more that have taken their Bachelor’s degree, and have enjoyed their exhibitions five years, and that will accept of it under the said limitations and conditions, no such person having in the year more than 60*l.* and no one being entitled to it, or any part of it, after seven years from his election are completed.

“ And in case the rents of the estate should so increase as to produce yearly 25*l.*, be it more or less, over and above what is sufficient for five exhibitions, at 28*l.* by the year each, for five years, in the manner before directed, and over and above what is sufficient to answer the other expenses of meeting and buying books, as is before provided, my will is, that the said increase of rents, after all deductions made, shall be divided into as many shares as there are exhibitions, and two-thirds of each share added to and paid with each exhibition, by quarterly or half-yearly payments, and the remaining third part of each share put into the College Chest, yearly to be paid along with each sum of money saved and reserved for the fifth year to each exhibitioner, by two half-yearly payments, as before directed,—for experience shews, as the value of land increases, the value of money decreases.”

Careswell's Exhibitions.

EDWARD CARESWELL, of Bobbington, Stafford, by will dated 1689, recites, that by indenture dated the 9th of January in the same year, he had demised to certain Trustees therein named, all that messuage and farm or tenement, called Walker's Low Farm, situate in the parish of Stottesden, in the county of Salop; and also all that messuage or farm called Sydnal Farm, in the parish of Prior's Ditton, in the said last-mentioned county; and also all that messuage or farm, called The Hill House, in the parishes of Quatford and Quatt, and in Bridgnorth in the said county; and also all that messuage or farm called Barrett's Farm, in the parish of Alveley in the said county; and also that yearly rent of 2s. issuing out of certain lands and tenements of Sir William Whitmore, Baronet, in the said parish of Alveley; and also all that messuage or tenement, loft and meese place, with the appurtenances, called Astley Parva, in the said parish of Alveley; and also all that capital messuage or mansion-house called Bobbington Farm, in the parish of Bobbington, in the county of Stafford, and all tenths and tithes of hay issuing out of the said premises; and also all that cottage, house, or tenement, with Hawkes's Fields and Perry Croft, thereto belonging, in the said parish of Bobbington, with all other his messuages, cottages, farms, houses, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, in the said counties of Salop and Stafford, or either of them; to hold to the said Trustees, from the death of the said Edward Careswell, for the term of 500 years from thence next ensuing, in trust, to permit certain persons therein named to take and enjoy the rents and profits during their respective lives, and after the determination of those estates, in trust, that the residue of the said term should attend the inheritance of the premises: and the said testator desiring and intending to dispose of the residue of the said term of 500 years, or the reversion thereof, after the 500 years, for a public benefit, and taking notice that the scholars of the several free schools of the said county of Salop were destitute of any place of preferment in either of the Universities, whereby learning in the said free-schools was much discouraged; for the supply, therefore, of that defect, and for the support and encouragement of such scholars of the free schools thereafter mentioned, as were not sufficiently enabled to maintain themselves at the University, did by his said will devise and appoint that the said premises, after the death of the persons before mentioned and determination of the estates limited to them during the residue of the term of 500 years, and the reversion expectant on the expiration of the said term, should be at all times for ever thereafter charged and chargeable with the maintenance of eighteen scholars in the College of Christ Church, in Oxford, (or in case the said scholars could not be incorporated with, and made part of the foundation, or admitted into the society of the said College, and have chambers there, then, in some other College or Hall of the said University, where the said scholars might best and most conveniently be accommodated,) by allowing to each scholar yearly for four years, while he continues an undergraduate, 18*l.*; to each, after he should commence bachelor of arts, 21*l.* yearly for three years, until he should commence master of arts; and 27*l.* yearly to each for three years, after he should commence master of arts, and no longer; and he directed that the said eighteen scholars should be chosen from, and out of the most ingenious and deserving scholars, either natives of the several parishes where the estate lay, or elsewhere, of the county of Salop, and of the least ability to maintain themselves, of the six free schools of the said county after mentioned, whether the said scholars should be free or not free of the said schools; viz. four out of the free school of Shrewsbury; three out of the free school of Bridgnorth; four out of the free school of Newport; three out of the free school of Shiffnal; two out of the free school of Wem; and two out of the free school of Donnington, in the parish of Wroxeter, in the said county; and he directed, that as any vacancy should happen by the death or removal of any of the said scholars; such vacancy should be supplied by a new election from the said school from whence the person so dying or removing was elected, and not from any other of the said schools; that a catalogue of the names of the scholars from time to time elected, should be carefully kept, as well in the College as in the schools from whence they should be elected, for the preventing any elections contrary to the intentions of his will; that the elections should be made by the Chief Governor or Master of the College where the said scholars were to be resident, or some one deputed by him; and the justices of the peace inhabiting or acting within the hundreds of Bradford, Stoddesden, and Brinstree, for the time being, or any three of them, the Master of the College or his delegate being one; and he further directed, that if the rents of the premises should be improved, the increase of rent should be applied towards the maintenance of a greater number of scholars at the University of Oxford aforesaid, to be chosen proportionably from the said six free schools, in such manner, with such allowance, and for such time as therein above was limited and appointed; and in case the rents should fall short of what they were then set at, that then the election of one, two, or more of the number of scholars designed to be elected out of the two last-mentioned free schools, should cease till the premises should again come to be of sufficient yearly value to maintain the said eighteen scholars.

By a codicil to his will, dated the 24th February 1689, the testator devised the sum of 10*l.* per annum to be paid yearly into the hands of one or two of the most substantial freeholders in the parish of Bobbington, or to the minister himself, officiating in the parish church of Bobbington for the time being, by the tenant or tenants of the testator's farm in the said parish of Bobbington, as an augmentation to the annual stipend of the said minister for ever; which said 10*l.* he thereby ordered and appointed should be annually deducted out of the several allowances appointed for the said eighteen scholars when the same should become payable, by an abatement of 11*s.* 1½*d.* out of each of the said scholars' allowance.

By a decretal order of the Court of Chancery, made on the 6th of July 1741, in a cause then depending in that Court between his Majesty's Attorney-General, at the relation of Leonard Hodgkiss and others, informant, and William Hayward and others, defendants; it was ordered and decreed, that this charity should be established and carried into execution ; and that the relators should be at liberty to lay before the Master a scheme for establishing and carrying the same into execution, for the benefit of the scholars mentioned in the will. And it was further ordered, that the said Master should appoint a receiver to receive the arrears and growing rents, and profits of the estates, and allow him a salary for his care and pains therein, who was to be at liberty to set and let the said estates, or any part thereof, with the approbation of the said Master, from time to time as occasion should require ; the said receiver having first given security to be answerable for what he should receive, and to account annually for, and pay the same as the said Court should direct.

Since which period the affairs of the charity have continued under the superintendence of the Court ; the application of the rents and profits being from time to time regulated by new schemes.

In the year 1813, a considerable surplus of the rents and profits having accrued, the sum of 1,500*l.* was applied to the purchase of the rectorial tithes of the Walkerslow and Walkham wood farms ; and in 1815, the further sum of 1,515*l.* 7*s.* was laid out in the purchase of 26 A. and 38 P. of land, with a new built brick and tiled barn, in the parish of Quatford, contiguous to the lands of the Hill House Farm. This farm had previously gained an addition of 36 A. 1 R. 14 P. under the Morfe inclosure act ; and on the Prior's Ditton inclosure in 1813, an allotment of 10 A. 1 R. 2 P. was awarded to the Sydnall Farm.

In consequence of these new acquisitions, the real estate of the charity at present consists of the following particulars, viz. :—

The tenants respectively hold from year to year, and the rents are varied from time to time, under the directions of the Court, as circumstances are found to require.

From the surplus rents and profits before mentioned, there remained in Court on the 25th of January, 1820, at the credit of the cause, and on the trust account, the amount of 9,394*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* three per cent. consols, and in cash, the sum of 1,093*l.* 18*s.* 1*d.* ; the former fund affording an additional income of 281*l.* 16*s.* 7½*d.* which, with the rents, makes a total annual income of 1,472*l.* 18*s.* 7½*d.*

This income is, however, subject to the following charges, viz. :—

Which scale was calculated to embrace the full number of eighteen scholars, but as that number has not been completed, the aggregate of the payments has not, upon an average of six years (ending in 1818) exceeded the annual sum of 514*l.* leaving an annual surplus of about 610*l.* 17*s.* 3½*d.*

The surplus is from time to time paid into Court, after the receiver's annual accounts have been examined, and allowed by the Master.

The elections are made by the Dean of Christ Church, (the College to which the exhibitioners have hitherto been sent,) or his deputy, in conjunction with justices of the peace acting within the hundreds specified by the testator, and they take place on some day or days in the month of August, prefixed by the Dean, in pursuance of a decree of the Court, made in 1746. The vacancies are filled up, according to the directions of the testator, from the respective schools in which they occur, if such schools are able to supply them, if not, they are filled up from any other of the said schools, by virtue of a decree founded upon the Master's report of the 11th March, 1780.

The number of exhibitioners which the several schools were able to supply, had not, upon an average of seventeen years, ending in 1811, exceeded nine in each year; but since that time, in consequence of the increased allowance to Under-graduates, the average has been thirteen; of these one only, at the period of our inquiry in September, 1819, was from the school of Bridgnorth.

The Trustees of this charity claimed exemption from the property-tax on 10,539*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.*, three per cent. consols.

Lord Crewe's Exhibitions.

LORD Crewe devised by his will, that out of the rents and profits of his estates in the counties of Northumberland and Durham, the sum of 20*l.* yearly should be paid to each of the twelve exhibitors of Lincoln College, in the University of Oxford, “which I have already named and appointed, or which I shall hereafter name or appoint,—and to each and every of twelve exhibitors to be elected and chosen after my decease, as herein-after mentioned, who shall be Under-graduate Commoners in Lincoln College aforesaid, and who are or shall be natives of the diocese of Durham: and for want of such natives, of Northallertonshire or Howdenshire, in the county of York, or of Leicestershire, and particularly of the parish of Newbold Verdon, or of the diocese of Oxford, whereof I was formerly Bishop, or of the county of Northampton, in which county I was born. And my will is, and I do hereby direct, that such exhibitor or exhibitors by me already named and appointed, or to be by me hereafter named and appointed, or upon any other vacancy or vacancies whatsoever, shall be from time to time, and at all times for ever after my decease, elected and chosen by the Rector and Fellows of Lincoln College aforesaid, for the time being, or by the major part of them, and to enjoy the said exhibitions or annual payments for eight years, if they shall respectively so long continue resident in the College aforesaid, and no longer, unless they have leave from the Rector of the College aforesaid, for the time being, to be absent, which I desire he will not grant but upon reasonable cause. And I do hereby direct, that as often as any vacancy or vacancies shall happen of such exhibition or exhibitioners, others shall be elected in their room, within three months, in manner as aforesaid."

A portion of their funds are disposed of to poor Curates, and in apprenticing children. The Corporation also allow ## Lane's Exhibition.

Ward of Bread Street.

MR. John Lane, citizen and grocer, by will dated the 8th September 1670, gave to seven trustees the sum of 50*l.* per annum, out of his estate, for sixty years next after his death, in trust, to pay yearly, during the said sixty years, to expend out of the same 35*l.*, and among other payments, to a poor scholar at one of the Universities, the son of some poor freeman, and born within the city of London, 5*l.* He directed, that the residue of the 50*l.* should be deposited in the hands of one of the trustees, to be chosen by the rest of them, there to remain till it should amount to 50*l.*, from time to time; and that every 50*l.* which should be so raised, should be successively lent, gratis, to some poor young man, inhabiting within the parish of Allhallows, Bread Street, or within the Ward of Bread Street, upon such security, and for such time, as his trustees should think fit, provided no one man should have any sum of 50*l.* of it above seven years, nor above 100*l.* in the whole, lent unto him; and when all the monies raised out of the surplusage of the 50*l.* per annum should amount to enough to purchase the inheritance of 50*l.* per annum, then he directed that it should all be called in, and laid out in the purchasing of 50*l.* per annum, in the names of his trustees, upon such trusts, and to be so employed, as the 50*l.* per annum so by the testator given as aforesaid, is by him declared and intended to be; and he directed, that on the death of any of the trustees, the interest of him dying should be transferred, by the survivors, to such other person as the surviving trustees should from time to time appoint.

There is invested in the Old South Sea Annuities, on this trust, 1650*l.* producing an annual income of 49*l.* 10*s.* The payments directed by Mr. Lane's will have been constantly made, when applied for. No application has the scholarship since 1817, and the trustees means to invite applications for the same.

Shaw's Exhibition.

St. Sepulchre's Parish.

JAMES Shaw, by will dated 5th May, 1630, devised after the death of his wife, to the Vicar and Churchwardens of the Parish of St. Sepulchre, London, and to their successors for ever, the messuage or tenement in which he then lived, and which he had purchased of Thomas Smedley, to the intent that they should yearly pay to the Master, Wardens, and Commonalty of the Company of Cordwainers, out of the rent and profits thereof, the sum of 8*l.* per annum, to be employed by the said Company for the maintenance of two scholars at the Universities of Cambridge or Oxford, (as see Cordwainers Company) ; and should also pay other 8*l.* to the finding and maintaining of two other scholars in one of the said two Universities, as the Vicar, Churchwardens, and Vestrymen of the said Parish of St. Sepulchre should make choice of, from time to time, and to continue from five years to five years. The exhibitioners are always appointed with the approbation of the Vicar.

Turner's Exhibition.

St. Sepulchre's Parish.

JOHN Turner, by will dated 8th March 1677, devised to the Vicar and Churchwardens of the Parish of St. Sepulchre, in London, and their successors for ever, one annuity or yearly rent-charge of 5*l.*, clear of all taxes, to be issuing out of his messuages, lands, and premises, in the Parish of Stebonheath, alias Stepney, upon trust to dispose thereof, for an exhibition towards the maintenance of a poor scholar, to be resident in one of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, such an one as the Vicar, Churchwardens, and Vestrymen of the said Parish, or the major part of them, at a general Vestry, should choose, to continue five years, to such poor scholar, if he should so long continue in one of the said Universities, but not otherwise; and he directed that any part of the said annuity, which might be received during a vacancy, until a new scholar should be chosen, should be paid to such new scholar at the time of his election.

This annuity is received from the Company of Proprietors of the East-London Water-works, out of certain premises at Stepney, comprising a messuage and the ground containing the reservoir, formerly belonging to the West-Ham Water-works, and now vested, by Act of Parliament, in the East-London Water-works Company, subject to the above charge.

The exhibition is constantly kept full, and the appointment is made by the Vestry.

Wilde's Exhibition.

JOHN Wild, of Edmonton, by will dated 12th April 1662, devised certain premises in Edmonton, freehold and copyhold, particularly described in the will, to James Winstanley and others, upon trust, out of the rents and profits thereof, to pay, among other things, 3*l.* per annum, for the maintenance of a poor scholar in the University of Cambridge, for four years together; and if the said scholar shall continue longer, for three years more, until he shall or may be a Master of Arts, 4*l.* a year.

Doddridge's Exhibition.

JOHN Doddridge, Esq. by his will bearing date 20th January 1658, gave a rent-charge of 50*l.* a year, for ever, clear of all charges, to be issuing out of his Rectory of Fremington, unto John Martin the elder, Richard Crossing, and John Lovering the elder, and their heirs, earnestly desiring them, and the survivors, and survivor of them, to cause it to be settled by good advice of counsel, for the use of a lecturer within the Parish of Fremington, for ever.

He also gave to the trustees, for the maintenance of select scholars at the University, according to the mode drawn up by Mr. Poole, and other godly ministers, the yearly sum of 10*l.* to be for ever issuing out of his said Rectory of Fremington.

No settlement appears to have been made by Mr. Doddridge's trustees, for the support of the above-mentioned lecture. John Lovering is stated to have been the survivor of those trustees, from whom George Acland Barbor, Esq., the present lay-impropriator of the Rectory of Fremington is descended.

A lecture used to be read in the Parish Church of Fremington, every Thursday, in respect of this donation, till near the end of the last century; the Rev. Charles Hill, a former Vicar of this Parish, who appears to have died before the year 1790, used to officiate as lecturer; that the Rev. Arthur Barbor afterwards held the situation, and that upon that gentleman's going to India, the Rev. Samuel Cook, the then Vicar, performed the duties of the office, receiving from him a portion of the stipend. In 1798, an application was made to the Court of King's Bench, by the Rev. John Rowe, for a mandamus to the Bishop of Exeter, to grant a license to him, as having been appointed the lecturer under this gift, in 1797, by William Barbor, Esq., the then impropriate Rector of Fremington, the license having been refused by the Bishop, on the ground that the Vicar, (who appears to have been the Rev. Samuel Cook, before mentioned,) had objected to the applicant's using the Church for the purpose of the lecture.

This application was renewed by Mr. Rowe, in 1802; Mr. William Barbor having died in 1800, and having been succeeded in the Rectory by his brother, George Barbor, Esq. The proceedings in the King's Bench, upon this second application, are detailed in the second volume of East's Reports, page 462. The Court refused to grant the mandamus, upon the ground, that as there was no immemorial custom in the Parish, to appoint the lecturer to the use of the Church, without the consent of the Vicar, but on the contrary, the commencement of the lectureship was shown to be in 1658, during the suspension of the episcopal constitution, and therefore it could not have been founded at that time, with the joint consent of the Bishop, Rector, and Vicar, the applicant could show no legal right to the lectureship; and that it would be to no effect to grant a mandamus to the Bishop to license such lecturer, when he had not obtained the Vicar's consent to his using the Church.

Subsequently to these proceedings, about the year 1803, the Rev. John Dene was appointed by the before-mentioned George Barbor, Esq. father of the present George Acland Barbor, Esq., to the lectureship, but upon condition that he should never read the lecture; and Mr. Dene has, since that time, received the stipend of 50*l.* per annum, from the late and present impropiator, without the performance of the duties of the office, as expressly desired by the founder. It is to be regretted, that his intentions for the benefit of the parish, are thus frustrated.

The before-mentioned annuity of 10*l.* given by Mr. Doddridge's will, appears to have been intended for the maintenance at the University, of scholars of a particular description. The Rev. John Dene, who now enjoys the stipend of the lecture, received this exhibition of 10*l.* per annum when at the University. The Rev. Edward Thompson May previously received the same, for one year, from the late William Barbor, Esq.

Bampfieid's Exhibition.

WILLIAM Bampfieid, of Arlington, in the county of Devon, clerk, by his will bearing date 14th August 1719, gave to his nephews, William Bampfieid and Edward Bampfieid, their heirs and assigns, all his messuages, lands, &c., in the parish of Goodleigh, in the county of Devon, upon trust, immediately after his decease, from time to time, and at all times, for ever, to employ and expend the clear rents and profits thereof in maintaining and educating a boy of his relation, called Bampfieid, at school, until such boy should be fit to be removed to one of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, so that such boy should not be kept at school beyond the age of nineteen years; and when such boy, at or before such age, should be fit for one of the said Universities, then to send him thither, and to admit him in one of the Colleges or Halls thereof, and there to maintain and keep him, out of the said rents and profits, for the space of seven years, from the time of such admittance, and no longer; and in regard that the education and maintenance of a boy at school might not in each year exhaust the whole rents and profits of the said premises, his will was, that the surplusage thereof, beyond what should be expended in the maintenance of such boy at school, should be employed towards the increase of his maintenance at the University; and he directed, that after such boy should have been maintained and educated at school, and at the University as aforesaid, for seven years, or should die, which of the two should first happen, his said two nephews, their heirs and assigns, should maintain and educate another boy, of his blood and name of Bampfieid, in like manner at school, and at one of the Universities, out of the said rents and profits, and under such restrictions as aforesaid, until such other boy should have continued in the University for the space of seven years, and no longer, or should die, and that so in like manner one of his name of Bampffield and blood should be maintained and educated at one of the Universities for such time as aforesaid, one after the other, for ever; and in case there should not be any boy of his name and blood that should be capable and fit for such education, his will was, that his said two nephews, their heirs and assigns, should take, maintain, and keep one other boy, such as they, or the survivors or survivor of them for the time being, should think most fit, at school, and at the University, in manner aforesaid, and under the same terms and restrictions as aforesaid, but that his own relations, called Bampffield, should always be preferred before any other; and he also gave to his said two nephews, their heirs and assigns, all his messuages, lands, &c., in Meadenford, in the parish of Barnstaple, in the said county of Devon, upon trust, immediately after his decease, to employ and expend the clear rents and profits thereof in assisting to maintain and educate Thomas Harris, son of Thomas Harris, butcher, of Barnstaple, at school, and at one of the Universities, and afterwards to add the rents and profits of Meadenford to those of Goodleigh, for the better maintenance of that boy (whoever he should be) that should then receive that benefaction, and so for ever; and he directed that his said two nephews, their heirs and assigns, and the survivors or survivor of them, after his decease, should yearly, for ever, give and deliver an account, under their hands, in writing, in the chancel of the parish church of Arlington aforesaid, unto the Rector of Eastdown, to the Rector of

Bratton Fleming, and to the Rector of Goodleigh, for ever; and that whosoever should receive benefit by his benefaction, and should have completed his course both at school and at the University, and should have taken his Master of Arts degree, should act as a Trustee with the rest, nominated as aforesaid, and after his death the second, and after him the third, and so on for ever, in hopes that they would promote so good and pious a design, from which they had already received such benefit; and he allowed 10s. every year to be deducted out of the premises to be expended in making up their accounts, for ever, of the rents and profits of the said lands in Goodleigh and Barnstaple, and how, to whom, and in what manner, particularly, they the said William Bampfield and Edward Bampfield, their heirs and assigns, and the survivors and survivor of them, should employ and expend the same; and he directed that each party or parties should sign such account or accounts; and for the safe keeping of the said accounts, his will was, that they should leave and lodge the same in the parish church of Arlington aforesaid, in the parish chest there, together with a true copy of his will, that the same might be resorted to upon all occasions, to the end that his gift might not be misused, misapplied, or lost; and he directed that, to complete his benefaction, his executors should lay out 300*l.* to purchase the perpetual donation of some benefice, to receive a scholar of his name, when his time of seven years should be expired in one of the Universities, and he had taken his Master of Arts degree, if it should then happen to fall, or whenever it should do so, or for want of one of his name and family, then one who should be elected to receive benefit by his benefaction.

The above-mentioned Edward Bampffield having died in the life-time of the said William Bampffield the testator, he, by a codicil to his will bearing date 5th January 1720, directed that the 300*l.* ordered to be laid out in purchasing the perpetual donation of a benefice, as above mentioned, should, until a proper purchase could be had, be put out at interest on good security, by his nephew and executor, William Bampffield; and that the produce and advantage that should be made thereof should, together with the said 300*l.*, be laid out in the purchase of such perpetual donation, when a proper purchase could be found; and he also directed that 20*s.* per annum, instead of 10*s.*, should be deducted out of the profits of the estates, and expended at the yearly meeting of the Trustees, if they should think fit; and he gave to his said nephew, William Bampffield, all the sums of money, lands, &c., which he had before given to his nephew, Edward Bampffield, deceased; and he gave to Elizabeth Bampffield, the widow of his nephew Edward, 50*l.*, to be paid within six months after his decease; and directed that after her death, the said sum should be paid by her executor or administrator to his executor or his heirs, and be added to the benefaction, for the education of a boy, as mentioned in his will, provided that the said Elizabeth Bampffield should die worth so much money; and he directed that the young timber trees then growing on his tenement at Meadenford should be preserved, and not cut down until they should be full grown and proper to be felled; and he also directed that, if at the time of his decease there should be no one of his name and family capable and willing to accept of the benefaction mentioned in his will, his cousin Gregory Tamlyn should have the benefit thereof, as soon as he was capable and qualified to be sent to a Latin school, except 4*l.* per annum, which he directed should be distributed among his poor relations, until one of his name and family should be capable and willing to receive it; and that until the said Gregory Tamlyn should be sent to a Latin school, the rents and profits of his estates in Goodleigh, except as aforesaid, should be preserved for the greater advantage of the said benefaction, and of the said Gregory Tamlyn, when he should be sent there; and he appointed his nephew, William Bampfield, his sole executor.

The testator died in 1720, and his nephew and executor, William Bampfield, in pursuance of the directions of the above abstracted will and codicil, purchased the advowson of the rectory of Bradford, in the county of Devon, for the benefit of the scholars who might be educated under this trust; that he continued to act as Trustee of this gift till about the year 1749, when he became incapable of business; and that Henry Carslake, who is stated in the proceedings in Chancery, hereinafter mentioned, to have married Elizabeth Bampfield, the daughter of the testator's nephew, William, then took upon himself the trust, and continued to act in it till 1757, from which time Henry Carslake, his son, acted as Trustee till 1760, when he died, leaving William Carslake, his brother and heir at law, who succeeded to the trust, and is now living in his ninety-first year.

The property given by this donor, for the purposes mentioned in his will, consists of:—

1. A farm-house and out-buildings, and about fifty-four acres of land, called Bampfield's Northleigh, and Westerknapp, in the parish of Goodleigh, in the occupation of John Yeo, under a lease from Mr. William Carslake, for fourteen years, bearing date 1st September 1813, from Lady-day 1814, at the yearly rent of 74*l.*, the tenant covenanting to keep the premises in repair, on being allowed rough timber. A memorandum is endorsed upon this lease, signed by the parties thereto, dated 9th March 1815, stating, that previously to the execution of the lease, it had been agreed, that in consideration of the reduction in the value of the produce of land, the rent should be reduced to 55*l.* 10*s.* from the Lady-day then next, subject to be again raised, if the prices of the produce of land should increase. In 1813 an auction was held for letting this farm, but no sufficient offer was made, and Mr. Courtenay Gidley, who acted as solicitor for Mr. William Carslake, afterwards came to an agreement for the above-mentioned lease with Mr. Yeo, who had held a prior lease of the premises for fourteen years, from 1800, at the yearly rent of 37*l.*, subject to deductions for repairs and taxes.

2. A small house or building, and 16*A.* 3*R.* 2*P.* of land, called Bampfild's Meadenford, and Bale's Tenement, in the parish of Barnstaple, in the occupation of William Parkin, (with the exception of a wood called Tarras Wood,) under a lease from Mr. William Carslake, granted by private agreement, bearing date 14th September 1820, for fourteen years from the Lady-day preceding, at the yearly rent of 30*l.*, the tenant covenanting to repair the gates and fences, on being allowed rough timber. In 1791 a lease of these premises was granted for fourteen years, at the yearly rent of 16*l.* 16*s.*, subject to deductions. In 1805 the rent was increased to 20*l.*, and in 1812 they were let to William Parkin, the present tenant, on a lease for seven years, at 40*l.* per annum; but in 1815 a memorandum was made on that lease, as in the case of the Goodleigh property, of the rent being reduced from 40*l.* to 30*l.*

The Commissioners for inquiring into Charities, observe :—

“ We are informed that farther allowances have been made to the tenants out of their rents, beyond the above-mentioned reductions, but we have not been able to ascertain the precise amount of such allowances.

“ We are not enabled to state, whether the sum of 50*l.*, given by the donor to Elizabeth Bampfied, the widow of his nephew Edward, for her life, was ever repaid by her representatives, to be added to this benefaction.

“ Mr. William Carslake, who has acted as Trustee of this gift from 1760 to the present time, did not, although summoned for the purpose of being examined respecting his management thereof, appear before us; but Mr. Courtenay Gidley, his solicitor, attended on his behalf, and stated, that in his opinion, although in point of health Mr. Carslake was able to have appeared in person, his faculties were impaired by his great age, and that he was not in a fit state to undergo an examination.

“ Mr. Gidley, on behalf of his client, protested against our inquiry into this case, on the following grounds :—1st. That the trusts of the donor's will were not created for any charitable purpose. 2dly. That if they are trusts for a charitable purpose, they cannot operate as such until all persons of the testator's name and blood are extinct; and, 3dly. That supposing this gift to be a charity, it is exempted from our investigation, as having special visitors appointed by the founder.

“ The first object of the donor undoubtedly was the education of boys in succession of his name and blood, but in case of there being, from time to time, no boy so qualified, capable and fit to receive this benefit, he directed the rents and profits of the estates given by him to be applied for the education of such other boy as his Trustees should think fit. We apprehend, therefore, that his donation must be considered a charity for education, with a preference given to the donor's relations bearing the name of Bampfield; and it appears to us, that the donor's directions, that yearly accounts should be rendered to the rectors of the parishes mentioned in his will, did not invest those incumbents with such a visitatorial power as is sufficient to exclude the case from our investigation.

“ We are informed, that previously to the time of Mr. William Carslake's taking upon himself this trust, several persons of the donor's name and family were successively educated out of the rents and profits of the estates given by him for that purpose, but we have seen no accounts relating to this gift prior to 1760, nor can we learn that any accounts have ever been delivered to the rectors of the three parishes mentioned in the donor's will, or deposited in Arlington church, according to his directions.

“ About the year 1783, Mr. William Carslake appointed John Bampfield, one of the name and blood of the donor, to be educated under the trust, who was sent to school, and afterwards to the University of Oxford, and continued to receive payments out of the rents and profits of the trust estates till 1802, when he was presented to the before-mentioned rectory of Bradford, of which he is now the incumbent.

“ In 1801, Henry Joseph Carslake, the nephew of Mr. William Carslake, (there being then no person of the donor's name and blood capable of enjoying the benefit of this gift,) was, with the consent of Mr. William Carslake, placed by his father, Bampffield Carslake, at school, to be educated under this trust, and a considerable expense was incurred in such education by his father, under the expectation of being reimbursed by Mr. William Carslake, which the latter refused to do; in consequence of which a bill was filed against him in the Court of Chancery, by the said Bampffield Carslake and his son, Henry Joseph, (then an infant,) and in 1805, after the defendant had put in his answer, the matters in difference were referred to a barrister, who, in August 1806, awarded that the defendant should pay to the plaintiff, Bampffield Carslake, 180*l.*, as being at least the sum which the arbitrator found that the former ought to have appropriated out of the trust estate to the education of the said infant plaintiff, from 1801 to the time of the reference, and that the defendant should, during the time which, conformably to the trusts of the before-mentioned will, should be required for perfecting his education, keep the said infant at school, and afterwards send him to the University, and in all respects fulfil the duties of the trust; and the arbitrator also directed that the defendant should pay the costs of the suit in Chancery. The sum awarded by the arbitrator was paid by the defendant, the account thereof, including the rents of the trust estate to Lady-day 1806, being settled in January 1807. Farther advances were made by Mr. William Carslake for Henry Joseph Carslake's education at school, till about 1810, when the intention of sending him to the University was abandoned, and he was apprenticed to a surgeon.

“ In 1811, John Carslake Duncan Yule, being of the age of nine years, the son of Captain John Yule, whose wife is the sister of the said Henry Joseph Carslake, and niece of the said William Carslake, was appointed by the latter to be educated under this trust, and placed at school. Mr. William Carslake discharged the expenses of his first year's education, but refused to pay the schoolmaster's bill for the second year; in consequence of which an action was commenced against him, and in 1813 he wrote a letter to Captain Yule, stating that he claimed the estates left by the Rev. William Bampfield as his own property. This claim, however, was immediately afterwards abandoned, and Mr. William Carslake continued to pay the school expenses of Captain Yule's son till 1821, since which time he has paid some expenses incurred in the farther prosecution of the education of this young man, and he has also, with the exception of the first three or four years after the commencement of his education under the trust, provided clothing for him. At the time of our investigation, (August 1823,) Mr. John Carslake Duncan Yule had been entered at the University of Cambridge, and we were informed that Mr. Carslake had undertaken to provide him with funds sufficient to enable him to reside there in the October following.

“ The only accounts that we have seen, relating to the receipts and expenditure on account of this trust, are contained in two books produced to us by Captain Yule, which he states that he received from Mr. William Carslake some years since, for the purpose of showing what sums had been expended in the education and maintenance of the Rev. John Bampfield, and which books were afterwards the subject of an action of trover, brought against Captain Yule by Mr. William Carslake, in which the latter recovered 20*l.* damages.

“ From these accounts, which do not appear to have been regularly kept, or to have undergone any examination or audit, and of the accuracy of which we can form no opinion, it is to be collected, that the clear rents of the trust estates received by Mr. William Carslake, from 1760 to 1803, amounted to 986*l.* 10*s.* 8½*d.*, and that the sums expended by him for the benefit of the Rev. John Bampffield, from 1783 to 1802, amounted to 1,075*l.* 15*s.* 3*d.*, thus exceeding the receipts, during the first-mentioned period, by 89*l.* 4*s.* 6½*d.*; but a considerable part of this expenditure appears to have been incurred after this gentleman had been seven years at the University, at which time, under the provisions of the donor's will, his claim to any benefit from the trust fund ceased.

“ We have not been furnished with any statement of the sums expended on Mr. Henry Joseph Carslake's education, but the accounts between him and the Trustee may perhaps be considered as having been settled under the award, to 1806, and farther sums were expended on his account till 1810.

“ It was at least to be expected, that an account might be produced to us of the sums expended for the education and maintenance of Mr. John Carslake Duncan Yule, from 1811 to the present time; but Mr. Gidley informs us, that, although Mr. Carslake has furnished him with some papers and vouchers showing the application of parts of the rents of the trust estate, these documents are not sufficient to enable him to make out a regular account.

“ The donor, by his codicil, directed that the timber on his tenement at Meadenford should not be cut down till it arrived at maturity, but no specific provision was thereby made for the application of the produce of the timber, when in a fit state to be felled. About the year 1805, timber was cut on the trust estates, and sold by

Mr. William Carslake, producing, after the payment of the expenses of the sale, 177*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.* We are informed that this sum was invested in the funds; that the stock thus purchased was afterwards sold; and that, in 1810, the sum of 150*l.* was applied by Mr. William Carslake, in payment of a premium on the before-mentioned Henry Joseph Carslake's being placed as an apprentice with a surgeon. This application of part of the produce of the timber, does not appear to us to have been in conformity with the intentions of the donor, being for the benefit of a person who had been originally intended to receive the full advantage of education at school, and at the University, under this gift, but who had relinquished his claim to the completion of that course of education. No account has been given to us of the application of the residue of the money produced by the sale of timber.

“ In detailing the circumstances relating to the management of this trust, we have been unavoidably led to allude to the differences which have occurred between the present Trustee and his relatives.

“ We are informed by Mr. Gidley, that Mr. William Carslake is willing to convey the trust premises, the legal estate of which is vested in him as the heir of William Bampffield, the donor's nephew, to some person of the donor's family, upon the above-mentioned trusts. No power was given by the donor to his nephew or his heirs to appoint other Trustees; and it appears to have been his intention, that the persons who should receive the benefit of education at school and the University, under this gift, should successively act as Trustees thereof, but we cannot learn that any of these persons have interfered in the management of the trust. We apprehend, that if any appointment of Trustees shall take place, it ought in strictness to be made under the directions of the Court of Chancery.

“ It will be seen, from what has been stated, there has been much irregularity in the manner in which this trust has been conducted, and particularly, that the mode pointed out by the donor, for making annual accounts and depositing them in Arlington Church, in order to prevent a misapplication of his gift, has been wholly disregarded. Whether the trust estates may have been at all times let to the best advantage, and whether the sums paid by Mr. William Carslake, for the benefit of several persons who have received education under this donation, may or may not have been equal to the whole of the clear rents and profits received by him, are points upon which the deficiency of our information, arising from the causes before assigned, does not enable us to form a correct opinion.”

Wilkes's Exhibition.

BELOVED Wilkes, of the parish of Wick and Abson, by his will dated 15th September, 1722, after expressing his desire that his servant, Ann Cope, should enjoy all that part of his dwelling-house, which he had excepted in a lease then lately granted by him, and reserved to his own use, as long as she lived and remained unmarried, gave to his brother, Francis Wilkes, after the decease of the said Ann Cope, the said part of his dwelling-house for his life, and all the rest and residue of his said dwelling-house, with the out-houses, gardens, orchards, and appurtenances, and also those several closes of meadow and pasture to the same messuage belonging, viz. the Home Close, the Island, David's Mead, the Sheep Leaze, Moleberry, and Alloms, to hold to him the said Francis Wilkes, and the heirs of his body, for ever, subject as therein mentioned; and if his said brother Francis should die, and leave no issue of his body, then he gave the same premises unto Aaron Strange therein mentioned, and to the Ministers of Pucklechurch and Deynton, in the county of Gloucester, for the time being, for and during the life of the said Aaron Strange, and after his decease to the Ministers of Pucklechurch, Deynton, and Dirham afore-said, and their successors for ever, upon trust, to employ 15s. a year, for a dinner at his dwelling-house for themselves and the said Ann Cope, and the widows hereinafter mentioned, and also the tenant of his said estate, and his wife, once in every year, as his said trustees should think most convenient for their meeting, and taking care that his will should be duly performed; and he directed, that from and after the death of his brother Francis, and the said Ann Cope, his trustees should elect two poor widows of some Ministers of the Church of England, and place them in that part of his said dwelling-house, which he had appointed for the said Ann Cope to live in, and should pay to such poor widows, out of the rents of the said estate, the clear yearly sum of 10*l.* a piece, so long as they should live, and should allow to such widows half a load of coal a piece yearly, and such wood for their firing as might be conveniently cut upon the said estate, without doing any damage or spoil; and that as often as either of the said widows, that should be placed in the said dwelling-house should die, his trustees should elect another widow in her room, and so keep up the said number of two such widows for ever ; and that in case such widows could not agree to live together in the said dwelling-house, then either of them might live elsewhere, paying her own house-rent, and furnishing herself with wood and coal at her own expense.

And the said testator directed that his trustees should, as soon as the yearly overplus and remainder of the rents and profits of his said estate should amount to a sum sufficient for that purpose, purchase to them and their successors, the Ministers of Pucklechurch, Deynton, and Dirham aforesaid, lands of the said yearly value of 20l., lying as near his estate before mentioned, as could conveniently be gotten ; and that the rents and profits of such lands, when purchased, together with the yearly overplus of the rents of his said land, should be employed by his said trustees in the following manner, viz., that they should pay 10s. a year for ever to the minister of Deynton aforesaid, for the time being, or to some other able man, whom he should appoint, for a Sermon to be preached every year, in the church of Deynton, on Easter-Monday, and should employ the residue thereof, for ever, for the maintenance, education, schooling, and qualifying for putting to and keeping at Oxford of a lad, in order to make him a minister of the Church of England, which said lad, he directed his said trustees should choose out of the parishes of Wick and Abson, Pucklechurch, Deynton, and Dirham, and of such parents who were not of ability to give him such maintenance and education ; and that they should not choose one of their own sons ; and that when, and as soon as such person should have taken the degree of a Bachelor of Arts, or before, if the income thereby appointed for the purpose would admit, his said trustees should elect another lad as aforesaid, and maintain, and educate, and keep him at Oxford, in the same manner, and so in like manner for ever.

And the said testator appointed his brother, Francis Wilkes, to be executor of his said will.

Francis Wilkes, the first devisee in the above-mentioned will, died without issue, and the estate so left by the said testator, became vested in his trustees, agreeably to his disposition thereof, and has ever since been under the control and management of the three Ministers of the parishes of Pucklechurch, Deynton, and Dirham aforesaid.

In the account-book kept by the trustees of this charity, there is a memorandum to the following effect, viz., “That on Saturday, 21st September 1745, the Rev. Mr. Henry Gandy, Minister of Pucklechurch, and the Rev. Mr. Thomas Coker, Minister of Deynton, and Aaron Strange, Schoolmaster, the three then trustees of Mr. Wilkes’s charity, met together at the late dwelling-house of the said Mr. Wilkes, in the said parish of Wick and Abson, and began to act in the said charity, pursuant to the trusts in them reposed, and had a dinner for themselves, and for the tenant Thomas Strange, and his wife, and Ann Cope.”

The trustees have not applied any part of the proceeds of this estate to the purchase of other lands, to be annexed to the original donation, but the lands so devised by the said will appear to be still in the possession of such trustees; and in the year 1750, a plan of the different closes was made, according to a regular survey and measurement thereof, whereby it appears that the quantity then was 30A. 1R. 19P., independently of the house, the garden, and the upper and lower barton. By a recent survey, made in 1813, which includes the house, and the premises immediately around it, the property is made to amount to 31A. 1R. 13P. The parcels, according to the old survey, are

|                              | A. | R. | P. |
|------------------------------|----|----|----|
| The Home Close .....         | 6  | 3  | 25 |
| David's Mead .....           | 2  | 2  | 27 |
| Ship Leaze .....             | 4  | 3  | 3  |
| Mill Leaze and Yelloms ..... | 9  | 2  | 4  |
| Moleberry .....              | 6  | 2  | 0  |

It may be proper to notice, as to the locality of the premises, the whole of which are stated, in the old survey, to be in the parish of Wick and Abson, that a more accurate inquiry has ascertained, that certain parts of what are called Yalloms and Moleberry, are situate in the parish of Deynton.

The estate so left by Mr. Wilkes, has been always let to one tenant, and usually upon leases for seven years, and the same has always been kept in a state of pasturage, agreeably to the injunctions of the will.

The earliest rent was 45*l.*, which was continued till about the year 1778, when it was raised to 50*l.* In 1814 it was again raised to 80*l.*, at which amount it remained till Lady-day 1816, when it was necessarily reduced to 70*l.* per annum, which has been the rent ever since.

All the above funds remain in the names of the Rev. George Swayne, as the Minister of Pucklechurch and Dirham, and the Rev. Peter Gunning, as the Minister of Deynton.

Soon after the commencement of this charity, a surplus of the rents and profits, beyond what the objects required, accrued, but that surplus was not laid out in the purchase of land, on account of the expense and difficulty of transmitting it to the successive incumbents of the livings, such surplus has therefore been accumulating, and from time to time invested in the funds. It appears also to have been *considered by the trustees, that they would not have been warranted to carry into effect, that part of the will which provides for the maintenance of a young man at College, until a purchase could be made of land, as the will directed. These circumstances have increased the amount of the stock, at the last audit, January 1826, to the sum of 5,605*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.* three per cent. consols, leaving a balance of 440*l.* in the hands of the trustees ; since which time, an additional sum of 400*l.* has been purchased in the same stock, making the total amount of stock, arising from accumulation of surplus, 6,005*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.

Two widows of clergymen, properly selected, have always received the 10*l.* each under Mr. Wilkes's will, but only one widow was ever disposed to live in the house, so as to entitle herself to the benefit of firing and wood ; that part of the charity has, therefore, not been made available. The same two widows have also received the benefactions coming to them under the wills of the Rev. Peter Grand and Thomas Coker, being generally about 8*l.* 18*s.* 5*d.* each.

The trustees have applied to the Court of Chancery for directions how to dispose of this large surplus.

Christ's Hospital, Winchester.

PETER Symonds by will, bearing date 24th April 1586, gave his manor and lordship, called Ingleby, in the parish of Chadwell, in the county of Essex, and all his lands in West-Ham, in Essex, called Trinity Marsh, with the rents, profits, and commodities thereunto belonging, after the death of his wife, to Mr. Bilson, Warden of the New College, in Winchester, the testator's brother, William Symonds, and four others, and their heirs as feoffees, in trust, that they should obtain a license from the Queen, for an Hospital to be erected in Winchester, and an Act of Parliament for the confirmation of the same. And he directed, that in his Hospital, which should be called Christ's Hospital, or by any other name which should seem good to his feoffees, there should be maintained continually, for ever, six poor old and unmarried men, and four poor young children; and he further directed, that besides his Hospital, there should be found out of his said lands, every year for ever, two poor scholars, the one in Oxford, the other in Cambridge, that should study to preach God's word; all which his lands, being three-score pounds by the year, he hoped would perform. And the testator further directed, for the government and order of the said Hospital, that there should be chosen, and should always be, one worshipful person, called the conservator, and six others of the best and chiefest in the city of Winchester, that should be governors, and so should be called, which seven persons should remain in that government during their lives, if they should deal painfully, carefully, and justly in that charge; but if by experience these persons should think it convenient to alter the governors once in four or five years, he referred the same to their discretion. And he directed, that the conservator, from time to time, should be Warden of the New College of Winchester, and that of the six governors, two should be of those citizens who should have borne the office of Mayor of that city, and the other four, of the most substantial and honest citizens that should not have borne that office. And he directed, that 117. should be paid out of his lands, yearly, for ever, to the Mayors of the two Universities of Oxford and Cambridge; that is to say, 5*l.* 10*s.* every year to each University, to find in each of the same Universities one poor scholar studying divinity, who should be elected by persons from each College, (for which elections particular directions were given in the will); and that the odd ten shillings per annum, should be reserved by the Mayor of each University, for a dinner at such election.

The will extends to great length, and contains various other minor regulations for the management of the Hospital by the conservator and governors.

Amongst the regulations for the management of this trust, it was ordered, that the treasurer should pay annually, out of the rents of the Hospital, for the maintenance of two poor scholars in the two Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, 5*l.* to each, to be paid quarterly; that the scholars receiving the exhibition should be students in divinity, the one residing at Oxford, the other at Cambridge, and should be chosen by the Mayor, Recorder, Bailiffs, and Commonalty, out of such candidates as should be recommended to them by the conservator for the time being; that the said scholars should be respectively entitled to, and be paid the said exhibition for four years, and no longer, from the time of nomination thereto; and that in case any such scholar should, before the end of such four years, be admitted into Deacon's orders, the said exhibition should be no longer payable to such scholar.

The annual payments to two scholars of Oxford and Cambridge, who are elected, and continue to hold their exhibitions in conformity with the statutes of 1793, were, in 1804, raised from 5*l.* to 10*l.* each.

Cooke's Exhibitions.

JOSEPH Cooke, of Spaxton, in the county of Somerset, Clerk, by his will dated 19th July 1708, gave unto Nathaniel Palmer, and others therein named, all his lands of inheritance, and all and singular his messuages, and several pieces of land, which he held and enjoyed, either in his own possession, or in the possession of any other person or persons to his use; to hold to them and their successors, to be chosen according to his said will, for 1,000 years, at a pepper-corn rent, in trust, among other things, that his said trustees should elect two hopeful young scholars, born and inhabiting within the Deanery of Bridgewater, such as were fitted for the University, and to pay to each of them an annuity of 5*l.* a year, for the term of seven years after their election, provided they constantly resided in the University of Oxford, and diligently applied themselves to the study of good learning in some College or Hall in the said University, they bringing every year a certificate from the governors of the said College or Hall of their civility and study; and he directed the said feoffees, in the election, to make choice of the sons of poor Ministers, in the said Deanery, before others, if they should be equally qualified; and upon the expiration of the said term of seven years, or at the death, non-residence, non-proficiency, or ill behaviour of the said two scholars, or either of them, the trustees were to choose others, qualified as before, to receive the said annuity, and so toties quoties.

There are usually two exhibitioners at Oxford, appointed by the trustees, receiving the benefit of this charity.

Huish's Exhibitions.

RICHARD Huish by his will, bearing date 30th January 1615, declared that it was his intention to employ and dispose of his property for relief of such as were comfortless; and had, in their lives and vocations, served and feared God; and that he then proposed to employ the best part of his substance in erecting some Hospital for the succour and relieving of thirteen poor and aged men, &c. &c.; which said Hospital, his will was, should be built, and which he had almost finished, within the said town and borough of Taunton in the Lane, there called Maudlyn Lane, nigh unto the church of St. Mary Magdalen, as he had then built, divided, and set forth the same. And his will was, that there should be appointed such of his name as should be heir male of the house of Huish, then of Dymford, in the county of Somerset; and that of Sand, in the parish of Sydbury, in the county of Devon, so as, at the time of such election or appointment, they, and every of the said electors, should be of the full age of thirty years, or in default thereof, by twelve of the ancientest gentlemen governors of the said Hospital, all to be of the like age of thirty years at the least; and that the governors and poor people of the said Hospital, should be founded and incorporated by the name of “The Governors and Poor People of the Hospital of Richard Huish, Esq. in Taunton,” which said Hospital should have assured or paid to it for ever, one annuity or annual rent of 103*l.* to be issuing out of all his houses, lands, and tenements within Blackfriars, London, to the use of the same Hospital.

And he further willed that his devisees, and all others coming in under them, should pay yearly, out of the same houses and lands in the Blackfriars aforesaid, for ever, 100*l.* by the year, towards the maintenance of five of his name of Huish, being nearest in blood; and in default of such of his name, and nearest in blood, then of those that were of his name or kindred; and in default of such of his name and kindred, then of those that should be of his kindred, to be scholars at one or both of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, viz. to each 20*l.* by the year, there to be students in the arts, and other learning, and to proceed masters of the arts, to enable them to the study of divinity, which was the only purpose for which he gave that allowance; and if they or either of them should not profess the same study of divinity, within two years after that they, or either of them, should have so severally proceeded masters of the arts, and continue the same study, then they or he so neglecting that study of divinity, should presently lose that his benevolence or gift of 20*l.* by the year, and another of his name and kindred, as was before expressed, should enjoy the same, as he did with the said scholars of his name or kindred, to be sent to the said Universities as aforesaid; and his mind and will was, that they for ever should be such as should be known, or made known, to the most of the governors of the aforesaid Hospital, and nine of the most ancient gentlemen, for the time being, of devisees, to be of his name and kindred, as was aforesaid, and always should be chosen and sent to the said Universities, by them, or the most part of them, as was before to them limited and prescribed, provided; and his will was, that after those of his name and kindred should be so made known to the said governors and devisees, they should, without further examination, trial, or exception, by them or any other, be sent to the said Universities, to be scholars there, so as they before had learned their grammar, for that his care and meaning was specially for the help and preferment of them as he in nature was bound, the said payment to be made quarterly, or half-yearly at the least, with power of distress; and in default of such his name or kindred, then any other as should be thought worthy in their places, of such as had been born in the counties of Somerset and Devon, by the appointment of most part of his said governors, and nine of the most ancient gentlemen of his devisees as aforesaid, and by them also, all or any of the scholars or students aforesaid, to be removed and put from his said allowance, and appointed and settled upon others, as before was to them limited and appointed, and as they should severally come to be Bachelors in Divinity, or Fellows of houses, so as the benefit of the said house should be treble of his said allowance to him so preferred, or be married or promoted to a benefice to him, and then his allowance to cease, and to be disposed and settled upon other like scholars, in like manner, from time to time for ever, to be sent as aforesaid, and that all controversies thereof, as also of all other parts of that his will should be decided, and his true meaning therein guided and settled in his due course by his said governors, or the most part of them, with the advice of the Bishop of Bath and Wells, for the time being, for ever, if the said governors could not agree, and in their, or either of their default, he hoped and desired, that the Court of Chancery, for the time being, would do the same, and so for all the rest of his good intentions therein expressed.

In regard to the qualifications to entitle persons to the exhibitions, the trustees have exercised their best judgment in carrying the testator's intention into effect. When any person has offered himself as a candidate for an exhibition, he has been examined as to his qualifications at the general meetings. If he has claimed as founder's kin, the trustees have considered him as entitled to a preference, but have required him to substantiate his pedigree; and they expect that every other candidate should prove himself to be a native of the proper county by the register of his baptism. They appear, however, to have felt some embarrassment with respect to the question, whether these exhibitioners, who have ceased to reside, and prosecute their studies in divinity at one of the Universities, though they may continue their names on the books of the College, are entitled to receive the annuity under the will, and whether those persons, who, after the expiration of two years, do not continue to study divinity, but enter upon some other profession, do not thereby forfeit the said annuity. The general opinion of the trustees, however, is, that when the students have ceased to reside, or prosecute their study in divinity at one of the Universities, they are no longer entitled to the exhibitions, and that they must proceed in divinity only, which appears to be the opinion most agreeable to the spirit of the will.

Smith's Fellowship.

HENRY Smith, citizen and Alderman of London, from whose numerous charities the public derive so great a benefit, directed his trustees, in 1620, to lay out 150*l.* for the buying of a fellowship at Cambridge, in some College there, to be enjoyed by such of his kindred as should be capable of the place of fellowship, from time to time. It does not appear, however, that the trustees ever fulfilled the directions of Mr. Smith in this particular.

Marshall's Exhibitions.

JOHN Marshall by will, dated the 21st August 1627, gave and devised to Samuel Browne, counsellor at law, and others, their heirs and assigns, for ever, certain estates, in trust, among other things, to pay under the several rents, distresses, penalties, and trusts after mentioned, all that his moiety and half part of the Yard, commonly called the Axe-Yard, and all his messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments whatsoever, with the appurtenances in Lamb Alley, and in Black Spread Eagle Alley, and in the Catherine Wheel Alley, and all other his messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, with the appurtenances situate in the parish of Newington, in the county of Surry, and all those three acres of land, lying together in one place, in St. George's Fields, and the half acre in the same fields, with the appurtenances, in the parish of St. George, in the county of Surry, in which three acres and a half, his mother had an estate, for the term of her life; and all his messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, with the appurtenances, in the parish of Sutton, in the county of Surry; and all his messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, with the appurtenances, in Grantham, in the county of Lincoln, to the use, intent, and purpose, that out of the rents and profits of three of his tenements in Newington, in the said will more particularly described, his said trustees should, after the death of two annuitants for life, therein mentioned, lay out and bestow yearly the sum of 12*l.* towards the maintenance of a poor scholar in either of the Universities, in manner following, viz. his meaning was, that the poor scholar should be chosen, from time to time, by his said trustees, their heirs and assigns, from among such as were, or should be, born in the borough of Southwark, or in the town of Stamford, in the county of Lincoln, and taught in the school kept or to be kept in the parish of St. Saviour, or any other school, at their discretions; and that they should pay unto such poor scholar, so from time to time to be chosen by them, 12*l.* a year, for the space of seven years, for his maintenance; and if he then should take up his degree of Master of Arts, they should continue to him the further payment thereof for one year more, to the end that he might, at that time, provide for himself some place for the employing his talent and ability abroad, for the glory of God and benefit of his Church; provided always, that such poor scholar should continue for the most part of all the time, until he should be Master of Arts in the University, and give not over his studies there; and from and after the expiration of the said eight years, or other ceasing of the said 12*l.* a year, to such poor scholar, his will was, that his said trustees should pay the same yearly to one other poor scholar, to be by them speedily afterwards chosen, in such manner as the former, and for so many years, and upon the like conditions as the former; and that the said yearly payments should be continued by them, their heirs, and assigns, for ever.

Cartwright's Exhibition.

THOMAS Cartwright, alias Vicars, by will dated 20th June 1597, reciting that he had made a testament by deed indented, bearing date the 2d August, 29th Elizabeth, unto Leonard Wraye, and four others, of his manor of Scawsby, and a capital messuage in Marr, and all other his messuages, lands, and hereditaments, in Scawsby and Marr, Arksey, Bentley, and Brodsworth, to hold to them and their heirs, to the uses, in a schedule to the said deed annexed, mentioned, or declared, and that the said schedule declared that the said feoffees and their heirs should stand seised of the premises, to the use of him the said Thomas Cartwright, alias Vicars, for life, with the remainder to the use of such persons to whom the same should by him, by deed or will, be appointed; and further reciting, that he had since sealed and delivered one pair of indentures, dated the 18th of May, 39th Elizabeth, to limit and declare to whom the said premises should descend, go, and enure, and to what uses the said feoffees, their heirs, &c. should be seised thereof after his death, for final conclusion and determination of his meaning, and more plain declaration of the intent of the said feoffment, schedule, and indentures, he by his said will appointed and bequeathed all his said manor, lands, and hereditaments, in such manner and to such persons to whom the same were granted, given, or appointed successively, and with and under the same conditions and limitations as in the said recited indentures had been declared; and he thereby declared, that the said feoffees, their heirs, &c. should stand seised of the premises, to the same purposes as in the said recited indenture declared; and his will was, that the sum of 15s. bequeathed and appointed by the will of Thomas Cartwright, alias Vicars, his father, to be given and distributed to the poor of the parish of Brodsworth yearly, be paid and given yearly, according to the intent and meaning of his last will; and for the accomplishment thereof, he further declared and appointed that the said yearly sum of 15s. be paid at the times limited by the will of his said father, out of his said lands and hereditaments, and the profits thereof, for ever, to the said poor: Item, his will was, that as well his executors and the heirs-male of his brother Robert, and every other person to whom the premises were entailed by the said indentures, should yearly distribute and pay out of the sum of 30*l.*: 10*l.* to one of his blood or kin, towards his education and maintenance in learning in the Universities of Cambridge or Oxford, the poorest to be preferred before the rich, by the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of St. Peter, of York, and by them to be changed at every ten years' end successively for ever.

Ackroyd's Exhibition.

WILLIAM Ackroyd by his will, bearing date 12th September 1518, willed and devised that Henry Ackroyd and Edmund, his brother, with Henry Draper, and other feoffees, who then occupied the lands and tenements of him, the said William Ackroyd, should keep one scholar at the University of Oxford or Cambridge, until the end of the world, and that such scholar should be near unto him, the said William Ackroyd, in blood, and of his name; and if there should not be one of his name able or fit, the said Henry Ackroyd and Edmund, his brother, and Henry Draper, should choose one able and fit, near to him in blood, and of another name; and when that scholar should be there beneficed to the value of 10 marks per annum, the feoffees should keep another there out of their expenses, to the value of six marks and one noble by the year, and not above; and if there should be none capable of his blood, the feoffees should choose one out of Marston or Hutton who was able, so that there should be always one.

By an inquisition and decree of commissioners of charitable uses, bearing date the 22d May 1699, after reciting the will, and that it had been found by the jurors that one Richard Nettleton, and others therein named, had acted as trustees of the lands given to the charitable use, lying in Batley, being of the value of 13*l.* 10*s.* per annum, without any authority, and had nominated a scholar in Cambridge to receive the rents and profits of the said lands in Batley, who was not of the blood of donor, nor belonging to Marston or Hutton; it was decreed, that Thomas Crofts, and three other persons therein named, with the Rector of Long Marston, for the time being, should be trustees for the said charitable use, and that they, or the greater number of them, should from time to time demise the said lands and tenements to the best advantage of the scholar, so to be sent to either of the Universities, and should from thenceforth nominate such scholar, pursuant to the will, and receive the rents and profits of the premises, and pay the same according to the true intent and meaning thereof; and upon every departure or removal of such scholar, should elect another, so as always to keep a scholar at the University; and that when any of the trustees should die, the survivors, or a majority of them, should elect others in their place, so that the same number of trustees, and no more, might continue for ever.

The present trustees of the charity are, Thomas Perrott, Esq. of Sandford Park, Oxfordshire, the Rev. Joseph Smyth, Vicar of Kirby Moorside, the Rev. Waite Robinson, Rector of Badenham, in Herefordshire, and James Croft, Rector of Saltwood, in the county of Kent, and Alexander Crigan, D.D. the present Rector of Long Marston.

From a manuscript account of the charity, of a very early date, in the possession of one of the trustees, it has been supposed that the property comprised in the bequest or devise of the said William Ackroyd, consisted of lands, lying part in the parish of Batley, and part in that of Buerley, in the West Riding of this county; but the only property now held by the trustees, or that can be traced into their possession from the time of the inquiry in 1699, and even before that period, is the estate of Batley therein mentioned, which is situate near Leeds, and consists of four ancient houses, a barn, and sundry inclosures, containing all together 32A. 1R. 18P., in the occupation of several different tenants from year to year, at the annual rent of 108*l.* 13*s.* being the full value.

The estate is under the management of an agent, who receives and applies the rent, subject to necessary outgoings, to the use of a student at one of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, who continues to enjoy the same as an exhibition, for the term of three years and a half, when another is appointed to receive the benefit of it. The objects of the charity are selected by the trustees from the founder's kin, and their places are supplied as vacancies arise ; but from the distance at which several of the trustees reside from each other, some inconvenience is experienced in the execution of the trust.

An account of receipts and disbursements is kept by the agent, Mr. John Moisier, of Huntington, near York, and the account is examined and audited by the trustees from time to time. -
